READING OF THE JOURNAL.

During the reading of the Journal, on motion of Mr. Morgenstern, its further reading was dispensed with.

PETITIONS.

The following petitions were received and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mr. Smith:

To the Assembly of the State of California:

The undersigned hereby earnestly petition your honorable body that you refuse to pass Assembly Bill No. 1620, introduced by Hon. Daniel Ferguson, to amend the Penal Code, Section 172, relating to the sale or gift of vinous or alcoholic liquors within or contiguous to certain state buildings and grounds, and to the State University.

The above was indorsed by a vote by a meeting of the Epworth League of St Andrew's M. E. church in the city of Oakland, State of California, on the second day of March, A'D., 1913, and the undersigned was authorized to so attest.

VIRTUE E. REES, presiding (and others).

By Mr. Cary:

WHEREAS, It is proposed to amend the eight-hour labor law so as to include female employees in perishable fruits, we, the undersigned, desire to present the following facts for your consideration:

We are paid by the piece for all packing-house, cannery and fruit-shed work. We are not compelled to work any stated number of hours. The season for handling fruit is short and unless we are allowed to work more than eight hours we cannot afford to leave our homes to handle fruit. To curtail our time means loss to us. We are satisfied with the conditions as they now exist in packing-houses, canneries and fruit-sheds and we hereby petition our honorable law-making bodies to exempt the fruit business from the proposed amendment to the eight-hour labor law.

MRS. NELLIE PHILLIPS (and others).

Also:

WHEREAS, It has been proposed to amend the eight-hour labor law so as to include in its scope female workers in perishable fruits; and

WHEREAS, The enactment of such an amendment will cause great loss to the fruit-grower on account of his inability to have crop taken care of when in proper state. The fruit season being short and the supply of help limited it will be impossible to take care of, dry or prepare for shipping our perishable crops in the eight-hour day.

We, the undersigned, fruitgrowers, therefore earnestly petition and urge that the handlers of perishable fruits be exempted from the workings of this law, and the amendment be not passed.

WALTER BENNETT (and others).

By Mr. Mouser:

WHEREAS, Michigan, Rhode Island, Wisconsin, Maine, and Kansas have abandoned capital punishment fifteen years ago; and

WHEREAS, Crimes of violence are less frequent in those than other states; therefore, be it

Resolved, As the sense of this meeting that the interests of society can be served best by the abolition of capital punishment in California; be it further

Resolved, That our Senators and Assemblymen be urged to vote for Senate Bills Nos. 9, 129, 130 and 131, which provide for the abolition of capital punishment, and Senate Bill No. 35, for intermediate sentence.

The above resolutions were approved by the following Los Angeles societies: The Church Federation, The Los Angeles Fellowship, Institution Reform League, Anti-Capital Punishment League, Prison Reform League, and Browning Club, Pasadena.

V. O. HILEMAN.

Also:

WHEREAS, The board of supervisors of Placer County, recognizing the necessity of co-operation in presenting to the world at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco, in 1915, an exhibit that will be an honor to our State and county; and

WHEREAS, The representatives of the counties of this State, in meeting assembled, have declared in favor of a state appropriation for the construction and maintenance of a California state building at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition wherein each and every county of California may have space for an exhibit and headquarters; and

WHEREAS, The funds of Placer County, which may be lawfully raised for exposition purposes, will not be sufficient to enable this county to join with the other counties of the State in paying the cost of erection of a suitable state building at such exposition; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the board of supervisors of Placer County in regular meeting assembled this seventh day of January, 1913, believing it would be impossible to take from the funds levied by this county and other counties of the State for exposition purposes sufficient money to erect an adequate state building where California and the counties thereof may act as the host of the world; therefore, we strongly urge and favor an appropriation by the State of California, out of the funds of the state treasury, in the sum of one million dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, for the construction and maintenance of a California building at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition; and be it further

Resolved, That we call upon our representatives in the State Legislature to give their strong and hearty support to the bill which will be introduced at the next Legislature looking to the appropriation of a sum sufficient for the construction and maintenance of the California state building, and the clerk of this board be instructed to immediately mail a copy of this resolution to his Excellency, Honorable Hiram W. Johnson, Governor or the State of California, and to Hon. E. S. Birdsall, Senator of this district, and Hon. G. B. Finnegan, Assemblyman from this district, and to O. H. Miller, Box 775, Sacramento, California, Secretary of the Counties Executive Committee.

Attest: MARSHALL Z. LOWELL, Clerk.

By Mr. Richardson:

Protesting against the passage of the "Kehoe-Benedict Sunday Rest Bill."

(Signed by)

W. M. HEALEY, San Diego, Cal.

JOHN F. BLUNT, Los Angeles, Cal.

By Mr. Fitzgerald:

To the Assembly of the State of California:

The undersigned hereby earnestly petition your honorable body that you refuse to pass Assembly Bill No. 1620, introduced by Hon. Daniel Ferguson, to amend the Penal Code, Section 172, relating to the sale or gift of vinous or alcoholic liquors within or contiguous to certain state buildings and grounds, and to the State University.

The above was indorsed by a vote at a meeting of the voters of the Fruitvale M. E. Church, in the city of Oakland, State of California, on the second day of March, A. D. 1913, and the undersigned was authorized to so attest.

BEECHER B. CONNER, presiding.

By Mr. Alexander:

We, the undersigned, taxpayers of the State of California and business men of the city of Monterey, county of Monterey, State of California, do hereby petition your honorable body as follows:

That you represent the district within which the city of Monterey lies in the Legislature. We ask of you that you oppose the passage of any bill which prohibits any person, firm, company, corporation or association from selling, giving away or keeping for sale or distribution alcoholic liquors of any nature in any town or city, except cities of the first class, in the State of California, within four miles of the limits of any federal military post or reservation. And we respectfully pray that you do all that in your power lies to defeat any such bill for the following reasons, to wit:

1. That the passage of any such bill will result in depriving many law-abiding citizens of valuable property, acquired and invested under the laws of the State of California, without due compensation.

2. That said measure will interfere with a legitimate business now being conducted under the provisions of the Constitution of the State of California, and in accordance with ordinances of the said city of Monterey.

3. That said measure is in effect a measure of prohibition. We respectfully urge upon your honorable body that such measures in the past have failed in their purpose, and that it does not redound to the credit of the Legislature of a state of the first class to enact measures without a reasonable probability of their enforcement in letter as well as in spirit.

4. That the aforesaid measures discriminate against the city of Monterey, inasmuch as the said city of Monterey is one of the few cities in the State of California to be affected by the hereinbefore mentioned measures.

5. That the taxpayers and residents of the city of Monterey have expressed no dissatisfaction with the conditions now prevailing in the said city of Monterey, one of the few communities which will be affected by the said measure.

Respectfully submitted.

FRANK HELLAM (and others).

Also:

At the regular meeting of the Monterey Chamber of Commerce, held on Monday evening, March 3, 1913, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That Assembly Bill No. 1631, forbidding the sale of liquor within a certain radius of any army or navy post (in the case of Monterey within four miles of the Presidio of Monterey) is, in its application to this municipality, unfair, unjust, destructive to the business interests of Monterey and harmful from a moral point of view;

That such legislation, applied to this community, which has not at this time an active, preponderant prohibition sentiment, would result in replacing the open-front door, restricted and well regulated saloons with illegal, back-door, unregulated and non-licensed saloons whose influence would be vicious;

That this body, believing that Monterey can and will best regulate its own affairs, does protest the adoption of such legislation, and asks that your honorable body does not pass Assembly Bill No. 1639.

C. W. SALTERBACH, President.
WM. SANDHOLDT, JR., Secretary.

By Mr. Slater:

Away back in 1846, a band of Americans, who later became known as the Bear Flag party, declared at Sonoma the freedom of California from Mexican rule. They created a flag, known as the Bear Flag, and which has been officially designated as the state flag of California. Desiring to appropriately mark the birthplace of the state's flag, Sonoma Parlor, No. 111, N. S. G. W., has launched a movement looking to the early erection of an appropriate monument on the historic spot, and seeks, at the hands of the State, an appropriation to help carry out the project.

WHEREAS, There have been introduced in the Senate and Assembly of the Legislature bills calling for an appropriation of $5,000 with which to erect, in the city of Sonoma, California, a monument commemorating the raising of the Bear Flag; and

WHEREAS, Said proposed monument is to be erected in the old Sonoma plaza on the very spot where the historic Bear Flag party first flung our now state flag to the breezes of California; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Associated Parlors, Native Sons of the Golden West, representing the combined membership of all the Parlors of N. S. G. W. in the city of Los Angeles, that we heartily endorse the bills calling for the appropriation for a Bear Flag monument;

Resolved, That we do earnestly urge upon the Senate and Assembly the passage of these bills; that we ask the favorable consideration of the appropriation by the State Board of Control; and that we solicit the Governor's signature to the bills after their passage;

Resolved, That our representatives in the Legislature be requested to use every honorable means within their power to secure the passage of these bills.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Governor Hiram W. Johnson, to the secretary of the State Board of Control, to the Los Angeles County representatives in the Legislature, and to the chairman of the Bear Flag Monument Committee.

PETITIONS.

The following petitions were received and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mr. Ellis:

To the Assembly of the State of California:

We, the undersigned citizens of Beaumont, California, respectfully petition your honorable body to pass the pending bill known as Assembly Bill No. 353, the red light and abatement bill, which we believe to be an effective agency for the protection of our domestic and municipal life against the encroachments of commercialized vice.

R. A. GOODALE (and others).

By Mr. Murray:

We, the undersigned, hereby request that you give your active support in the Legislature to the following four bills:

First—Assembly Bill 535 (Guiberson), or Senate Bill 570 (Cogswell).

Second—Assembly Bill 536 (Guiberson), or Senate Bill 569 (Cogswell).

Third—Assembly Bill 537 (Guiberson), or Senate Bill 572 (Cogswell).

Fourth—Assembly Bill 538 (Guiberson), or Senate Bill 571 (Cogswell).

And we request that you actively oppose the passage of the following bills and all other bills similar in nature or import, to wit:

First—Senate Bill 152 (Finn).

Second—Assembly Bill 575 (Inman).

Third—Assembly Bill 573 (Inman), or Senate Bill 757 (Finn).

Fourth—Assembly Bill 663 (Richardson), or Senate Bill 566 (Regan).

Fifth—Assembly Bill 232 (McDonald).

Sixth—Assembly Bill 241—(Benedict), or Senate Bill 207 (Kehoe).

Seventh—Assembly Bill 493 (Walsh), or Senate Bill 140 (Regan and Lyon).

Eighth—Assembly Bill 31 (Kingsley).

Ninth—Assembly Bill 1493 (Hayes).

Tenth—Assembly Bill 921 (Roberts).

GEO. H. HOPPIN (and others).

Dated this 20th day of February, 1913.

By Mr. Guill:

CHICO, CAL., January 29, 1913.

To the Senate and Assembly of the State of California.

GENTLEMEN: The undersigned women and girls, residents of Chico and vicinity, who work in orchards and in fruit-cutting sheds during the harvesting and curing of fruits, do most respectfully ask that you do not pass the Lyon bill or any other law which would limit us to eight hours work per day.

We consider such restriction unreasonable when applied to the saving of perishable crops. It would limit our earnings without reason in a healthful occupation which is regarded by many women and girls as profitable recreation during the busy harvesting season.

ALICE BARHAM (and others).

Also:

CHICO, CAL., January 27, 1913.

To the Members of the Legislature of the State of California:

We, the undersigned, voters and producers, demand that the Lyon bill, or any other bill limiting the employment of females to eight hours per day, be amended or so drawn as to specifically exempt from its operation females who work in handling and saving fruit and other perishable products.

GEO. W. WEAVER (and others).

By Mr. Slater:

To the legislative bodies of California:

WHEREAS, It is proposed to amend the eight-hour labor law so as to include female employees working in perishable fruits,

We, the undersigned, desire to present the following facts for your consideration: We are paid by the piece for all packing-house, cannery and fruit shed work. We are not compelled to work any stated number of hours. The season for handling fruit is short and unless we are allowed to work more than eight hours we cannot afford to leave our homes to handle fruit. To curtail our time means loss to use. We are satisfied with the conditions as they now exist in packing-houses, canneries and fruit sheds, and we hereby petition our honorable lawmaking bodies to exempt the fruit business from the proposed amendments to the eight hour labor law.

MRS. L. MARQUAND (and others).

Also:

We, your petitioners, would most respectfully ask that you use all honorable means to defeat any law that would in any way restrict the number of hours of labor given in one day to women while handling the products of our orchards and vineyards.

Respectfully submitted.

J. E. METZGER (and others).

Also:

CLOVERDALE, CAL., March 10, 1913.

To the Hon. L. W. Juilliard, State Senator, and the Hon. Herbert W. Slater and George W. Libby, members of the Assembly, and the Honorable Senators and Assemblymen of the California Legislature in session in Sacramento, Cal.

GENTLEMEN: We most respectfully request your honorable body to consider the protests that are being forwarded to you in petition and otherwise against the extending of the eight-hour law to the fruit industry of the State. As most of you are aware, during the fruit harvest, whether picking or handling in cannery or packing-house, time and help are the essence of operation. The fruit growers and packers need all the help they can possibly get and there never is sufficient during the fruit harvest. Any curtailing of help during the two or three months when the season is at its height and fruit is ripening fast means a serious injury and loss to the farmer, consequently we sincerely trust that no impediment will be put in the way. An investigation has shown that the women themselves prefer to work as they do now at piece work, rather than be restricted to a specific number of hours.

As members of the Cloverdale Grape Growers' Protective Association we respectfully protest against the extending of the eight hour law to the women employed in handling of the fruit crops of the State.

ITALIAN SWISS COLONY.

EDMUND A. ROSSI, Gen. Supt.

WALTER SINK, President.

E. G. FURBER, Vice-President.

A. J. SMITH, Secretary.

Also:

To the Honorable Legislature of the State of California, Sacramento, Cal.

GENTLEMEN: We, the undersigned officers and directors of the Clover-Leaf Pharmacy, Inc., earnestly request your honorable body to consider well the enactment of an eight hour law which would affect the fruit, the horticultural and agricultural interests of our State by cutting down the hours of labor in the orchards and fields to an eight hour schedule.

We are indirectly interested in this, being large consumers of California olive oil. As to the hours of labor in our factory, we even go the eight hour law one better, and work our help seven hours.

As there is a great difference between work within closed walls and that in the open fields and under the blue sky, we believe that an eight hour law would seriously affect the important industries of our State.

Respectfully submitted.

CLOVER-LEAF PHARMACY, INC.

W. C. SHIPLEY, President.

H. F. BARKER, Vice-President.

C. S. SIDGLEY, Secretary.

W. B. SHAW, Treasurer.

ANNA G. SHIPLEY.

E. SENTER.

Also:

To the Honorable the Members of the California Legislature:

GENTLEMEN: We, the officers and members of the Cloverdale Citrus Fair Association of Cloverdale, Sonoma County, most respectfully petition your honorable body not to impose additional restrictions on the harvesting of the fruit crops of the State by extending the eight hour law to the women who earn large sums of money by working at "piece work" during the few brief weeks during which the canneries and fruit-packing establishments are operated. We believe that such enactment as proposed will work a serious injury, not only upon the farmer and fruit grower and handler, but upon those who depend upon the harvesting of the fruit crop for a livelihood during a greater part of the year.

And your petitioners will ever pray.

C. E. HUMBERT, President.
E. A. COOLEY, Vice-President.
W. C. SHIPLEY, Secretary.
J. B. COOLEY, Director.
C. A. YARD, Director.

By Mr. Clarke:

To the Members of the Legislature of the State of California:

We, the undersigned taxpayers and citizens of Tuolumne County, respectfully petition you to take no action nor endorse any legislative measure that has for its end the raising of the salaries of any public officials in Tuolumne County.

We take this action in opposition to the recommendation of the last grand jury that the salaries of four county officials be raised.

We take this position because the population of Tuolumne County is gradually decreasing as is also the value of property. The volume of business transactions is less than five years ago, as is also the number of real estate transfers.

Under such conditions we do not feel that the county is justified in increasing the pay of its county officials and protest against any action being taken to that end.

A. E. POOR (and others).

By Mr. Guiberson:

TULARE, February 22, 1913.

To the Members of the Legislature of the State of California:

These bills are of vital importance to the dairy industry of California, and we, as producing dairymen, are very desirous of seeing them become laws.

Hoping you will give them your earnest support, as the dairy industry is second only in importance in California.

Very sincerely yours,

THE ALAMEDA DAIRYMEN'S ASSOCIATION.

By Mr. Emmons:

State Assembly of California, Sacramento, Cal.

GENTLEMEN: We, the undersigned members of the San Pedro branch of the International Longshoremen's Association of the United States, No. 38-18, and residents of Los Angeles city, county and state, and being affiliated members of the said local, No. 38-18, I. L. A., hereby petition your honorable body that we, and each of us whose names are hereunto signed, set forth and subscribed, request an immediate enactment and passage of such laws as will compel the use of dust-proof sacks for the handling and loading and unloading of cement at and from vessels, as the quality of sacks that are now used in the handling, loading and unloading of cement from vessels is of such a deleterious nature and character as to cause ourselves to become ill and subjects each of us to intense physical suffering in pursuing our employment as longshoremen, in the handling of said cement in sacks of the character above referred to.

JOHN E. GRONWALL (and others).

Also:

State Assembly of California, Sacramento, Cal.

GENTLEMEN: We, the undersigned members of the San Pedro branch of the International Longshoremen's Association of the United States, No. 38-18, and residents of Los Angeles city, county and state, and being affiliated members of the said local, No. 38-18, I. J. CLASSON (and others).

By Mr. Gelder:

The undersigned ask that you in your best judgment will see fit to use your earnest endeavors for the enactment by the Legislature of the "red light injunction and abatement law."

When the roll is called and the vote taken we hope that your name will be recorded among those who favor the enactment of this bill.

Sincerely, in the best interests of our State,

H. FRANCK (and others).

By Mr. Bloodgood:

Meeting of special appointees from the beach resorts of southern California, held at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce Building, Los Angeles, at 2 p.m., Wednesday, January 27, 1913.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that we are opposed to the adoption of the Kehoe Sunday law now before the California State Legislature, for the chief reason that such legislation is contrary to the fundamental principles of our government, and in every instance Sunday laws work injustice to one or another class of citizens, invariably discriminating for one class against another class. Being religious in character, this kind of legislation is unconstitutional, as several of the Supreme Courts of various states have decided, chief of these decisions being that of the California Supreme Court in the case of California, Ex parte Newman, 9th California, page 502, which has decided:

"If the Legislature could prescribe the days of rest for them (the people), then it would seem that the same power could prescribe the hours to work, rest and eat. If the Legislature has the authority to appoint a time of compulsory rest, it is without limit, and may extend to the prohibition of all occupations at all times." There could be no clearer definition of the question involving the inalienable right of the people than this, and we are emphatically opposed to any deviation from the principle so well laid down by the higher judicial authority of our State and absolutely in line and in accord with the fundamental doctrines of our system of government. Sunday laws, in our estimation, are not alone unconstitutional; they are as well un-American, uncivil and, we may add, unchristian. They are a species of legislation which, followed to the ultimatum, are invariably dangerous in character, working various hardships to certain business interests and particularly communities, and, in the last analysis of their operation, they have, in every age, worked injustice and persecution to the dissenting minority. Such a Sunday law as proposed by the Kehoe measure, basing its demand upon religious expediency, and therefore without warrant in our system of government, would work irreparable injury to the business interests of our community.

Our government is for the whole people and not for the classes, whether religious or otherwise.

If California is to remain a free state—a commonwealth in which the inalienable rights of all shall be preserved—it behooves us to make an emphatic and determined protest against this, or any other measure that threatens the liberties, political, civil and religious, of the people.

We should solidly unite in preventing, if possible, the passage of any bill in our State Assembly that will interfere with, abridge, or annul the rights that we now enjoy.

Resolutions unanimously adopted by Beach Resort Association January 22, 1913.

Resolved. That, owing to the drastic provisions and lack of discrimination of Senate Bill No. 140, Assembly Bill No. 31 and Senate Bill No. 207, regarding hours of labor and Sunday closing, it is the sense of this meeting that they do not meet with the approval of the Beach Resort Association and that their passage be opposed.

Resolved. That this association is not opposed to the principles of the eight hour law, but opposes the bills in question because their drastic provisions will interfere seriously with amusement resorts and transportation facilities which are conducted mainly for the benefit of the laboring people who have very little opportunity for recreation except Sunday.

Resolved. That each resort be invited to designate one representative to act as a member of a legislative committee, this committee to have full power to act for this association upon legislative matters, and that the first meeting of the legislative committee be held in the committee room of the Chamber of Commerce Building, Los Angeles, January 27th, at 2 p.m.

Resolved. That each member of the legislative committee shall have his expenses paid by the resort he represents.

Resolved. That the president and secretary be ex officio members of the legislative committee.

Statement of intention to circulate petition.

(5) Before any petition for recall is circulated, an affidavit in triplicate by or on behalf of the person or persons proposing such recall shall be made; one to be filed with the city clerk, one to be left by him at the office of the officer sought to be recalled, and one to be sent by him by registered mail to the residence of such officer. Such statement and answer, if any, shall be printed on each individual certificate. No original petition for recall of any officer shall be presented to the city clerk later than forty (40) days after the filing of the affidavit.

Life of petition.

(7) If any question of recall, for which a petition has been filed, be not submitted to the electors of the city within the time specified, such petition shall remain in force until such question has been submitted.

Grounds of recall. Officer's justification.

(9) The ballots at every election at which recall is to be voted upon shall contain the following question: "Shall (name of officer) be removed from the office of (name of office)?" Following the question shall be printed the words "Yes" and "No," on separate lines, with a voting square at the right of each, in which the voter shall stamp or write a cross (X) for or against such recall. All requirements of this charter relating to ballots at general municipal elections shall, so far as applicable, apply to all ballots at every election at which a question of recall is to be voted upon. The call for elections under this section shall be the same as the call for general or special municipal elections.

What constitutes a recall.

(10) After a petition for recall of a person from office has been filed, he may continue to perform the duties of his office until the council has canvassed the returns of the election and declared that a majority of the votes upon the question of his recall was cast in favor thereof, and thereupon said office shall become vacant.

To the Legislature of the State of California:

GENTLEMEN: The undersigned, employees of various fruit canneries, respectfully petition you to cast your influence and vote against Senate Bill No. 406, now before the State Legislature. By said bill it is proposed to limit to eight hours the work-day of women engaged in work on perishable fruits. With the existing conditions we are well satisfied and are greatly opposed to any change whereby our hours would be shortened. We are dependent on the harvest season to produce our income for the entire year; hence any action such as proposed by bill No. 466 would seriously interfere with our means of livelihood. We ask for your thorough investigation of this matter in your own district, confident that in justice to us you will oppose this bill.

MRS. HAINES (and others).

By Mr. Slater:

To the Honorable Members of the Legislature:

WHEREAS, The harvesting, cutting fresh fruit, packing and canning, is done out of doors or in sanitary, well ventilated buildings;

WHEREAS, The season of harvest is short, in most localities less than sixty days;

WHEREAS, The work is light, being principally piece work, which does not necessitate our working long hours unless we so desire;

WHEREAS, The work being light, and no great strain on body or mind, is pleasant and remunerative; and from our knowledge of the business, we believe it would be a needless and unjust restriction to limit us to eight hours of labor.

Now, we, the undersigned women of Sonoma County, who have worked in occupations above referred to, respectfully urge that the handling of perishable products be excepted, as the law now stands, and we urge our representatives in the Legislature to see that any legislation whose purpose is to restrict hours of labor, and particularly Senate Bill No. 466, be amended accordingly.

MRS. LOTTIE CONSIGLARI (and others).

By Mr. Ferguson:

We, the undersigned, who have worked in the canneries, and who wish to work in canneries in the future, respectfully ask that no law be passed prohibiting us from working in canneries more than eight hours per day. The season is short and some days when fruit is slow in ripening we only get four or five hours' work. We are glad to work longer on days when work is given, as the fruit will not keep and we need the money. We get all the fruit we want to eat and the work is healthy. None of the people in the cannery where we work have ever complained or asked to have such a law, known as the eight hour law, passed.

Yours respectfully,

CARRIE KLEINER (and others).

By Mr. Chandler:

DEAR SIR: We, the undersigned, Fresno members of the California Drug Clerks' Association, drug store proprietors, and practicing physicians, do respectfully but earnestly petition you as our representative to vote and use your influence against Senate Bill No. 182, introduced by Senator E. S. Birdsall, of Placer County, and entitled an Act to amend Section 16 of an Act entitled "An Act to regulate the practice of pharmacy in the State of California, and to provide a penalty for the violation thereof, and for the appointment of a board to be known as the California state board of pharmacy," approved March 20, 1905, and amended March 21, 1907, and April 21, 1909.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 16 of said Act is amended to read as follows:

16. The following drugs, chemicals, medicines, and remedies may be sold by grocers and dealers generally, without restriction and without fee, permit or license being required of them, viz: Tincture of arnica, spirits of camphor, almond oil, distilled extract of witch hazel, paregoric, syrup of ipecac, syrup of rhubarb, hive syrup, spirits of nitre, tincture of iron, epsom salts, Rochelle salts, senna leaves, carbonate of magnesia, seidlitz powders, quinine, cathartic pills, camomile flowers, caraway seed, chlorate of potash, moth balls, plasters, salves, ointments, peroxide of hydrogen, copperas, gum camphor, blue ointment, asafetida, saffron, anise seed, saltpetre, glauher salts, vaseline, turpentine, condition powders, cream of tartar, carbonate of soda, bay rum, essence of Jamaica ginger, essence of peppermint, ammonia, alum, castor oil, sodium bicarbonate, chloride of lime, glycerine, witch hazel, borax, sheep dip, sulphur, bluestone, flax seed, insect powder, fly paper, ant poison, squirrel poison, gopher poison, and arsenical preparations used for orchard spraying when prepared and sold in original packages and labeled with the official poison label.

We urge you to oppose this measure because it is obviously unfair to the members of our profession who have been required by law to properly qualify themselves and to pass an examination before being licensed to deliver to the public the heretofore enumerated drugs, chemicals, medicines, and poisons. Because it would, we fear, jeopardize the public health by placing the sale of those articles in the hands of those utterly untrained in the handling of drugs, medicines, and poisons. Should this bill become a law, it would be possible for a child to go to a grocery store and purchase a package of arsenic mixed with glucose, an ounce or a pound of potassium cyanide, one of the most deadly poisons, a package of phosphorus paste, or a dozen other articles equally as dangerous. He, moreover, could buy them of another child or person ignorant of their nature. No one could ascertain from the label where he procured them, or who sold them. In fact, it would be nobody's business to inquire, unless perchance the coroner became curious, and, being so handicapped, he could only render a verdict of accidental death.

It is unfortunate for the lady who mailed the poisoned candy some years ago that she did not wait for the Birdsall bill to become a law. She could then have had her arsenic delivered with her groceries, and could have gone merrily on putting her rivals out of the way, for the authorities would have had no tell-tale poison register to introduce in court. They would have been compelled to confine their investigations as to where the poison was obtained to casual inquiries of all the grocers and dealers generally throughout the State.

The former mail regulations barred poisons in any form. The new parcels post allows them to be sent only by manufacturers, registered pharmacists, and physicians, and only to registered pharmacists and physicians. This bill would allow them to be sold by anyone and to anyone and delivered by anyone.

In this State, one cannot purchase the smallest quantity of gunpowder without furnishing a statement, signed by three witnesses besides the purchaser, setting forth the purpose for which it is to be used. Yet if this bill were to become a law, a mere child could go to a grocer's and purchase an ounce or a pound of cyanide as easily as he could a stick of candy. The sale of carbolic acid in stronger than 10 per cent solution in less than one pound is restricted—a measure made necessary because of the great number of suicides by this heretofore easily purchased dangerous drug. The no-restriction clause would fix that. It could be bought of any girl over the counter of the department store in any sized package, as long as it had the official label of some firm who make no pretensions of even being wholesale druggists, merely bottlers of medicines and poisons, to be sold to the grocers and dealers generally for profit. We cannot but feel that there is more than a shade of suspicion of these bottlers, whose avarice prompts them to endeavor to gain the privilege of practicing pharmacy, regardless of the welfare of the public. They seek to amend the law, rather than amend themselves to the law by being satisfied with a business which the present law very liberally allows them to claim under the rural dealers' permit clause in the present pharmacy law. In most states, and most certainly in all European countries, one must be a pharmacist to practice pharmacy and sell drugs and medicines—a very proper measure for the protection of the public health.

Now as to the official label, we have always understood the official label to consist of the name of the poison, the official antidote adopted by the Board of Pharmacy, and, under all, the name of the firm dispensing same.

We are required to register the name, address, signature, and reason for purchasing same. We are compelled to keep such register open for the inspection of any peace officer in the State. We pay a fee for the privilege of doing this, yet this bill would allow any one but a druggist to do so without fee or restriction of any kind, and they could use any manufacturer's label from Milpitas to Kalamazoo.

There never has been a disposition on the part of the pharmacist to interfere in any way with the sale of those harmless drugs and chemicals which may be classed as foods or technical products, such as bicarbonate of soda, borax, sal soda, cream of tartar, anise seed, mustard, etc. These items, we suppose, have been included in this bill to give color to the idea that at present druggists were attempting to hog it all by monopolizing the sale of those items. There is no more restriction on the sale of those items than there is on the sale of sugar or salt pork. There is no restriction on the sale of patent medicines by anyone.

As before stated, we feel that this bill was gotten up to further the distribution of powerful medicines and poisons through channels foreign to pharmacy and for the benefit of these mercenary manufacturers who place dollars before the health and safety of the people. We have been required by law to properly qualify ourselves before being allowed to practice our profession and are surrounded by many necessary restrictions for the proper safeguarding of the public, and we contend that the skillful and careful sale of drugs and medicines is our business and that the present law needs no amending. Good pharmacies are plentiful all over the State, and where there are none the Board of Pharmacy is very liberal in interpreting the general dealers' permit clause. The present law allows all those drugs that could be safely put into the hands of those utterly ignorant of the profession of pharmacy to be sold by any dealer.

RESOLUTION OF THE GRAND JURY OF NAPA COUNTY.

WHEREAS, At the session of the California Legislature of 1911, an Act was passed providing for the purchase of a site for the establishment of a reformatory; and

WHEREAS, The commission appointed under authority of said Act has purchased a tract of land in Napa Valley, on the east side and near Yountville, for said purpose; be it

Resolved, By the grand jury of Napa County, that it earnestly protests against the establishment of such an institution in Napa Valley.

That in doing this the grand jury is but voicing the sentiment of the people of Napa County, men, women and children.

That the Legislature, now in session, be requested to investigate the matter more fully, and by doing so it is confidently believed that other places can be found offering equal facilities and where the results would not be harmful.

That a copy of this resolution be presented to both the Senate and Assembly by our representatives in said bodies.

W. B. GRIFFITHS, Foreman.

By Mr. Johnstone:

Resolved, That the Woman's Club of Rialto does hereby endorse the Flint-Cary bill, to prohibit the sale of wild game and urges its passage by the California Legislature, as an important measure for the conservation of wild life.

Resolved, That the Woman's Club of Rialto does hereby petition the members of the California Legislature to actively oppose the passage of measures which would remove protection from any of the present non-game birds, especially any laws that would place robins, meadowlarks and blackbirds on the game list.

KATHERINE E. OLIVER, Secretary.

By Mr. Beck:

We, the undersigned, officers and members of San Leandro Civic Center, earnestly request that you cast your vote in favor of the "red light" (Iowa) injunction and abatement Act (Senate Bill No. 320).

Also:

WHEREAS, There is now pending before the Legislature of the State of California Senate Bill No. 713, entitled "An Act to protect the soil within the State of California and to prevent its destruction or its deterioration; to regulate the dredging of soil by means of the dredging process; declaring the use and cultivation of soil for agricultural purposes an ordinary use, and declaring the use of soil for dredging purposes an extraordinary and uncommon use," etc.; and

WHEREAS, After examination and the careful consideration of the bill, it appears that if enacted by the Legislature it will result in vesting in the organization therein referred to as "The State Water Commission" the power and authority of adjudicating whether or not mining by the dredger process shall continue in Siskiyou County, or elsewhere in the State of California, and contemplates that the tribunal vested with this extensive authority shall finally decide upon each application within thirty days after the hearing thereon, whether or not the area included in such application, or any portion thereof, shall be mined by the dredger process; and

WHEREAS, One of the most important industries in the State of California is the mining industry, and the area suitable for dredging purposes is scattered for hundreds of miles throughout the mineral regions of the State, and by reason of this fact, and of the further fact that because of the geological formation, climatic conditions and geographical locations characterizing the territory wherein dredger mining can be successfully conducted, it will be practically impossible for the organization in question to satisfactorily investigate and pass upon the numerous applications that would have to be submitted to it within any reasonable time; and

WHEREAS, Siskiyou County has throughout its history been one of the most important factors in the maintenance of the prestige of the mining industry in the State of California, and there is located therein vast areas of rich gold-bearing ground especially suitable for mining by the dredger process, and this county has been for a number of years past and is now engaged in advertising its mineral resources, with the view of interesting and encouraging the investment of capital in the county, and promoting in every legitimate way possible the prosperity of its mining industry, and to that end was instrumental in having the Mining Congress of Northern California and Southern Oregon convene at Yreka, the county seat of Siskiyou County, during the year 1912, and on that occasion presented an array of gold and other mineral exhibits to the attendants on that Mining Congress that was pronounced by experts to be one of the finest exhibits that had ever been assembled in the State of California; and

WHEREAS, During the last year more inquiries have been made by intending investors as to the mineral resources of Siskiyou County than at any time in its history, and the prospects for a marked and rapid growth of the mineral industry of the county during the next few years between the date hereof and the close of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition in 1915 are most encouraging; and

WHEREAS, The next few years will be an especially critical time for the mining industry throughout the State of California, and especially in Siskiyou County, and any legislation tending to diminish the net profits to be derived from the mining industry will have not only a temporary but a permanently injurious effect upon the prospects of the entire State, and especially of those counties having located therein valuable mineral deposits, such as are to be found in Siskiyou County:

Now, therefore, while recognizing fully the patriotism which prompts the action of the supporters of Senate Bill No. 713, hereinabove referred to, on the theory that by favoring that bill they are advancing the agricultural interests of the State, this board respectfully submits that the threatened legislation above referred to, and particularly at this critical time, if enacted, will, in so far as Siskiyou County is concerned especially, in all probability divert from legitimate investment therein within the next two years an amount that will far exceed any benefit that would be derived therefrom in Siskiyou County during the next fifty years, and under these circumstances and because of the fact that this board, after careful consideration, is unanimously and unqualifiedly of the opinion that under no circumstances should the bill above referred to, or any bill having for its object the supervision of the dredging industry as therein contemplated, be enacted if it lies within the power of this board or any representative of Siskiyou County to prevent it; be it

Resolved, That we hereby respectfully offer our services to our representatives in the Legislature, Hon. T. W. H. Shanahan and Hon. W. B. Shearer, in every fair and legitimate effort that may be made by them to defeat the passage of the bill above referred to, and assure them of our earnest desire to co-operate with them to the fullest extent possible in their efforts to protect what promises to be one of the most important industries of Siskiyou County; and be it further Resolved, That a certified copy of these resolutions under the seal of this board, be sent to Senator Shanahan and Assemblyman Shearer at Sacramento forthwith, to the end that they may be thereby better enabled to protect the interests of Siskiyou County in that connection.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
COUNTY OF SISKIYOU, } ss.

I, W. J. Neilon, county clerk of Siskiyou County, California, and ex officio clerk of the board of supervisors of said county, hereby certify that the foregoing resolutions were unanimously adopted by the board of supervisors of Siskiyou County at a meeting of said board duly and regularly held on the 15th day of March, A. D. 1913.

W. J. NEILON,

County Clerk of Siskiyou County, California, and ex-officio clerk of the board of supervisors of said county.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 1.

Relative to the continuation by the United States of surveys for the construction of storage reservoirs for the impounding of flood waters in the Sierra Nevada Mountains in the State of California, and asking that an appropriation be made for forwarding the work as speedily as possible.

WHEREAS, The United States Government has for several years past been securing data through the geological survey and the reclamation service concerning the watersheds of the west slope of the Sierra Nevada Mountains and the construction of storage reservoirs for the conservation of flood waters in the winter and spring; and WHEREAS, The Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys, of which these watersheds form the eastern rim, constitute a large body of the most fertile land to be found in any country, rivaling the far-famed valley of the Nile in productiveness and capable of supporting a population of several millions when properly reclaimed and settled; and

WHEREAS, In times of heavy snowfall and rainfall, the volume of water coming down into the valleys is a continual menace to the rich lands adjacent to the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, thousands of acres of which are flooded in years of heavy rainfall; and

WHEREAS, In the report of the reclamation service for the year 1907 the statement is made that if storage reservoirs were constructed at the sites surveyed, it would greatly simplify the drainage problems of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers and the lower Sacramento Valley by reducing the flood flow in the rivers; and

WHEREAS, The flood waters so impounded would be of the greatest value to the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys and the State of California by being used for irrigation instead of being allowed to flow to the ocean, often doing incalculable damage to the valleys, 800,000 acres of the lowlands of which having been flooded in 1904; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate and the Assembly, jointly, That the Legislature of the State of California memorializes the Congress of the United States for the continuation of said work of surveying and constructing such storage reservoirs in the watersheds of the western slope of said Sierra Nevada Mountains on the tributaries of the Feather, Yuba and American rivers and other tributaries of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, carry out all measures necessary for such work and making an appropriation of sufficient size to forward it as the more speedily solved; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Interior be requested to take the necessary measures for hastening the survey and construction of such reservoirs in order to impound such flood waters and enable the problem of improvement and restraint of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers to be more speedily solved; and be it further

Resolved, That our Senators in Congress be instructed and our representatives be requested to use all honorable means to secure the action desired in this matter for the purpose aforesaid; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the President of the United States, the Secretary of the Interior, the Secretary of Agriculture, the respective houses of Congress and to each of our Senators and Representatives in Congress, including those to assume office on March 4, 1913.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 12.

Relative to action by Congress in directing an investigation through the Department of Agriculture of measures for protection of fruit from frost damage.

WHEREAS, The great citrus belt of California has been visited by an unprecedented damaging frost, involving a loss of many millions of dollars in the crop alone, as well as great damage to trees; and

WHEREAS, Great advancement has been made by both public and private experimentation in the protection of orchards all over the United States from the damaging effect of cold waves by means of heating pots and other methods of raising temperatures, the use of which has given perfect protection in some groves and has been of little benefit in others. The effect of frost damage on many fruits, particularly the citrus, is but little known and it is believed that large sums may be saved in this and other horticultural branches by a more thorough knowledge of the prevention of frost damage and the best means of determining to what extent citrus or other fruits have been rendered unfit for marketing. Large losses have been sustained which might have been prevented were proper methods known; and

WHEREAS, The interests of the whole country demand a thorough investigation of this question by the Department of Agriculture through the most competent experts obtainable. Such work adequately supported and ably conducted will save many millions of dollars losses to the nation; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That this being a nation-wide problem, we appeal to Congress to authorize and empower the Department of Agriculture to at once take up this question and employ the ablest and most competent men to be had for carrying on this work until a thorough knowledge shall be had of this question in its bearing on all branches of horticulture; and be it

Resolved, That upon the passage of this resolution, the Secretary of State be and he is hereby directed to forward a copy thereof to the Senators and Representatives of the State of California in Congress; and that a copy of the resolution be also transmitted to the Governor of each fruit-growing state in the Union, requesting them to urge legislatures now in session to consider and take action in accordance with this resolution.

ASSEMBLY JOINT RESOLUTION No. 16.

Relative to the endorsement of Newlands regulation bill as introduced in the Sixty-first Congress, third session, and as amended April 30, 1912.

Realizing the wise forethought of our forefathers in framing the Constitution of the United States, and in granting to Congress certain powers, among these to lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts, and excises, to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States, and being convinced that it is the function of the Federal Government to maintain and extend navigation, and to develop the same by the full use of our inland water ways, we therefore earnestly request that the problem of the control of flood waters be given earnest and prompt attention by the Federal Government, to the end, that the appalling loss of life and property should cease.

In furtherance thereof, it becomes a part of our duty to request the Federal Government to provide for the common defense and general welfare for the people of our common country, as set forth in the following resolution, which we most earnestly present:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the members of the Legislature of the State of California that the appalling loss of life and property throughout our entire country, from uncontrolled flood waters, should cease.

Resolved, That this Legislature unanimously endorses the Newlands river regulation bill, as introduced in the sixty-first Congress, third session, and as amended April 30, 1912, together with the appropriations therein contained, and request the passage of said bill as an act worthy of our government, believing such legislation, as is set forth in the Newlands river regulation bill, will prevent such losses as our country is suffering from, and permit the further rapid and safe developments of the resources of our country.

Resolved, That the large sums called for in the Newlands bill and the additions thereto, to be furnished by the states, that will be necessary to fully develop the resources of the various states of the Union, are amply justified by the results that will be secured from the wise expenditures provided for by such legislation; and it is further

Resolved, That this resolution be spread upon the minutes of this session of the Legislature, and that copies thereof be sent to the President, to the President-elect, and to the Congress of the United States, at Washington.

ASSEMBLY JOINT RESOLUTION No. 21.

Relative to requesting the United States Congress to recognize the republic of China.

WHEREAS, The modern democratic statesmen of China have successfully contested and defeated the Manchurian dynasty which had reigned with despotic power some five hundred years; and which had by taxation and oppression, crushed ambition and diminished enterprise, reducing its people to a very low standard of living and hindering them from developing their wonderful resources; and

WHEREAS, These humane statesmen having aroused the slumbering native genius of the Chinamen and out of their victory, have established a republic which has maintained its independence remarkably well under the circumstances; and

WHEREAS, The leading spirits in this new régime stand for a broader democratic management of their country's resources and industries, insuring more general distribution of the result of enterprise to all its people than now prevails in western countries; and

WHEREAS, The six great financial countries are withholding a negotiated loan of $600,000,000 to the Chinese republic, desired by them to develop government enterprises (including industries), demanding that these financial powers shall supervise the expenditure, evidently with the intention to maintain private monopoly, fearing China may develop public monopolies;

Resolved, That the Senate and Assembly of the State of California hereby join in requesting that the Congress of the United States urge upon the national administration to at once recognize the long-neglected republic of China, to the end that their credit may be improved—that independent loans may be secured—that the republic may go onward to develop its unimproved land and wonderful resources, and draw the Chinese together from all foreign lands to their own country, bringing with them ideas gathered from all lands to work out their destiny at home and develop a higher civilization;

Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be forthwith transmitted by the Clerk of the Assembly, to the President of the United States Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States, and a copy hereof to each member of Congress and each newly elected member of Congress.

Q. How long have you worked in this place, Mr. Nolan? A. Six years.

Q. Do you spend most of your time in this department? A. No, not all of the time.

Q. You are constantly going back and forth in all departments? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Your lungs have never bothered you? A. Not a bit.

Q. How about your eyes—does this dust affect them? A. It only irritates them, like any dust would. There aren't any bad effects.

Q. Is your nose ever sore? A. No.

Q. And your throat? A. My throat is all right. Of course, sometimes we get choked a little, everybody does. It affects people different. Sometimes I get choked, but I always get right over it in the fresh air.

Q. What do you consider the dustiest place? A. Well, the sacking room they say is the dustiest, and that isn't working today.

Q. From what you know, does the dust have any bad effects on these laborers? A. Not that I know of.

Q. Is there anybody in the hospital with sickness due to the dust? A. No—at least, I don't think so.

Q. What persons do you put in the hospital? A. Well, the fellows that get hurt on the machinery here, and those that get hurt over in the quarry.

Q. How do they get hurt in the quarry? A. Oh, I don't know; they have accidents over there.

Q. How many men have been killed in the mill since you've been here? A. Three, I think. I'm not certain.

Q. Was the cause of death of either of those three men due to the fact that the dust was in the air and they couldn't see? A. No, they got killed by carelessness with the machinery.

Q. Have any deaths or injuries resulted from the conditions of the atmosphere in here? A. No.

Q. You allow any of your employees to go to the hospital when he gets sick? A. Yes. He can either go to our hospital, or get his medicine and take it to his home. Lots of them get medicine of the company's doctor.

Q. Do you still pay the men while they are in your hospital? A. We give them $1.00 a day while they are in our hospital.

Q. How many men do you employ? A. I don't know exactly. Right here in this building we have ten men.

Q. Are you pretty sure that the dust has no bad effects? A. Yes, I'm pretty sure it hasn't.

Q. What is the general nature of those who are sick once in a while? A. Well, I'm not prepared to say. I don't have anything to do with that part of it. You would have to see the doctor.

Q. Have you noticed any of the men here with a steady cough? A. If there are any men with a steady cough, I haven't seen them.

Q. Don't any of these fellows ever wear nose-guards over their faces? A. No. They would rather work without them. We used to have them here; had them for all the fellows, but they threw them away. They wouldn't use them.

Q. Do the men who load ships use them? A. Well, I don't know at all. We don't have anything to do with ships here.

Q. Do you furnish all your men with these nose-guards? A. No, but if any of them asked for them, we would give them to them. You see, most of these fellows are foreigners, and they have never heard of a nose-guard before. However, if they asked for one, they could get it.

Q. Do you find it hard to get men to work here? A. Not a bit. I could change my force every week if I wanted to. Always find men.

Q. Isn't it a fact that if the dust in here were abolished, you could get help easier? A. Well, yes, I suppose so, but I don't ever have any trouble getting men. Lots of the fellows don't mind the dust a bit. Some of them can't stand it two hours without being sick. It all depends on the fellow.

Q. Do you pass through the sacking room often? A. Yes, every day several times.

Q. Any complaints from the men in there? No, they don't complain.

Q. Would you say that the men are as healthy as men in other occupations?

A. Well, I can't say as to that. I am not prepared to say.

Q. What nationality are most of the men? A. Most of these fellows are Italians.

Q. Citizens, or non-citizens? A. Probably 90 per cent of them are non-citizens.

Q. How many men have you in the whole institution? A. Well, with the quarry and all, there are somewhere between 80 and 100.

Q. And how often do you pay the employees? A. Once a month.

Q. Pay them by check? A. Yes.

Q. Do you ever board the cars here where they are packing the cement in for shipment? A. Yes, lots of times.

Q. Any complaints? A. No. You see in a car there is more ventilation than there is in a building or ship. They can always get ventilation in a box-car.

Q. What is the output of the plant here daily? A. About 5,000 barrels a day.

Q. Compared with the other plants in the State, is this dustier than the others? A. I don't know. I was never in the others.

Q. Have you a family? A. Yes. I live here.

Q. Do you know the cost of these sacks to the company? A. No, I don't know what these sacks cost.

Q. As foreman here, do you hire and discharge these men yourself? A. Well, I do some of the hiring, and when I want to fire a fellow, I do that, too.

Q. We saw one fellow out here that you had discharged. You had a reason for discharging him? A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. Please state it. A. Well, he laid off on his own account, and wouldn't come to work when sent for, and I know that he was peddling most of the time he was off.

Q. You say that you have worked in eastern plants? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is the mode of packing and handling the cement about the same? A. Yes, sir, just about the same. Lots of the places use the paper bags for short trips.

Q. How about the cloth bags with paper linings? A. Well, they are all right, only when the paper breaks, the dust is just like before. Then when the bag is returned to us to fill again, the paper is most always cut or broken, and it takes a new one.

Q. When these bags are new, isn't the mesh closer together than when the bag has been used three or four times? A. Yes, the cement going out through the little holes carries lots of the little fibres with it, and a bag that has been used three or four times leaks worse than a new one.

Q. Do you recognize this bag which I have marked "Exhibit 'A'" as one of the new bags used in this mill? A. Yes.

Q. Do you recognize this bag which I have marked "Exhibit 'B'" as one of the bags used in this mill which has been used twice? A. Yes.

Q. Do you recognize this bag as one which has been used for cement more than once, or several times? A. Yes.

Witness excused.

New witness before committee.

Q. Do you solemnly swear to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God? A. I do.

Q. How many men do you employ here on the mill? A. Between 70 and 80.

Q. Most of them are foreigners? A. Most of them are foreigners, yes.

Q. Do the men stay at this job for quite a while usually? A. Yes, as a general rule they work quite a while. They go and come just as in other professions and trades.

Q. Do you hear any of them complaining of the dust? A. No, I don't ever hear them complain. I work in the laboratory, and naturally I—

Q. Are there men in the hospital now? A. Yes.

Q. Do you know why they were sent there? A. From injuries and accidents about the mill and quarry.

Q. Do you know, or did you ever know of a man being sent to the hospital as a result of the dust here making him sick? A. No, I don't know of any such case.

Q. Do you know much about the conditions in packing and sacking the cement? A. No; I have nothing to do with that part of it.

Q. Don't you think that re-packing the cement in double sacks would do away with effects of dust? A. It might, but so far there has not been invented a good double sack. The ones dipped in paint are hard to tie; they are so stiff around the top that there is always a hole left when the top is tied. The paper sack inside a cloth one is good for short single hauls.

Q. Don't you think by looking at these sacks here, that the mesh is much more spread apart in the sacks which have been used than in the new sacks? A. If it is, it is impossible to tell the difference with the naked eye.

Q. After the sacks are weighed on your scales, are they weighed again before delivery? A. Not that I know of.

Q. Do you sell them according to weight in wholesale? A. Yes.

Q. Do you know what per cent is lost by the cement escaping through the coarse mesh and holes? A. No—probably very small.

Q. It makes no difference to the company how much is lost in transit by leakage, after the sacks have been weighed on your scales, does it? A. I don't know. I guess not.

Witness excused.

New witness brought before committee:

Do you solemnly swear to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You are the manager of this plant here? A. I'm general superintendent of the Standard plant, yes, sir. Mr. F. H. Davis.

Q. What would you say as to the general health of the men employed here? A. Excellent.

Q. Aren't there any complaints from the dust? A. No, the men don't complain. Of course, some men can't stand any dust, and they don't stay with us, but our men don't complain.

Q. What would seem to you the dustiest part of the mill? A. Well, the men in the sacking department have about the worst of it.

Q. Do you think the dust in there has bad effects on them? A. The dust irritates their eyes, just like it does yours and mine, but they always get over it.

Q. Have you any men in the hospital who are in there on account of the dust? A. No.

Q. The company has its own doctor? A. Yes.

Q. They also have a hospital? A. Yes, we have a hospital over on the hill where we take our fellows.

Q. What is the matter with the men who you say are in there? A. Some of them are injured in accidents about the plant.

Q. Any lung trouble? A. No, sir.

Q. How many men altogether are employed by the Standard? A. About 70 or 80 in all, I believe.

Q. How many men are in the hospital? A. Twelve, I think.

Q. Does the company own the saloon here? A. No, sir.

Q. It owns the store, doesn't it? A. No, we only own the plant.

Q. What do the full sacks weigh when they are shipped from your plant? A. 95 pounds.

Q. Are they weighed after that? A. Not that I know of.

Q. Where do you ship cement outside of California? A. Washington, Oregon, the Philippines and Honolulu.

Q. What does a sack from your plant weigh in Washington? A. I don't know. Probably the same as it did when it left here.

Q. Did you ever receive a complaint of short weight after shipment? A. No, never a complaint of short weight.

Q. You say there is a doctor in that hospital? A. Yes, he has his dwelling there; lives there all the time.

Q. Is the hospital for regular patients? A. No, it is the company's private hospital. We pay the doctor so much a month for taking care of our men.

Q. Have you any compensation for a workman who gets injured, and is in the hospital? A. Yes, we pay a man $1.00 per day all the time he is in the hospital.

Q. Don't you ever have a man in the hospital with a sickness caused by dust? A. Never a one.

Q. Do many men have colds, bad colds? A. Not that I know of.

Q. No men have to lay off on account of the dust? A. Not that I ever heard of.

Q. Do any of your men have coughs? A. Oh, some may have coughs, but only temporary, as with a cold or something like that.

Q. Now, Mr. Davis, can't you tell us of one case of sickness in the plant resulting from cement dust? A. No, sir; in all my experience here, and I've been here seven years, I never knew of a single case of sickness where dust was the cause.

Q. Do you dock your men when they are off in the hospital? A. Yes, we dock them $1.00 a month from their wages, but at the same time, we pay them $1.00 a day for all time in the hospital. And they are taken care of and given good medical treatment besides. There never was a man treated here, but what was perfectly contented. Just to show you how the men are let me tell you what happened the other day. A man employed by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company put his head accidentally on a high voltage wire, carrying 1,000 volts and was electrocuted. He had a wife and little baby and the men in our plant passed around a hat and raised $300.00 for that wife. That shows what sort of fellows they are. And this fellow was not employed by us, either.

Q. Do you believe, Mr. Davis, that the more a sack is used, the more open its mesh becomes? A. After three or four times using, it probably is looser than it was at first, yes.

Q. About how many times do you use a sack, on an average? A. Six times, or until it is worn out. We hardly ever use them more than six times.

Q. Did you ever use these painted sacks? A. Yes, but they are not satisfactory. They crack, and we don't get them back; we use them about once.

Q. How much more does a painted sack cost than a regular sack? A. About three cents more.

Witness dismissed.

Committee examining loading of ship "Frances Leggett" at Oakland.

Q. What is your name? A. W. T. Bevert.

Q. Will you take an oath? A. Yes.

Q. Do you solemnly swear to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long have you worked out here? A. Over three years.

Q. What is your business? A. I'm foreman of the loading gang.

Q. You are constantly loading cement on ships at this port? A. Yes; we load lots of things here besides cement, though.

Q. When you load cement does the dust bother much? A. Yes.

Q. Is it the same on all ships? A. Yes; some are more ventilated than others, but there is always dust.

Q. Is this ship here the class of boats that usually carries cement? A. Well, this boat is regarded as the best type for cement. This is the best boat. Most of the other boats have only one hatchway, and that makes the air awful, there is no ventilation. This ship has three, and another thing, the engine is in the back end of the boat; usually it is in the middle. That gives all the room in one place, the way this ship is.

Q. Do you think the dust of cement has any really bad effects on the men? A. Oh, yes, I'm sure of it.

Q. How has it affected you? A. My hair. When I came here four years ago I had a fine head of hair, and now look at it; just a little left. It's lots lighter, too.

Q. Are you sure the cement did this? A. Well, I don't know what else would.

Q. Any other men around here have trouble like this? A. Yes, they all say it's hard on the hair.

Q. Is it a general opinion that cement dust is injurious? A. Oh, yes.

Q. How dusty does it ever get here? A. Well, it gets so dusty that the men can't stand it; they come to the air and hang their heads out to get a fresh breath.

Q. Did you ever know of a really bad case where the cement affected the hair? A. No.

Q. Do any of the men have to lay off from work on account of this dust? A. Yes, lots of times the fellows just have to lay off, they get so sick.

Q. How long does it take them to recuperate? A. Oh, in a week or so they get over it.

Q. Do you ever handle plaster paris? A. Yes, but not often.

Q. Do you consider it injurious? A. Yes, about the same as cement, but we don't handle anywhere near so much of it.

Q. Has it any bad effects like cement? A. Well, I don't know about the bad effects, but it makes an awful dust, and it is awful disagreeable.

Q. Would you rather handle cement than plaster? A. Yes, I believe I would.

Q. Is cement and plaster put up in same kind of bags? A. Yes, most always.

Q. How does the plaster dust affect the men? A. Why, the dust burns their eyes so, and dries up the nose.

Q. Are these sacks you are loading today better than ordinary? A. Yes, these are all new sacks; usually we get second-hand sacks which are torn more and leak more dust.

Q. The older a sack gets, does it let out more cement when handling? A. Yes, you see the cement seems to eat the fiber of these jute sacks, and pretty soon it's leaking like everything.

Q. Have you ever had any experience with double sacks—a paper sack with a cloth one on the outside? A. No, we never get those kind here.

Q. You say this is a good class of ship? A. Yes, sir, the best kind.

Q. Better than the ordinary? A. Yes.

Q. Better than the old kind? A. Yes.

Q. What is the old kind like? A. It only has one hatch; this has three.

Q. Even this kind gets dusty down in the hold, doesn't it? A. You bet it does.

Q. Which do you think is the better cement bag, cotton or jute? A. The canvas bag holds up best.

Q. Would you recommend paper bags with cloth outside for all cement? A. From what I know of them, I believe I would.

Q. Is there any difference in box cars? Is there any preference? A. No, they are always the same—always dusty. Sometimes, even with the doors open, a fellow can't see from one end of the car to the other for the dust.

New witness brought before committee. (Hold of Frances E. Leggett.)

Q. What is your name? A. Ed. Alexander.

Q. Are you willing to take an oath? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you solemnly swear to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What is your nationality? A. Scotch.

Q. Are you a citizen of the U. S.? A. Yes.

Q. How long have you worked here? A. I've worked off and on here loading ships for four years.

Q. You load all kinds of ships? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What do you think of this ship? A. This is the best kind, its all open.

Q. You would call this a first-class ship, then? A. Yes.

Q. Not much dust here to bother? A. No, not much.

Q. Does it ever get bad in this ship? A. Yes, when there isn't much wind the air down there just stays still and it's hard to breathe.

Q. Ever laid up? A. Yes, I've had to lay off lots of times.

Q. You think it was due to dust? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How did it affect you? A. Couldn't eat, didn't have any appetite.

Q. Has it produced a cough? A. Yes, especially in the morning, I cough a lot.

Q. You've got a bad-looking nose there; was that caused by cement? A. Yes, the cement gets caught in there and hardens. Lots of times I get cement caught there and have to blow it out in chunks. Sometimes I cough up cement and blood.

Q. Are you sure it was cement? A. Yes, I can see it.

Q. Ever have a doctor about it? A. No.

Q. Cement dust ever affect your ears? A. No.

Q. Do you think it has affected your eyes? A. Well, it makes them red and watery.

Q. As a general rule, is it the opinion that cement affects the eyes? A. No, I don't think so.

Q. You say your sight is failing; how old are you? A. Forty years.

Q. Outside of the irritation of the nose, and the loss of appetite, the dust is not really injurious, is it? A. No, I guess not.

Q. How long did you say you have worked here? A. Four years.

Q. Do you sometimes lose work on account of sickness? A. Yes, I've lost a little now and then.

Q. Does the dust ever choke you? A. You bet; lots of times I have to come out in the air and spit out a lot of cement from my throat and blow it out of my nose. Sometimes I vomit blood, too.

Q. You say you have vomited blood? A. Yes, last Friday night I threw up over a cupful of blood.

Q. Was there any cement in it? A. Yes.

Q. Are you sure, do you remember it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Are there any men laid up now from the effect of cement dust? A. There are some men laying off sick.

Q. Sick from cement? A. I guess so.

Q. Did you ever have a doctor for your trouble? A. No, not for my stomach. I had a doctor when I got my hand cut.

Q. Did the cement hurt your hand any when it was cut? A. Yes, it seemed to poison it. Nights, when I took off the bandage, there would be cement on my hand which had come through the pores of my skin.

Q. Weren't you working in the cement at the time? A. No, I had laid off.

Q. You're sure the cement came through your skin, and not from the outside? A. Yes.

Q. How long since you had worked in cement that time? A. I had laid off for five months.

Q. Did your stomach still trouble you when you were laid off? A. Not all the time, but two months after I had worked in cement, I could still cough it up.

Q. You're sure that you coughed up cement that long after you had worked in it? A. Yes, sir, I saw it.

Q. Do you think that a double sack for cement would eliminate all this dust?

A. Yes.

Q. Some of the ships are dustier than this, aren't they? A. Yes, the littler steamers are bad.

Q. You say your sight is failing and you think it is caused by cement? A. Yes.

Q. What is the general belief among the men regarding the dust-proof sack? A. I don't think they know much about it. We don't handle any here.

Q. The men all believe that the dust hurts them, don't they? A. Yes.

Q. Have you ever heard the men say how it affected them? A. Yes, they say they can't eat. Lots of the fellows go home after a day here and don't eat a bit of supper.

Q. That's a good thing, isn't it? A. Well, it's a saving; I don't know how good it is.

Q. Where do you live? A. In San Francisco, on Sixth street.

Q. Is there any other material you have to deal with that has bad effects? A. Yes, sulphur.

Q. Is that bagged like this? A. Yes.

Q. Handle any plaster-paris? A. No, we don't handle much of it.

Q. Have you anything to say as to effect of its dust? A. No, cannot say anything about it.

Q. Is there another man in this gang who has worked here a long time? A. Yes.

O. Point him out to me.

Witness excused.

Q. What is your name? A. A. R. Sullivan.

Q. Do you solemnly swear to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. A. Yes, sir.

Q. What is your nationality? A. Irish-American.

Q. Where were you born? A. Boston, Massachusetts.

Q. And how long have you worked at this business? A. Fourteen years.

Q. Have you worked on all kinds of ships? A. Yes.

Q. What kind of ship is this? A. This is the best kind, all open.

Q. What is the worst kind, do you think? A. The one with just one hatch.

Q. What is it like when you are loading in a ship with one hatch? A. Sometimes the dust is so thick we can't see at all, hardly.

Q. Is this ship always like this? A. No, when it isn't raining, it is dustier. And there is a wind this afternoon, too.

Q. Does the rain make much change? A. Yes, it keeps down lots of dust.

Q. If the conditions were always like this, would the men care? A. No.

Q. Were you ever laid up? A. Yes, six months once.

Q. What was the trouble? A. Cement lodged in my chest.

Q. How did you know that was what it was? A. Well, I could feel it, and when I breathed then I knew it was cement.

- Q. Have a doctor? A. Yes.
- Q. He treated you for cement on the chest? A. No, he treated me for lumbago.
- Q. Did you or any of the men here ever have pneumonia? A. Not that I know of. I never had it.
- Q. How many men work at this business? A. We have 3,500 in our organization.
- Q. Do they all load cement? A. They do when that is all there is to do. Lots of the fellows just won't do it. No fellow does it unless he has to.
- Q. Why are you working here? A. Well, I have a family, and I have to live.
- Q. What other trouble did you ever notice? A. I don't have much appetite after I've been working in this stuff.
- Q. Do you have chest trouble every time you work in cement? A. Yes, every time.
- Q. And yet you keep it up? A. Well, it's all I can get to do.
- Q. Ever notice any catarrhal condition of your nose? A. Yes.
- Q. Have a doctor for that? A. Yes, the doctor treated me for catarrh before I began to work in cement.
- Q. Did you get over it all right? A. Well, I'm not over it, but it's better.
- Q. Your eyes ever trouble you? A. No.
- Q. How old are you? A. 34.
- Q. As a rule, the men here are generally healthy? A. Yes, most of the time.
- Q. In case you have a sore on your hand, does the cement make it worse? A. Yes, it don't heal up quick.
- Q. There isn't any poison in it, is there? A. No, I don't think so.
- Q. Do you know of anyone being laid up permanently? A. Well, there was one fellow who had an operation on his throat—he just got out of the hospital. I guess he'll be all right, though.
- Q. What was the operation for? A. They took a stone out of his throat.
- Q. Did you see the stone? A. No.
- Q. All you know about it is just hearsay? A. Yes.
- Q. You load sulphur here sometimes, don't you? A. Yes, but that isn't bad. What dust there is irritates my eyes, but you get over it.
- Q. What about plaster-paris? A. We don't get much of that; only two or three times a year.
- Q. Does flour ever go by this ship? A. No.
- Q. You say you have been sick and laid off several times—how much time have you lost in the four years? A. Well, in the four years I expect I've lost about one.
- Q. One what? A. One year, about a quarter of the time.
- Q. Is it the general belief that cement penetrates the system, and comes out through the pores? A. Yes, the fellows believe that.
- Q. Did the doctor tell you that there was cement inside you? A. Yes, he told me to quit this work, not to work in cement any more.
- Q. And you were compelled to come back from necessity? A. Yes.
- Q. Are all the men here compelled to work here from necessity? A. I guess they all are. None of them would work here if they could help it.
- Q. Have the longshoremen any preference? A. I don't know, but they hate to work in cement.
- Q. Did you ever cough up cement independent of blood? A. No, it is in little blood clots. In my nose the same way, too.
- Q. All the men here believe cement dust to be injurious, do they? A. Yes.
- Q. Ever see any men around here spit up blood while they are working? A. No. I don't think so.

Committee in box car loading "Frances Leggett."

- Q. What is your name? A. John C. Watson.
- Q. Do you solemnly swear to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth? A. Yes, sir.
- Q. How old are you? A. Fifty-three.
- Q. How long have you worked at this? A. Seven years.
- Q. Do you always work in the cars? A. No, sometimes I'm down in the hold.
- Q. You have worked in all kinds of ships? A. Yes.
- Q. What do you think is the worst kind? A. Those steam schooners with double gears hoisting into one hatch.
- Q. Why is that the worst kind? A. There is only one hatch, and no ventilation.
- Q. How about this kind of a ship? A. Oh, this is all right—three hatches.
- Q. The dust doesn't have much effect where there are three hatches? A. No.
- Q. How large are the hatches usually? A. On some ships they are small and some are large. On the little ships the hatch is about the size of this car.
- Q. If all ships were the size of this one, and the hatches as big, there would be no complaint? A. No.
- Q. This car is ventilated all right, isn't it, with both doors open? A. This is pretty good—these sacks are new—but sometimes, if you're on this side of the car, you can't see the other end at all.
- Q. That is the way it is with old sacks, is it? A. Yes.
- Q. Is there much difference between the dust of new and old sacks? A. Yes, a lot of difference. The dust from a new sack doesn't amount to much, but an old one is bad.

Q. Were you ever sick from the dust? A. Yes, last year a month and a half I laid off—I had cement in my stomach.

Q. How did you know it? A. Well, I took salt water, and that made me vomit and the cement came up.

Q. How much cement? A. Oh, I guess about a teaspoonful. It was in flat pieces, like my finger nails.

Q. Ever have any trouble with your nose? A. No.

Q. Ever notice catarrhal condition of your head? A. Yes, I had catarrh before I began.

Q. Ever have a doctor for it? A. No.

Q. Ever have sore eyes? A. No, only when its windy.

Q. You ever notice that your eye sight is failing? A. Yes, that's why I have to wear glasses.

Q. What is the effect of the dust on a person's eyes? A. Just about like other dust, it makes them sore sometimes.

Q. Have you noticed any poisonous effect from the cement? A. No.

Q. Any other material you handle have any effect on you? A. Well, sulphur hurts my eyes, but it doesn't last long. We don't handle much sulphur.

Q. Is it not a fact that the strong objection to cement is because so much of it is handled? If you handle the same amount of lime or plaster paris, wouldn't there be the same objection? A. I really don't know. No one likes to handle cement. We don't do it unless we have to.

Q. You say you have been working at this six years? A. Yes, sir.

Q. During that time, what is the longest time you ever handled cement continuously? A. About two weeks.

Q. How much time do you lay off at the end of a job? A. Oh, a few days, or a couple of weeks; until we can get another job.

Q. You handle all sorts of other material? A. Yes.

Q. And how much time do you spend in cement? A. About half the time, I guess.

Q. Then half of all the time you are working you are working in cement, is that it? A. Yes.

Q. Have you ever handled cement put up in double sacks? A. Very little—once we had a few sacks of it.

Q. Was the dust bad then? A. Hardly any dust.

Q. Was there any complaint from these sacks? A. No.

Q. Who was that small shipment for? A. It went to some government job; all government work cement is shipped in double sacks.

Q. How much loss would you say there usually is from a poor sack? A. Oh, a pound and a half to two pounds, in the worst sacks.

Q. Did you ever gather any up from the floor here after the car was empty? A. No.

Q. How much would you say was left on the floor? A. About 100 pounds, I guess.

Q. Ever weigh it? A. No.

Q. Was what was left on the floor from just one broken sack, or from all of them? A. It was from different ones.

Q. And what wages do you get here? A. I get fifty cents an hour.

Q. Fifty cents an hour for eight hours, or for nine? A. For nine. After that I get seventy-five cents an hour.

Q. Is it a fact that no longshoreman will take a job of unloading cement unless it is absolutely necessary? A. Well, I never take it unless I have to, and I guess none of the fellows do.

Q. How much a sack? A. Two and one half cents.

Q. What would be the extra labor cost if you used these sacks inside of cloth sacks? A. I really don't know. Our sacking is done by contract.

Q. What would be the cost per barrel for using these sacks? A. Two cents a barrel more.

Q. Would this paper bag go inside a jute bag easy? A. No, but a bag made for the purpose would.

Q. What would be the cost of a bag made for the purpose? A. They are all the same price.

Q. What would be the cost per day for labor to set this paper bag inside the jute bag? A. It would cost $2 per day per man, but that isn't the way we would do it.

Q. Will you get a hundred of these bags and have your sackers make an estimate of the work if these paper bags are put inside jute bags? A. I couldn't get the paper bags in California; I would have to send East for them.

Q. How do you pay your men? A. By check on the San Francisco bank.

Q. Do you ship any in double sacks? A. No.

Q. How much of your business do you think you would lose? A. Thirty-three and one third per cent.

Q. If all plants in the State were required to pack cement in double sacks to what disadvantage would it place you in this State? A. It would let the Japs in.

Q. What margin does the present tariff allow you? A. Thirty-two cents.

Q. Would the consumers use the same amount in barrels as they do now in sacks? A. There would be no difference.

Q. What would barrels made of wood cost you? A. About 25 cents apiece.

Q. What would metal barrels cost you? A. We got a price on them once at 65 cents apiece; but a metal barrel wouldn't do; they buckle.

Q. Could you get wooden barrels if you tried? A. Yes, from the East. Not long ago I bid on a Mare Island job, and we were beaten by foreign competition.

Q. Is Japanese cement the same quality as American? A. The regulations are met by the mixture.

Q. Would cement be just as near the same price in barrels as in sacks? A. It would be about the same price.

Q. Would the cement cost more at retail in barrels? A. Yes. The freight on barrels would be more. A barrel weighs 25 pounds.

Q. Is the cost for packing four bags in dust-proof containers more than for packing a barrel? A. Yes, it would be more.

Q. What would a 200-pound capacity barrel cost? A. The same as a lime barrel.

Q. How much could you allow back on it each time? A. Fifteen cents, but we would have to patch it up every time.

Q. If you used the dust proof container you would not get back as much cement as you would in your regular sacks, would you? A. No, but that doesn't amount to anything with us.

Q. It costs you more to pack cement in sacks than in barrels? A. Yes.

MOTION.

Mr. Brown moved that the above partial report of the special committee be received, printed in the Journal, and the committee be given further time in which to make a further report.

Motion carried.

By Mr. Alexander:

HOLLISTER, CAL., January 18, 1913.

We, the undersigned fruitgrowers and taxpayers of San Benito County, California, do hereby protest against any such extension of the women's eight-hour law and against the passage of any bill that will tend to operate so as to prevent women or children from working at the fruit-curing and preserving business to such extent daily as they may desire.

H. W. SCOTT (and others).

Also:

SOLEDAD, CAL., March 15, 1913.

To the Legislature of the State of California:

The following resolution was unanimously adopted and a copy of the same ordered sent to the Assemblyman of this district, now at Sacramento:

Resolved. That we, members of the Fort Romie Grange No. 358, Patrons of Husbandry, assembled, enter protest against the enactment of Assembly Bill No. 1620, and in its stead we urge the passage of the Ellis-Butler bill (Senate Bill No. 672, Assembly Bill No. 615) which prohibits the sale of intoxicants within a radius of one and one half miles from any university in the State.

LEE DUDGEON, Master.

JENNIE DUDGEON, Secretary.

Also:

To the Legislature of the State of California:

The petition of the undersigned respectfully represents: That they are citizens and voters of said State, residing in Monterey County, California, and at the places of residence therein set opposite their respective names and within four miles of that certain military reservation known as the Presidio of Monterey;

That they heartily approve of the provisions of Assembly Bill No. 1639, introduced February 3, 1913, by Mr. G. W. Wyllie, entitled "An Act making unlawful the sale or other disposition of alcoholic liquors within a certain distance of any United States or state military or naval reservation with certain exceptions," and do hereby earnestly request its passage by the Assembly and by the Senate of said State of California as speedily as possible.

SOLEDAD, CAL., March 15, 1913.

To the Legislature of the State of California:

The following resolution was unanimously adopted and a copy of the same ordered sent to the Assemblyman from this district, now at Sacramento:

Resolved, That we, members of the Fort Romie Grange No. 358, Patrons of Husbandry, assembled, favor the passage of a bill which will prohibit the sale of alcoholic beverage within a radius of four miles of an army post or naval station in this State, except such as are located in cities of the first class; it is also

LEE DUDGEON, Master.

JENNIE DUDGEON, Secretary.

By Mr. Cary:

To the Legislature of the State of California, Fortieth Session:

We, the undersigned women and girls, who work, and those interested in the harvesting, curing, canning, drying or packing of perishable fruits, do hereby protest against any legislation limiting the number of hours which we may work. Such legislation deprives us of the opportunity of healthful, congenial work at good wages. It also tends to take the work away from us and to give it to Orientals. It will also work irreparable injury to the entire fruit industry of the State of California.

We respectfully submit that the present eight hour law for women is sufficient, and hereby petition you to leave that law as it now is.

MRS. L. R. PAYTON (and others).

By Mr. Gabbert.

GENTLEMEN: The undersigned, voters of Ventura County, California, hereby petition you to enact the Anderson-Moorhouse measure (Senate Bill No. 1647, Assembly Bill No. 1865), providing for such amendment of the Wyllie local option law as will make the county, including cities and towns having a population of less than 5000, a unit for elections under said local option law.

Believing that the enactment of this measure would promote the best interests of the people, we respectfully present this petition.

H. C. BUELL (and others).

By Mr. Guiberson:

HANFORD, CAL., February 12, 1913.

At a regular meeting of the directors of the Kings County Chamber of Commerce held on the above date the following resolution was introduced and unanimously adopted.

WHEREAS, Bills have been introduced in the Assembly of California affecting the interests of fruit growers, packers and shippers of green fruit and all persons interested in the handling of green and perishable fruits; and

WHEREAS, Said bills are more particularly known as Assembly Bills Nos. 858 and 1511, these two bills relating to the limiting of the working hours of women and girls in cutting sheds and packing-houses to eight hours a day while working with fresh and perishable fruits and vegetables; and

WHEREAS, The directors of the Kings County Chamber of Commerce have received a report from a committee appointed to investigate the sentiment of the fruit growers, packers, and women engaged in the work of handling fresh and perishable fruits and vegetables, said committee reporting that in their investigations they find it is the unanimous opinion of all parties interested in the growing and handling of green fruits in this county that such legislation as proposed in Assembly Bills Nos. 858 and 1511 is detrimental to the best interests of the fruit growers and will work a hardship on the women and girls employed in handling such fruits; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the directors of the Kings County Chamber of Commerce, believe that it will be detrimental to the best interests of the fruit industry of this country to have such bills enacted into a law; and be it further

Resolved, That we are emphatically opposed to the passage of any law revising or amending the present eight-hour law relating to work in the cutting sheds or packing houses and other places where green and perishable fruits are handled; and be it further

Resolved, That we urge our Representative and Senator to oppose the passage of any bill proposing to revise, amend or change the present eight-hour law that relates to the working hours in fruit cutting sheds, packing houses and canneries, and that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to Hon. E. O. Larkins, Senator, and Hon. J. W. Guiberson, Assemblyman from this district.

WHEREAS, The counties committee on resolutions reported a resolution to the counties convention assembled in Oroville, December 6 and 7, 1912, endorsing a larger State Fair; and

WHEREAS, The present Constitution of the State of California requires the continuance for local purposes of the general property tax system, which grows more and more burdensome to our communities while still failing to provide adequate public funds, and

WHEREAS, Certain features of the general property tax are being abandoned, to great public advantage, by many communities in Canada and other countries where home rule in taxation is permitted;

Resolved, That we urge the submission to our voters of Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 7, which would allow such localities of California as should desire to improve their method of local taxation to avail themselves of the best knowledge and the most successful experiments in this department of public administration.

Endorsed by the Laurel Grove Improvement Club.

WHEREAS, The plan of raising local revenue by the general property tax, as now expressly required by the Constitution of California, is generally admitted to be difficult, expensive and burdensome; and

WHEREAS, We, as a club and as individuals, have given considerable attention to various changes in the general property tax system, which have been successfully adopted in countries outside the United States, and notably in the west Canadian provinces, which changes we believe to be just and based on sound economic principles;

Resolved, That we favor, and urge upon our representatives in the Legislature, the submission to our voters for their action of Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 7, which, if approved, will permit California cities and counties to adopt by referendum vote the same or other desired changes in our mode of assessing property for local taxation.

On the day fixed for the sale the board of public works must, at the hour of 10 o'clock a.m., commence the sale of the property advertised, commencing at the head of the list, and continuing in the numerical order of lots or parcels of land until all are sold; provided, that the board of public works may postpone or continue the sale from day to day until the property is sold. Each lot, piece or parcel of land separately assessed must be offered for sale separately, and the person who will take the least quantity of land, and then and there pay the amount of the assessment, penalty and costs due, including fifty cents to the board of public works for a certification of sale, shall become the purchaser. In case there is no purchaser, for any lot, piece or parcel of land so offered for sale, the same shall be struck off to the said city and county of San Francisco, as purchaser, and the board of supervisors shall appropriate out of the general fund of the treasury, the amount then due against the lot, piece or parcel of land, and shall order the county treasurer to place the same in the special fund for such improvement. No charge shall be made for the certificate of sale when the said city and county of San Francisco is the purchaser.

4th. After making the sale, the board of public works must execute, in duplicate, a certificate of sale setting forth a description of the property sold, the name of the owner thereof, as given on the assessment roll, that said property was sold for a delinquent assessment (specifying the improvement for which the same was made), the amount for which such property was sold, the date of sale, the name of the purchaser, and the time when the purchaser will be entitled to a deed. The board of public works must file one copy of such certificate in its office and deliver the other to the purchaser, or if the said city and county of San Francisco is the purchaser, to the clerk of the board of supervisors, who shall file the same in his office. On the filing of the copy of such certificate in the office of the board of public works, the lien of the assessment shall vest in the purchaser and is only divested by a redemption of the property, as in this Act provided. The board of public works shall also enter on the assessment roll, opposite the description of each piece of property offered for sale, a description of the part thereof sold, the amount for which the same was sold, the date of the sale, and the name of the purchaser.

5th. A redemption of any parcel of property sold for delinquent assessment may be made by any party in interest, at any time prior to the execution and delivery of a deed therefor, by paying to the board of public works the amount for which the property was sold, and in addition thereto, ten per cent thereon if paid within three months after the date of the sale; twenty per cent if paid within six months; thirty per cent if paid within nine months; forty per cent if paid within twelve months, or fifty per cent if paid at any time after twelve months. When redemption is made, the board of public works shall note that fact on the duplicate certificate of sale on file in its office, and deposit the amount paid with the county treasurer, who shall credit the purchaser named in the certificate of sale with the said amount and pay the same to such purchaser, or his assignee, upon the surrender of the certificate of sale, and upon satisfactory proof of assignment thereof, if any. When the said city and county of San Francisco is the purchaser, the county treasurer shall notify the clerk of the board of supervisors of the redemptions, and such clerk shall thereupon cancel the certificate of sale on file in his office.

6th. At any time after the expiration of twelve months from the date of the sale, the board of public works must execute to the purchaser, or his assignee, on his application, if such purchaser or assignee has complied with the provisions of this section, a deed of the property sold, in which shall be recited substantially the matters contained in the certificate, also any assignment thereof, and the fact that no person has redeemed the property. The board of public works shall receive from the applicant for the deed, one dollar for making such deed, unless the said city and county of San Francisco is the purchaser, in which case no charge shall be made therefor.

7th. The deed of the board of public works shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of all matters recited therein and of the regularity of all proceedings hereunder prior to the execution thereof, and of title in the grantee. It shall be conclusive evidence of the necessity of taking or damaging the lands taken or damaged, and of the necessity of the improvement and work and of the correctness of the compensation awarded for lands taken or damaged.

8th. The board of public works shall from time to time, pay over to the county treasurer all moneys collected by the board on account of any assessments made under the provisions hereof. The county treasurer shall on receipt thereof, place the same in a special fund, designating such fund by the name of the street, avenue, square, lane, alley, court or place for the widening, opening or other improvements for which the assessment was made. Payment shall be made from said fund to the parties entitled thereto upon warrants signed by the members of the board of public works. With respect to all matters provided for or prescribed by this section to be done or performed by said board of public works, the majority of said board may act.

Charter Amendment No. 19.

That Chapter VIII of Article VI be amended so as to read as follows:

CHAPTER VIII.

TUNNELS, SUBWAYS AND VIADUCTS.

Section 1. The board of supervisors are hereby empowered to order the construction of and construct any tunnel, subway or viaduct in, on, under or over any accepted or unaccepted open public street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court within the city and county, or any other land of the city and county, or in, on, under or over any land or water in which and where the city and county may then have an easement or right of way therefor, and to levy the damages, cost and expenses thereof upon private property in the manner and under the procedure and powers in Chapter II of this article provided for street work and street improvement. Said method of procedure shall not be deemed exclusive, but the board of supervisors may, by an affirmative vote of at least twelve of its members, adopt an ordinance which may from time to time be revised or amended, providing a method of procedure for such improvement, work and assessment and for the ascertainment and payment of damages and for the manner in which protests against such assessments and damages awarded may be heard and determined, and for the manner in which such assessment may be collected and paid and property delinquent thereunder may be sold, and for the procedure for fully and completely exercising the powers conferred in this section; and in such ordinance, if said board deems it expedient, provision may be made for the payment of any assessment levied in pursuance of the provisions thereof in annual installments covering a term not to exceed ten years upon such conditions as to the said board may seem reasonable and just, the rate of interest to be paid on such payments not to exceed seven per cent per annum.

Section 2. The board of supervisors are hereby empowered to authorize the acquisition, by purchase or condemnation and to acquire by purchase, or to condemn and acquire, any and all land, or any easement or right of way therein, thereon, thereunder or thereover, and any property necessary and convenient for any purpose mentioned in Section 1 of this chapter, and to levy the damages, costs and expenses thereof upon private property, in the manner and under the procedure and powers in Chapter III of this article provided, for the opening, extending, straightening and closing up, in whole or in part, of any street, avenue, lane, alley, court or place. But said method of procedure shall not be deemed exclusive, but the board of supervisors may by an affirmative vote of at least twelve of its members, adopt an ordinance, which may from time to time be revised or amended, providing a method of procedure for such acquisition and for the ascertainment and payment of damages and for the manner in which protests against such assessments and damages awarded may be heard and determined, and for the manner in which such assessment may be collected and paid and property delinquent thereunder may be sold, and for the procedure for fully and completely exercising the powers conferred in this section; and in such ordinance, if said board deems it expedient, provision may be made for the payment of any assessment levied in pursuance of the provisions thereof in annual installments covering a term not to exceed ten years upon such conditions as to the said board may seem reasonable and just, the rate of interest to be paid on such payment not to exceed seven per cent per annum. Lands or property which the supervisors deem necessary to take the place of such portion of the street or streets as may be used in the construction of the tunnel, including its portals and approaches, and to restore to the street surface travel thereon are hereby declared to be necessary and convenient lands or property for the purposes mentioned in Section 1.

Section 3. If the board of supervisors deems it expedient, the construction and acquisition mentioned in Sections 1 and 2 of this chapter may be initiated and completed in one proceeding; and in exercising the power to provide by ordinance for methods of procedure hereinbefore provided for such ordinance may provide for a single procedure for the work mentioned in Section 1 and the acquisition mentioned in Section 2 of this chapter. Any existing ordinance providing a method of procedure for the work mentioned in Section 1 of this chapter may be amended so that it may also provide a method of procedure for the acquisition mentioned in Section 2 of this chapter. But the supervisors may, in any case, determine to proceed with the work mentioned in Section 1 hereof and with the acquisition mentioned in Section 2 hereof in separate proceedings.

Section 4. The board of supervisors may, in its discretion, order that the whole or any part of the costs and expenses of any of the work or acquisitions in Section 1 and 2 of this chapter mentioned, or the damages resulting therefrom, be paid out of the treasury of the city and county from such funds as the board of supervisors may designate. Such discretion may be exercised by the board of supervisors at any time prior to the time of making an assessment therefor. Whenever a part of such damages, cost or expense is so ordered to be paid, before the making of an assessment therefor, the board of public works, in making up the assessment providing for such damages, cost or expense, shall first deduct from the whole damages, cost and expense such part thereof as has been ordered to be paid out of the municipal treasury and shall assess the remainder proportionately upon the lots, parts of lots, and lands in the assessment district or districts liable to be assessed therefor.

Section 5. No person, firm or corporation shall ever be granted the exclusive right to operate a street or other railroad through, in or under any tunnel, subway or viaduct constructed or acquired under the provisions of this chapter. Two or more lines of street railways operated under different managements may use the same tunnel, subway or viaduct for the entire length thereof and for five consecutive blocks approaching each end thereof, each management paying an equal portion of the expense for the construction, maintenance and repairs of the tracks and appurtenances used by said railways jointly. The city and county in the operation of a municipal railway may use any such tunnel, subway or viaduct either singly or jointly with any privately operated railway for the entire length thereof and for any number of blocks approaching each end thereof; and in case of joint use of tracks shall pay an equal portion of the expense for the construction, maintenance and repairs of the tracks and appurtenances used by said railways jointly.

Section 6. Two or more tunnels to be constructed in pursuance of one general plan may be so constructed under one proceeding and any or all acquisitions or condemnations of lands or easements or rights of way therein and any property necessary and convenient for the same may be acquired or condemned in the same proceedings and the property benefited may be assessed for the costs, damages and expenses thereof according to the benefit from such general plan.

Charter Amendment No. 20.

That Section 33 of Chapter II of Article VI be amended to read as follows:

Section 33. The method of procedure in this article provided for the improvement of streets, or for the construction of tunnels, subways or viaducts and appurtenances thereto, and for the assessment of the expense thereof or any portion of such expense upon private property shall not be deemed exclusive, but the board of supervisors by an affirmative vote of not less than two thirds of the members thereof, may by ordinance substitute therefor any method of procedure in any general law of the State of California now in force and effect, or as the same may be amended or that may hereafter be enacted, providing for any such improvements in municipalities, and levying assessments for the expense or portion thereof upon private property; or the said board may by a like affirmative vote of the members thereof, adopt an ordinance which may from time to time be revised or amended, providing a method of procedure for such improvement and assessment; and in such ordinance if said board deems it expedient, provision may be made for the payment of any assessment levied in pursuance of the provisions thereof in annual installments covering a term not to exceed ten years upon conditions as to said board may seem reasonable and just, the rate of interest to be paid on such payments not to exceed seven per cent per annum. In any proceeding for the improvement of streets wherein provision is made for the payment of any assessment in annual installments, the amount of such assessment shall not be limited by the provisions contained in Subdivision 3 of Section 8 of this chapter.

To authorize such indebtedness the supervisors shall adopt a resolution declaring the necessity therefor and at any time thereafter may call an election for the purpose of submitting to the electors the proposition of authorizing the issuance of bonds and the incurring of the indebtedness. Such election may be held at the same time as any other election, or otherwise, as the supervisors may determine, but if held at the same time as is a general state or municipal election, separate ballots may be used and the paper on which the ballots are printed shall be distinctively different from that used for the election of officers. The principal and interest on such bonds may be paid from the fund herein provided for or as other bonds of the city and county are redeemed and paid in the discretion of the supervisors. The full faith and credit of the city and county shall be pledged for the punctual payment of the principal and interest. Such indebtedness shall be no part of the debt limited by Section 9 of Article XII of the charter. The maximum rate of interest shall not exceed five per centum per annum and the principal shall be payable at any time after ten years and within twenty years from their date, as may be determined by the board of supervisors. If more than two thirds of the voters voting at such election shall vote in favor of the incurring of the indebtedness, then such bonds may be issued as herein provided. The bonds so authorized shall be sold in such amounts and at such times as the supervisors may direct and the proceeds arising from such sale shall be placed in a special fund known as the public work revolving fund. The moneys in such fund shall be used to pay the cost of any public improvement, the cost of which (or any portion thereof) has been or may be assessed against private property benefited thereby, or may be used to pay the principal or interest on the bonds issued as herein provided. All sums paid on account of such assessments shall be placed to the credit of such fund. Interest shall be charged on all such assessments at the rate of six per centum per annum, from the date of the acceptance of the work for the payment of which the assessments were imposed. Such assessments when exceeding $25 may be paid in not more than ten annual installments. The supervisors shall, by proper legislation provide for the carrying into effect the provisions of this section.

EXPLANATIONS OF VOTE.

The following explanations of vote were sent to the desk and ordered printed in the Journal:

MR. SPEAKER: In voting as I did upon Assembly Bill No. 353, commonly known as the "red light" injunction and abatement bill, I acted conscientiously in the belief that the passage of the bill will not only not cure the social evil, but will render it even more intolerable than it now is.

I believe that all of the good women who overwhelmed the members of the Assembly with requests to support the bill, did so with the best of motives, but absolutely without knowledge either of the bill itself or of the subject of which it treats.

If I believed that the bill would even mitigate the social evil, I should be the first to support it, but honestly believing, as I do, that it would aggravate it, I could not without offending my own conscience vote for its passage.

W. A. SUTHERLAND.

MR. SPEAKER: I wish to explain my vote on Assembly Bill 353, known as the "red light" injunction bill. It provides for the confiscation of property, and does not provide any means of support for those deprived of their property until they can gain a livelihood in some other calling. It is a very difficult proposition for one who has fallen, as these women have, to get employment in homes—or any place else, for that matter—and to deprive them of their property and other means of support without providing them with even subsistence, robs the bill of humanitarian consideration without accomplishing the end arrived at.

PETITIONS.

By Mr. Killingsworth:

To the Legislature of the State of California.

GENTLEMEN: We, the undersigned, residents of the city of Benicia and citizens of the State of California, respectfully solicit your earnest endeavor to defeat Assembly Bill No. 1639, for the following reasons:

That the enactment of said proposed law would result in great damage to the citizens of this city; would depreciate in value a large amount of real estate and personal property, and would result in depriving this city of a large portion of its income, with which we expected to meet our large bonded indebtedness, which was incurred upon the basis of the income existing at the time the debt was contracted and which now exists.

The enactment of this bill into law would deprive us of the income anticipated and relied upon to meet our obligations and would compel the city to levy a direct tax on the people already burdened to the limit.

F. W. QUINN (and others).

Also:

Resolution adopted by Captain Charles Young Camp No. 6, United Spanish War Veterans, Vallejo, California, relative to bills before the State Legislature to empower school directors to establish separate free schools for negro children.

WHEREAS, Bills are pending before the Legislature of the State of California to give to the governing body of any school district power to establish separate schools for negro children; and

WHEREAS, Any law that gives to school directors power to establish separate schools for negro children will cause friction between the races and between the members of each race who favor the establishing of separate schools and those opposed to such schools, thereby disturbing the peace and quietness of each community wherein separate schools are suggested; and

WHEREAS, The number of negro children in this State is so small and widely scattered that separate schools will compel them to assemble in one-room school houses, instead of the thoroughly equipped and highly efficient schools of to-day; or necessitate conveying our children long distances to and from school, which will not only be an expense that we are unable to meet, but will endanger the health and lives of our children as well; and

WHEREAS, Negroes of California are citizens of this State, and, as such, are justly entitled to the rights and privileges of her public institutions, and any legislation that will deprive them of the exercise of that right and privilege is unjust, unreasonable and detrimental to our future development and advancement and the welfare of the communities in which we are compelled to reside; therefore, be it

Resolved, That Captain Charles Young Camp No. 6, United Spanish War Veterans, of Vallejo, California, in the interest of justice, fair play, equal advantages and the development and advancement of the very best that there is in the negro, do hereby petition the Legislature of the State of California and individual members thereof to withhold approval from said bill; and be it further

Resolved, That Comrade E. U. Moore be and is hereby appointed a committee of one to place this resolution before the Legislature of this State.

By order of Captain Charles Young Camp No. 6, U. S. W. V.

JAMES M. OWENS, Camp Commander.

ALBERT SMITH, Camp Adjutant.

By Mr. Speaker:

To the Legislature of the State of California:

The undersigned, secretary of the Woman's Board of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, hereby certifies that at a meeting of the board of directors of the Woman's Board of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, held at its regular place of business in the city and county of San Francisco on this, Thursday, the 20th day of March, 1913, the following preamble and resolutions were regularly introduced, duly seconded and unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, The Woman's Board of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition is a representative organization composed entirely of women of the State of California, united to further the interests of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition to be held in San Francisco in the year 1915;

WHEREAS, There are now pending before the Legislature of the State of California certain proposed bills having for their object the prohibition of the sale of malt, vinous or distilled liquors in every form;

WHEREAS, The nations of the earth have been invited by the President of the United States to participate in the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, and many nations and their peoples have signified their intention of participating in said exposition;

WHEREAS, The State of California and the city and county of San Francisco have been honored by being designated by the Congress of the United States as the hosts of the nations and the peoples of the earth;

WHEREAS, In reliance upon the hospitality of the State of California in visiting and participating in the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, the peoples and nations of the earth will rightfully expect that the personal liberties which they enjoy in their respective homes and home countries will not be interfered with by their hosts, insofar as their personal habits are not offensive to those rules of morality recognized in common by all nations;

WHEREAS, We are assured by the directors of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition that it is proposed that no liquor be sold to minors, and that no saloon or bar be maintained within the site of the exposition, but that the concessionaries be permitted to serve malted liquors and wines at cafes and restaurants;

WHEREAS, Being conversant with the rules and regulations safeguarding the conventions and decencies recognized as proper standards by all right-thinking people, which have been incorporated in the contracts governing all concessions, and being confident of the enforcement of the same by the directors of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition and by the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Commission of the State of California, thereby ensuring seemly behavior and morality in all departments; and feeling for the aforesaid reasons justified in bespeaking the confidence of the State that its dignity will be upheld by those responsible for the conduct of the exposition during the term of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Governor and the Legislature of California be and they are hereby petitioned not to pass or give approval to any measure the effect of which will be to prohibit the sale of liquors within the site selected for the holding of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing preamble and resolutions be certified by the secretary of the Woman's Board of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, and a copy thereof, so certified, be sent to the Governor of the State of California, to the President of the Senate and to the Speaker of the Assembly of the Legislature of the State of California, now assembled in its fortieth session.

PETITIONS.

The following petitions were received, and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mr. Bohnett:

Resolved, That the Willows Reading and Improvement Club of San Jose does hereby endorse the Flint-Cary bill to prohibit the sale of wild game, and urges its passage by the California Legislature, as an important measure for the conservation of wild life.

Resolved, That the Willows Reading and Improvement Club of San Jose does hereby petition the members of the California Legislature to actively oppose the passage of measures which would remove protection from any of the present non-game birds, especially any laws which place robins, meadowlarks, and blackbirds on the game list.

By Mr. Johnson:

WHEREAS, The State Legislature has under consideration certain bills aimed now at the removal of San Francisco cemeteries, said legislation if enacted would establish a precedent for scheming real estate exploiters in every city and town in the State; and

WHEREAS, Said proposed legislation is opposed to the very principle upon which our government is founded, to wit: the taking of property without permission of the owner, and not in the exercise of the right of public domain, and without due compensation or process of law; and

WHEREAS, This violation of justice would be perpetrated not because "the dead are crowding the living," but that the ambitions of certain investors, whose greed would forever deny a permanent resting place for the dead, might be satisfied; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we are unalterably opposed to all cemetery bills now pending and do hereby petition the State Legislature to refuse to enact any of these bills.

UPLAND WOMAN'S CLUB.

MAE E. CABLE, President.

BERTHA WATSON, Corresponding Secretary.

By Mr. Murray:

To the Legislature of the State of California:

We, the undersigned, hereby protest against Senate Bill No. 905, which launches the State of California into the insurance business.

We believe such a bill will work a hardship on employers of labor and eventually be ruinous and disastrous. We, therefore, request that you vote against this proposed measure and use your influence to defeat same.

(Signed) W. R. SWAN.

Cashier The Rideout Bank.

Also:

WHEREAS, There has been introduced at the present session of the State Legislature bills (Senate No. 466 and Assembly No. 858) limiting the daily hours of labor for women to eight; and

WHEREAS, The passage of such bill will work hardship, wrong and great financial loss to the fruit growers, packers and canners of the State of California, and especially to the women who depend upon employment in the fruit and canning industries for such of their livelihood; and

WHEREAS, The passage of this bill will be of benefit only to the Oriental population of this State, who will succeed to the work of the women when the latter are barred from employment in the orchards, packing houses and canneries; and

WHEREAS, The passage of said bill will greatly add to the expense of hospital and surgical and medical attendance and services, by necessitating the employment of three eight-hour shifts of female nurses and other employees of the hospitals, physicians and surgeons; therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Merchants' Association of Woodland that said bills (Senate No. 466, and Assembly No. 858) are harmful, unjust and foolish, and that same should not be passed; and

Resolved, That vigorous protest should be made by the entire State against this measure, which will rob the women for the benefit of the Japs, Chinese and Hindus; and

Resolved, That the president and secretary of this association be instructed to send a copy of these resolutions to the Senators and Assemblymen representing this district, protesting against said bill, and urging that same be not passed.

T. S. SPAULDING, President.

JAMES C. HARE, Secretary.

To the Legislature of the State of California:

For the protection of the dairy industry, we respectfully request your support and vote for the following bills: Assembly Bill No. 535, Guiberson, and Senate Bill No. 570, Cogswell; Assembly Bill No. 536, Guiberson, and Senate Bill No. 569, Cogswell; Assembly Bill No. 537, Guiberson, and Senate Bill No. 572, Cogswell; Assembly Bill No. 538, Guiberson, and Senate Bill No. 571, Cogswell.

Would also ask you to use your influence in defeating the following bills, which are injurious, and several ruinous to the dairyman: Assembly Bill No. 575, Inman; Assembly Bill No. 573, Inman, and Senate Bill No. 757, Finn; Assembly Bill No. 663, Richardson, and Senate Bill No. 566, Regan; Assembly Bill No. 232, McDonald; Assembly Bill No. 241, Benedict; Assembly Bill No. 493, Walsh; Assembly Bill No. 31, Kingsley.

The labor question at the present time is almost unbearable for the dairyman, and it would be out of the question to employ an extra crew for one day in the week.

Very respectfully yours,

A. W. MORRIS & SONS CORP.

Charter Amendment Number One.

That Subdivision (7) of Section 2 of Article I of the charter be amended to read as follows:

(7) To acquire by purchase, condemnation, lease, gift or otherwise, or to construct, extend, maintain and operate within or without the city limits, any and all plants and property necessary or convenient for furnishing the city and its inhabitants, or other municipal corporations or territory outside the city, and the inhabitants thereof, with transportation, communication, telephones, telephone service or connections, terminal facilities, water, light, heat, power, refrigeration, storage, or any other public service; to sell the products or service of any such utility, and to acquire lands, rights and property necessary or convenient for furnishing such products or service; and for the purpose of such acquisition, construction, extension, maintenance or operation of any such public utility or service, the city shall have power to do any, all, or any number of the following:

(a) To acquire any such utility subject to outstanding bonds against the same, in an amount not to exceed the total price or consideration at which the city shall acquire such utility.

(b) To issue, without regard to the debt limit, bonds in an amount not to exceed the total price or consideration at which the city shall acquire any utility, such bonds to be a lien upon the property of such utility alone and the city otherwise not to be liable on account thereof; and to grant a security franchise for the operation of such utility in case of default in the payment of such bonds.

(c) To issue bonds against its general credit within the debt limit prescribed by law; but whenever such public utility shall, upon application by the city, be determined by the Railroad Commission of the State of California to be self-sustaining, then the bonds so issued may by ordinance approved by a majority of the voters voting thereon at an election, be excluded from the debt limit.

(d) To enter into a contract with the owner of any public utility held or operated under franchise rights acquired prior to the adoption of this charter, by the terms of which contract the city may acquire an option or right to purchase, upon such notice as may be prescribed in such contract, or may agree to purchase all or any part of the property of such utility, upon paying therefor a price to be fixed in accordance with the terms of the contract. Such contract may provide that the city may acquire the utility subject to all or any portion of the outstanding indebtedness against the same, within the limitations above prescribed, but no such contract shall be valid until it is approved by a majority of the qualified electors of the city voting thereon at an election. The financial obligation assumed by the city under any such contract shall not be subject to the debt limitation until the purchase is actually consummated, and then may be exempted by ordinance, approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon at an election, from such limitation, if the State Railroad Commission shall determine that the utility is self-sustaining. The provisions of the contract in this paragraph (d) mentioned need not include any, and the sale contract shall not be subject, as to the price to be paid thereunder, to any limitation prescribed in Section 2 of this charter, of which section this paragraph (d) is a part. Nothing in any such contract contained shall operate to extend the term of any franchise of any utility therein mentioned.

(c) To acquire all necessary land, rights and property, either within or without the city limits, or both within and without such limits.

No public utility, plant or property owned by the city, except as herein otherwise provided, shall ever be leased for private operation for a longer period than ten years.

That Subdivision (8) of Section 2 of Article I of the charter be amended to read as follows:

(8) To provide for supplying surplus water, gas or electricity belonging to the city, or the surplus product or service of any public utility conducted or operated by the city, to other municipal corporations, and to consumers and users outside of the city limits; provided, that the supplying or distribution of water, light or power, for use outside of the city, as aforesaid, shall, in every case, be subject to the paramount right of the city at any time to discontinue the same, in whole or in part, and to take and hold, or to distribute such water, light and power, or either thereof, for the use of the city and its inhabitants.

Charter Amendment Number Two.

That Subdivision (30) of Section 2, Article I of the charter be amended to read as follows:

(30) To fix the rates to be charged and collected by any person, firm or corporation for water, gas, heat, light, power, refrigeration, storage, telephones, telephone service, or telephone connections, or the conveyance of passengers or freight by means of ferries, street or interurban railway cars, hacks, cabs, or other cars or vehicles for hire, or for the products of or service by any other public utility operated or conducted within the city limits; and to regulate and prescribe the extent, character and quality of any public utility service and the method of and charges for making connections with the property of patrons and consumers; to regulate the construction and operation of works or plants for the production, transmission or distribution of such service, and the works or plants of any other public utility; to prescribe, regulate and control the systems of account of any such public utility; to require the construction, operation and maintenance of extensions necessary for the accommodation of the public and the development of the city, or to acquire or construct such extensions, or cause the same to be constructed; and require the owner or operator of any such utility to operate or use such extensions, and to have and exercise all powers necessary or convenient for the complete supervision, control and regulation of all public utilities and public utility service in the city, including all powers of control and regulation respecting the same vested in the city at the time of the approval hereof by the Legislature, or thereafter.

That Subdivision (40) of Section 2, Article I of the charter be amended to read as follows:

(40) To grant franchises, permits, or privileges for the construction and operation of plants necessary or convenient for furnishing the city and its inhabitants with transportation, communication, terminal facilities, water, light, heat, power, refrigeration, storage, or any other public service; to prescribe the terms and conditions of any such grant, and to prescribe by ordinance, approved by a vote of the people, the method of procedure for making such grants; subject, however, to the limitations elsewhere contained in this charter. No such grant, unless otherwise provided in this charter shall be made for a period exceeding twenty-one years. No grant for an extension of an existing utility shall be made for a period beyond the expiration of the franchise under which such utility or the portion of the utility with which such extension is to be connected, is held or operated, nor in any case for a period longer than twenty-one years. The city may by ordinance, upon the expiration of any franchise for a fixed or limited term, grant a renewal thereof for a period not to exceed three years in any one renewal, which renewal shall be terminable upon one year's written notice by the city. Such renewal shall not obligate the city in any manner over and above the obligations assumed by the city in the original franchise. Any such renewal may be succeeded by a similar renewal, but the sum total of such renewals on any given franchise shall not exceed twenty-one years.

Except as otherwise in this charter provided, every franchise, permit or privilege for the construction, extension or operation of a public utility shall reserve to the city the right to purchase the property of such utility, or find a purchaser therefor, after a period not exceeding five years from the date of the grant, upon one year's written notice, either at an agreed price or at a price to be determined in a manner prescribed in the grant. In fixing in any franchise the price to be paid by the city for any utility no allowance shall be made for franchise value, good will, going concern, earning power, increased cost of reproduction or increased value of right of way. All such grants, including grants of extension, shall be by ordinance subject to the referendary provisions of this charter.

That Subdivision (43) of Section 2, Article I of the charter be amended to read as follows:

(43) To grant franchises to cross public streets or ways for street, interurban or other railroads operated on or suspended from elevated structures or through subways on private rights of way for a period not to exceed forty years subject to the right of the city to purchase all or any part of the property of such utility, whether inside or outside the city limits, or both, or find a purchaser therefor, at the end of the period of such grant, upon the terms and conditions specified in the franchise; but in no such case shall any payment be made on account of franchise value, good will, going concern, earning power, increased cost of reproduction or increased value of right of way. If the city shall fail to exercise its option of purchasing the property of such utility at the end of the period of such grant, then the franchise, if it shall contain a provision for purchase by the city, shall be renewed for a period not to exceed ten years. Such renewals shall be subject to the right of the city to purchase the property of the utility at any time upon two years' notice, upon the same terms provided in the original franchise. No franchise for an elevated structure or subway shall be granted in or along any street or way in a longitudinal direction, either above or below the surface thereof, and every right so granted to cross any public street or way shall be subject to the right of the city to regulate the crossings of subways or elevated roads; and every ordinance making such a grant shall reserve to the city, for municipal subways or municipal elevated roads, its choice of levels, or grades, such choice to be made therein and such ordinance shall require that privately owned subways or elevated roads be so constructed as not to interfere with the levels for municipal subways or municipal elevated roads so chosen and reserved, or with the operation of municipal lines upon such levels.

Any franchise for a subway to cross either Hill, Broadway, Spring or Main streets, shall reserve, at the crossing points on said streets, to the city, the upper subway level for municipal subways and other municipal purposes, and shall grant only the second or lower subway level at such crossing points.

No franchise for a subway shall require the city, in the event of its purchasing such subway, to take surface property or pay for surface values.

Charter Amendment Number Three.

That Subdivision (33) of Section 2, Article I of the charter be amended to read as follows:

(33) To provide the places at which elections shall be held, to appoint the officers of election, to provide regulations for the purity of elections, including limitations upon the amounts of money that may be expended in connection with elections, and the purposes for which money may be so expended.

SEC. 183. (a) It shall be unlawful to grant, sell, convey, alienate, transfer or otherwise dispose of, except as hereinafter provided, any part of, or any interest in, the water front, tide lands, submerged lands, or appurtenances thereunto belonging, owned, possessed, controlled or held by the city of Los Angeles; provided, that grants of such lands may be made to the State of California or to the United States for public purposes, when authorized by a majority of the qualified voters of the city, voting upon the question of authorizing any such grant at an election; and provided, further, that whenever the city of Los Angeles shall have acquired the ownership, title, control and possession of more than ten thousand feet, linear measurement, of water frontage, of Los Angeles harbor, measured along the harbor lines, as now or hereafter established by the United States or the city of Los Angeles, and of the coterminous and adjacent tide and submerged lands upon the water front, as fixed by such harbor lines upon the navigable waters of Los Angeles harbor, but not including water frontage upon any island, or breakwater, nor any water frontage created by the construction of channels by any person, firm or corporation other than the United States, the board of harbor commissioners may grant to any persons, firms or corporations franchises, permits, and warehouse or other privileges to use the water frontage in excess of said ten thousand feet, for purposes in aid of navigation, commerce and fishery, together with the adjacent and coterminous tide or submerged lands necessary for such purposes, for periods not exceeding thirty years; and provided, further, that whenever it shall be determined by the city of Los Angeles, by ordinance or by other proper legal authority, that any part of the tide or submerged lands of Los Angeles harbor may not be required for public use, by reason of their remoteness from the harbor lines, as now or hereafter established, or otherwise, the board of harbor commissioners may grant leases of such tide or submerged lands in excess of the tide and submerged lands adjacent and coterminous to the aforesaid ten thousand feet, for periods not exceeding thirty years and for purposes consistent with the trusts upon which said lands are held by the city of Los Angeles and with the requirements of commerce, navigation or fishery at said harbor. Such franchises, leases, privileges and permits shall be granted subject to such terms and conditions as may be prescribed therein, and to the limitations, conditions, restrictions and reservations in this section contained, but no such franchise, lease, privilege or permit shall be valid or binding upon the city until the same is approved by the council by ordinance.

(b) The board of harbor commissioners shall not grant to any one person, firm or corporation franchises, leases, privileges, permits or licenses to use any such water frontage whatever in excess of three thousand feet, linear measurement, measured along the United States harbor lines, as they are now or may be hereafter established in Los Angeles harbor or other navigable waters within the city of Los Angeles; provided, however, that more than three thousand feet of such water frontage, but not exceeding five thousand feet thereof, may be so granted whenever authorized by ordinance adopted or approved by a majority of the qualified electors of the city voting upon the question of the adoption or approval of such ordinance at an election.

(c) Of the water frontage of Los Angeles harbor, ten thousand feet thereof, linear measurement, along the United States harbor lines, measured as aforesaid, together with such coterminous and adjacent tide and submerged lands fronting thereon, as may be determined by ordinance, owned or held by the city of Los Angeles, is hereby forever reserved for public purposes by said city, for uses to be improved, constructed, owned, controlled, maintained and operated by said city. The city shall not grant, and shall not have granted at any time, to all persons, firms or corporations to whom such grants may be made, any such franchises, leases, privileges or permits exceeding in the aggregate one half of the total water frontage owned or held by the city at such time, exclusive of the aforesaid ten thousand feet of such frontage, to wit, one half of the water frontage in that portion of Los Angeles harbor northerly of an east and west line passing through a point in the center of the Turning Basin easterly of Smith's Island, also known as Boschke Island, and one half of the water frontage in that portion of Los Angeles harbor southerly of said line; and said one half of the total water frontage so owned or held by the city of Los Angeles, located as aforesaid in the portions of Los Angeles harbor above described, and in addition to said ten thousand feet of water frontage so reserved, as aforesaid, is also hereby reserved for public purposes by said city, for uses to be improved, constructed, owned, controlled, maintained, and operated by said city; provided, however, that the city may make such grants of, in or upon such water frontage owned by the city in excess of one half thereof, linear measurement, but not exceeding three fourths thereof, exclusive of said ten thousand feet of such frontage, whenever authorized by ordinance adopted or approved by a majority of the qualified electors of the city voting upon the question of the adoption or approval of such ordinance at an election.

(d) In any case where a franchise, lease, privilege or permit pertaining to such water frontage or such tide or submerged lands is granted, the same shall be so granted for a rental or payment to the city to be prescribed therein as hereinafter provided. In case of any such grant, the same shall be made only upon the condition, whether expressed therein or not, that the construction of the wharves, docks, warehouses or other works or structures provided for therein shall, if the same be not already constructed, be commenced within ninety days from the date of such grant, and be prosecuted diligently to completion under such further terms and conditions as may be prescribed therein.

(e) Every such grant shall provide for the payment to the city as compensation therefor of either, any or all of the following: (a) A specified rental; or (b), a percentage of the gross receipts derived from or arising out of the use, operation or possession thereof, or of the lands included therein and improvements, if any, made thereunder; or (c), a percentage of the valuation of such lands and improvements, such payment to be made in such manner, at such times and upon such basis or scale, either fixed or variable, as shall be prescribed therein; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the city from making such grants to the highest regular responsible bidder after receiving competitive bids therefor.

(f) Every such grant shall provide that in case the same, or any improvements made thereunder, or any part thereof, shall be assigned, transferred or subleased, or the control thereof be given or granted to any person, firm or corporation, so that such person, firm or corporation shall then own, hold or control under any such franchises, leases, privileges or permits more than the length of water frontage permitted or authorized under this section, then such grant, and all rights thereunder, shall thereupon and thereby be absolutely terminated; nor shall any such assignment, transfer, sublease, gift or grant of control be valid for any purpose unless first approved by the board of harbor commissioners.

(g) Every such grant shall be subject to such rights of way over tide or submerged lands embraced therein for such public sewers, pipe lines, conduits, or for such public telephone, telegraph, light, heat, or power lines, as may from time to time be determined by the council; and the same shall also be subject to such rights of way for public streets and other highways, and for such public street or public railroads, or other public means of transportation as shall have been duly established, or as shall be reserved in such grant. No such grant shall ever be made that shall provide for any use of the property or for the construction or placing of any structure, building or other improvement thereon that shall interfere with any plan approved or adopted by the city for harbor improvements or for the development of facilities for commerce or navigation in Los Angeles harbor, or for providing railroad or other terminal facilities at said harbor.

(h) Every such grant shall provide for a readjustment of rental or compensation every ten years during the term thereby created. The procedure for such readjustment shall be specified in such grant, but in no case shall such readjustment decrease the amount of rental or compensation. At the expiration of any such grant the board of harbor commissioners may, upon such terms as it deems advisable, extend the term thereof for a period not to exceed ten years; provided, that in making any such extension, no reduction in the rate or amount of rental or compensation fixed for or in effect as to such grant for and during any period next preceding such extension shall be allowed; and provided, further, that no such extension shall be effective until approved by the council by ordinance.

(i) Every such grant shall prescribe that upon the expiration thereof, all wharves, piers, docks, slips, bulkheads, seawalls, and channels constructed or maintained thereunder shall be and become the property of the city of Los Angeles without compensation therefor to the grantee or holder thereof, and as to the other permanent structures or improvements constructed or maintained thereunder, shall prescribe whether the same shall become the property of said city without compensation or upon compensation to be paid to such grantee or holder, or shall be removed by such grantee or holder at his own expense.

(j) Upon the forfeiture of any such grant, any and all buildings, structures and improvements of whatsoever character erected, installed or made under, through or because of or pursuant to the terms thereof shall immediately inso facto become the property of the city, and every such grant shall so provide. The method of procedure for making such grants shall be prescribed by ordinance.

(k) In any case where the city, or its predecessors in interest or authority, shall have granted or issued any lease, franchise or permit or any document purporting to be such, to any person, firm or corporation, the water front tide lands and submerged lands covered thereby shall not be subject to grants under this section, until such lease, franchise or permit shall have been terminated, and until the city shall have regained peaceable possession of such property.

(l) Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prevent the board of harbor commissioners from granting revocable licenses or permits to use limited portions of the water front, or tide or submerged lands for purposes consistent with commerce, navigation and fishery in Los Angeles harbor, upon such terms and conditions as may be prescribed therein, and in such manner as may be prescribed by ordinance, and no lease, franchise, privilege, permit, or any such revocable license or permit, shall ever be granted, made or issued for any purpose inconsistent with the trusts upon which the water frontage, tide lands and submerged lands mentioned in this section are held by the city of Los Angeles, or inconsistent with the requirements of commerce, navigation and fishery at Los Angeles harbor. The board of harbor commissioners shall make such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section. Such rules and regulations shall be approved by the council by ordinance.

(m) That the certain tract in the outer harbor designated as Los Angeles municipal dock number one, and formerly known as the Huntington concession, and all wharves and other improvements thereon or pertaining thereto now or hereafter constructed, shall never be sold, conveyed, alienated, leased or otherwise disposed of in whole or in part, in any manner to any private person, firm or corporation whatsoever, nor shall any lease, franchise, privilege or permit ever be granted to any private person, firm or corporation of, in or to said tract, wharves or other improvements, or any part thereof; but said tract, wharves, and other improvements, and the whole thereof, shall be forever reserved by the city of Los Angeles for public improvements and municipal uses, to be made, constructed, operated and maintained by the city of Los Angeles; provided, that the board of harbor commissioners may, under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by ordinance, grant permits, licenses or concessions to conduct any such occupation or business on said tract as may conduce to the comfort and convenience of the public; and provided, further, that said board may designate and assign berths or landings for the use of vessels at any wharves on said tract, as well as on other lands and water frontages reserved by the city for public purposes, but any such use may be terminated at any time on such previous notice as may be prescribed by ordinance, and said board may, whenever any railroad tracks are located, or constructed by the city, upon said tract, or upon such other lands or water frontages, contract for or permit the operation of cars thereon under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by ordinance.

That Section 261 of Article XXV of the charter be amended to read as follows:

The city clerk shall present all bids received by him to the council at its next regular meeting after the expiration of the time for the submission of bids. The council shall thereupon, in public session, open, examine and declare all bids received. At the time of opening the bids, any responsible person may bid for such property a sum exceeding the highest bid by not less than five per centum, and such bid so made may be raised by any other person or persons until the property shall either be sold or withdrawn from sale. No bid shall be considered unless accompanied by a cash deposit or check certified by a responsible bank in the city of Los Angeles in an amount not less than ten per centum of the amount of such bid. The council may in its discretion in all cases where property is offered for sale reject any or all bids, or withdraw such property from sale at any time, should it deem such action to be for the public interest. Any real property proposed to be sold that is under the control of any board or commission authorized by this charter, or by law, to acquire, hold or control real property shall not be sold except with the approval of a majority of such board or commission, and the proceeds of any such sale shall be paid into the city treasury and placed in the fund of the department having control of such property.

Charter Amendment Number Twelve.

That Subdivision 44 of section two, Article I, be amended as follows:

(44) To create and maintain, and provide for the disbursement of a fireman's relief, health, life insurance and pension fund, to be used for the payment of pensions to members of the fire department of the city who shall be retired from such department; for the payment of pensions to members of such department who shall become physically disabled by reason of bodily injuries received in, or by reason of sickness caused by, the discharge of their duties, and for the payment of pensions to the widows and children of members of such fire department who shall have died from bodily injuries received or sickness or disease contracted in the performance or discharge of their duties. Said fund shall be created, maintained and disbursed in such manner as may be prescribed by ordinance.

Commencing with the fiscal year of 1913 the city council shall appropriate, create and set apart for this purpose a fund to be called the "firemen's pension fund" out of the revenue and taxes of the city, and such fund shall amount to not less than two and one half per cent of the total annual pay roll of the members of the fire department, and shall immediately prescribe by ordinance for the disbursement of said fund; provided, that no part of said fund shall be created, maintained, provided or collected from the salaries or wages of any member or members of the fire department.

The disbursement of said "firemen's pension fund" as provided for by ordinance, shall be left to the exclusive control, discretion and judgment of a commission of three persons to be called the "firemen's pension commission," the said commission to consist of the chief engineer of the fire department, the health commissioner and the president of the council. Said commission shall make semi-annual reports to the city council of all moneys received and disbursed by them.

Charter Amendment Number Thirteen.

That Subdivision 45 of Section two of Article I be amended to read as follows:

(45) To create and maintain, and provide for the disbursement of a policemen's relief, health, life insurance and pension fund, to be used for the payment of pensions to members of the police department of the city, who shall be retired from such department; for the payment of pensions to members of such department who shall become physically disabled by reason of bodily injuries received in, or by reason of sickness caused by, the discharge of their duties, and for the payment of pensions to the widows and children of members of such police department who shall have died from bodily injuries received, or sickness or disease contracted in the performance or discharge of their duties. Said fund shall be created, maintained and disbursed in such manner as may be prescribed by ordinance.

Commencing with the fiscal year of 1913, the city council shall appropriate, create and set apart for this purpose, a fund to be called the "policemen's pension fund" out of the revenues and taxes of the city, and such fund shall amount to not less than two and one half per cent of the total annual pay roll of the members of the police department, and shall immediately prescribe by ordinance for the disbursement of said fund; provided, that no part of said fund shall be created, maintained, provided or collected from the salaries or wages of any member or members of the police department.

The disbursement of said "policemen's pension fund" as provided for by ordinance, shall be left to the exclusive control, discretion and judgment of a commission of three persons, to be called the "policemen's pension commission," the said commission to consist of the chief of police, the health commissioner and the president of the council. Said commission shall make semi-annual reports to the city council of all moneys received and disbursed by them.

Charter Amendment Number Fourteen.

That Subdivision 47 of Section 2 of Article I of the charter be amended to read as follows:

Subdivision 47. The city council shall not appropriate or provide any public money for the printing, publication, sale or distribution of a municipal newspaper.

That said thirteen proposed amendments were and each of them was published for ten times in a daily newspaper printed and published in said city and of general circulation therein, to wit, the Los Angeles Daily Journal, said publication ending on the 3d day of March, 1913.

That thereafter the city council of said city did, by ordinance known as ordinance No. 26984 (new series), which was duly adopted on the 27th day of February, 1913, order the holding of a special municipal election in said city of Los Angeles on the 24th day of March, 1913, which said last mentioned date was not less than twenty days nor more than forty days after the completion of the publication of said proposed amendments, for ten times in said daily newspaper of general circulation in said city of Los Angeles, to wit, the Los Angeles Daily Journal, and did provide in said ordinance for the submission of said thirteen proposed amendments to said charter to the qualified electors of said city for their ratification at said special municipal election, which ordinance was approved by the mayor of said city on the 4th day of March, 1913, and was published for at least five times prior to the time appointed for the holding of said election in the Los Angeles Daily Journal, a daily newspaper printed and published in said city.

That at said special election a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon voted in favor of the ratification of and did ratify each and all of said thirteen proposed amendments to said charter.

That the city council of said city of Los Angeles, at a regular meeting thereof held within ten days after said election, duly canvassed the returns of said election, and duly found, determined and declared that a majority of such qualified electors voting thereon had voted for and ratified each and all of the said thirteen proposed amendments to said charter.

In witness whereof, We have hereunto set our hands and affixed the corporate seal of the city of Los Angeles this 25th day of March, 1913.

[SEAL]

GEO. ALEXANDER,
Mayor of the City of Los Angeles.

CHAS. L. WILDE,
City Clerk of the City of Los Angeles.

AND WHEREAS, The said thirteen proposed amendments so ratified as hereinabove set forth have been duly presented and submitted to the Legislature of the State of California for approval or rejection, without power of alteration or amendment, in accordance with Section 8 of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of California; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, the Senate concurring (a majority of all members elected to each house voting for the adoption of this resolution and concurring herein), That the said thirteen proposed amendments to the said charter of the city of Los Angeles, hereinabove set forth, as presented and as submitted to and adopted and ratified by the qualified electors of said city, be and the same are hereby approved as a whole for and as amendments to the said charter of the city of Los Angeles.

COMMUNICATION.

The following communication was sent to the desk and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mr. Sutherland:

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24, 1913.

To the Honorable, the Assembly of the State of California, Sacramento, California.

GENTLEMEN: We desire to acknowledge receipt of copy of resolutions adopted by your honorable body on March 21 and March 22, 1913, referring to this commission for such consideration and recommendation as the commission may deem proper, the bills as to which comment is hereinafter made. We desire to thank your honorable body for giving to this commission an opportunity to express its views on these bills, and submit herewith for your consideration such comments as we desire to make:

Assembly Bill No. 34 (McDonald), Labor and Capital: This is a bill to regulate the hours of employment of conductors, drivers, gripmen, and motormen employed on street railways.

As this commission has no jurisdiction with reference to the hours of labor of employees of public utilities, we have no comment to make on this bill.

Assembly Bill No. 92 (Cary), Labor and Capital: This bill provides, in effect, that all common carriers by railroad shall maintain at every division point in connection with the wrecking train a fully equipped hospital car, which car in case of accident involving injury to employees and travelers and requiring the presence of the wrecking train, shall be dispatched to the scene of the accident in charge of a surgeon, as a part of the wrecking train. It is made the duty of the Railroad Commission to enforce the provisions of the Act. We are not informed as to the number of cases in which it is necessary to send out wrecking trains because of injuries to employees or travelers or of the cases in which hospital cars may be necessary. If the Legislature decides to pass this bill, it would doubtlessly desire to amend the words "employees and travelers" in line 5 so as to read "employees or travelers," and also to provide a penalty.

We desire to draw attention to the fact that the subject-matter of this bill is fully covered by Section 42 of the Public Utilities Act, reading as follows:

"The commission shall have power, after a hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint, by general or special orders, rules or regulations, or otherwise, to require every public utility to maintain and operate its line, plant, system, equipment, apparatus, tracks and premises in such manner as to promote and safeguard the health and safety of its employees, passengers, customers, and the public, and to this end to prescribe, among other things, the installation, use, maintenance and operation of appropriate safety or other devices or appliances, including interlocking and other protective devices, at grade crossings or junctions and block or other systems of signaling, to establish uniform or other standards of equipment, and to require the performance of any other act which the health or safety of its employees, passengers, customers or the public may demand."

Whether, in view of the fact that this commission already has jurisdiction over the subject matter of the bill, it is desirable to pass this proposed bill, is a matter which we leave to the judgment of the Legislature.

Assembly Bill No. 94 (Byrnes), Labor and Capital: This is a bill to amend Section 1 of the Act approved April 21, 1911, regulating the hours of labor of employees of electric railways.

As this commission has no jurisdiction with reference to the hours of labor of employees of public utilities, we have no comment to make on this bill.

Assembly Bill No. 107 (Johnston), Corporations: This bill proposes to add to the Civil Code a new section, to be numbered 510a, and providing, in effect, that all street railroad corporations in this State operating cars on any suburban or inter-urban line shall equip their cars with vestibule doors and shall provide such cars with seats for employees working on such cars.

We do not know whether the bill refers to side vestibule doors or end vestibule doors. If it refers to end vestibule doors we do not understand why such doors are necessary on street cars. The subject matter of this bill in so far as it affects vestibule doors, is already fully covered by Section 35 of the Public Utilities Act, giving to the commission authority over the equipment, appliances and facilities of public utilities operating in territory subject to its jurisdiction, and reading as follows:

"Whenever the commission, after a hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint, shall find that the rules, regulations, practices, equipment, appliances, facilities or service of any public utility, or the methods of manufacture, distribution, transmission, storage or supply employed by it, are unjust, unreasonable, unsafe, improper, inadequate or insufficient, the commission shall determine the just, reasonable, safe, proper, adequate or sufficient rules, regulations, practices, equipment, appliances, facilities, service or methods to be observed, furnished, constructed, enforced or employed and shall fix the same by its order, rule or regulation. The commission shall prescribe rules and regulations for the performance of any service or the furnishing of any commodity of the character furnished or supplied by any public utility, and, on proper demand and tender of rates, such public utility shall furnish such commodity or render such service within the time and upon the conditions provided in such rules."

Assembly Bill No. 215 (Schmitt), Corporations: This bill proposes to add to the Public Utilities Act a new section, to be numbered 42½, and providing, in effect, that every railroad and street railroad, the trains or cars of which cross intersecting streets, roads or highways within any municipality at a speed greater than ten miles per hour, must install at each such street, road or highway some adequate signaling or warning device, to be approved by the Railroad Commission.

As street railroads within our cities largely attain a speed in excess of ten miles per hour, it would be necessary to have this warning device installed throughout a large part of our cities, even in cases in which the view is entirely unobstructed, so that persons approaching the crossings may see the track in both directions. The bill proposes to establish an inflexible rule applicable to all cases covered thereby.

The subject-matter of the bill is already fully covered as to the territory over which this commission has jurisdiction by the provisions of Section 42 of the Public Utilities Act hereinbefore quoted.

As to cases in which the municipalities have jurisdiction under their police power, they now have the right to pass such ordinances as may be necessary in the premises.

Assembly Bill No. 380 (Schmitt), Public Health and Quarantine: This bill provides, in effect, that every public building, railway coach and sleeping car containing a lavatory must have installed and maintained therein some sanitation and disinfecting apparatus.

In so far as affects railway coaches and sleeping cars, the subject matter of this bill is covered by the provisions of Section 42 of the Public Utilities Act, which section has heretofore been set out in full.

Assembly Bill No. 418 (Canepa), Public Health and Quarantine: This bill provides in effect that every railroad car, except private cars, on cars or trains "running 15 miles or more" shall be provided with pure drinking water and with individual drinking cups, for which no charge shall be made. The water and the cups shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the State Board of Health.

While this commission, under the provisions of Section 42 of the Public Utilities Act, has authority over the subject-matter of this bill, we have no objections if the Legislature desires to confer this authority upon the State Board of Health.

Assembly Bill No. 468 (McDonald), Labor and Capital: This bill provides, in effect, that every railroad shall place and maintain in all of its frogs and guard rails, safety blocks of a size sufficient to prevent employees and other persons from having their feet caught therein.

The subject-matter of this bill is covered by Section 42 of the Public Utilities Act, which has heretofore been quoted in full.

Assembly Bill No. 835 (Wyllie), Corporations: This bill provides, in effect, that after July 1, 1914, it shall be unlawful for any common carrier by land to have any interest in any common carrier by water with which the land carrier does or may compete for traffic, and confers upon the Railroad Commission jurisdiction to determine questions of fact as to the competition or possibility of competition.

In so far as the carriers affected engage in interstate commerce, the subject-matter of this bill is already covered by the provisions of Section 11 of H. R. 21969, commonly known as the Panama Canal bill, approved August 24, 1912, and amending Section 5 of the Interstate Commerce Act so as to provide, in effect, that after July 1, 1914, it shall be unlawful for any common carrier subject to the authority of the Interstate Commerce Commission to have any interest in any common carrier by water operated through the Panama Canal or elsewhere with which such railroad company or other common carrier does or may compete for traffic.

In so far as such carriers engage in state commerce, this commission now has authority, under the Public Utilities Act, over the rates both of land carriers and of water carriers in so far as the latter may be subject to state authority.

Assembly Bill No. 923 (Emmons), Judiciary: This bill proposes to repeal the Act regulating the placing, erection, use and maintenance of electric poles, wires, cables and appliances and providing a punishment for the violation thereof, approved April 22, 1911.

This Act of April 22, 1911, covers the erection, maintenance and use of the wires, poles and other appliances of utilities conducting electric energy, the clearances of such wires and related matters, and applies to the State of California, cities and counties, cities, counties or other political subdivisions, as well as to private persons, firms or corporations conducting such operations. The Act provides that it shall take effect six months from the date of its passage in so far as it relates to new work, and five years after its passage for the reconstruction of all existing work and construction to comply with the provisions of this Act. Extensive changes, we understand, are now being made by utilities in this State to comply with the provisions of this Act.

The subject-matter of the existing statute, in so far as it affects private persons, firms or corporations, would seem to be covered by Section 42 of the Public Utilities Act, which is a later enactment of the legislative will. Section 42, however, does not apply to public authorities and to that extent the scope of the Act of April 22, 1911, is broader than Section 42 of the Public Utilities Act.

Under the provisions of Section 42, this commission has adopted its General Order No. 26, governing clearances and construction at crossings of railroads, street railroads, streets and public highways and telegraph, telephone, trolley and pole lines. In order to prevent a possible conflict between the general order and the Act of the Legislature, the commission declared that the order should be applicable only "in so far as the same is not in conflict with any of the provisions of Chapters 499 and 500 of the Statutes of the State of California of April, 1911." The order applies in terms only to construction hereafter to be made, and hence does not cover the subject-matter of the Act of the Legislature in so far as the Act makes it necessary for the public authorities and public utilities therein referred to, to make the changes in existing construction therein specified within five years from the effective date of the Act.

We suggest that the Legislature give careful consideration to the effect of the repeal of this Act on public authorities as well as private authorities maintaining wires, poles or appliances for the transmission of electrical energy. With our present information, we see no reason why this repealing statute should be passed.

Assembly Bill No. 924 (Emmons), Judiciary: This is a new bill to take the place of the Act of April 22, 1911, referred to in connection with Assembly Bill No. 923. It strikes out a number of the most important provisions of said Act and extends the time within which to reconstruct existing work from five to ten years. It also provides that all Acts or parts of Acts in conflict with the provisions of the bill shall be repealed.

This bill, in so far as it relates to the construction and maintenance of the poles, wires and appliances of public utilities transmitting electrical energy and subject to the authority of the Railroad Commission, may also well be held to repeal pro tanto all the provisions of Section 42 of the Public Utilities Act.

If the Legislature contemplates giving serious consideration to Assembly Bills No. 923 and No. 924 and Assembly Bills Nos. 1478 and 1479, to which reference will hereinafter be made, we suggest that careful investigations be made, so that the full significance of the proposed changes and the effect on existing statutes may be made apparent. The effect of these bills cannot be determined except by a careful study of the entire subject-matter.

Assembly Bill No. 960 (Peairs), Corporations: This is one of the so-called "no seat, no fare," bills. It provides, in effect, that any railway or street railway which accepts the usual fare but is unable or unwilling to furnish a comfortable seat at the time of demanding and receiving the fare, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. There is a proviso to the effect that in case the company does not have a seat, it may give the passenger another ticket which may be used within thirty days, and a further proviso that the company need not carry the passenger if it is unable from any cause for which it is not responsible, to furnish a comfortable seat. The bill further provides that any railway or street railway which shall refuse to furnish a sufficient number of cars or coaches for the accommodation of the ordinary, usual and regular transactions of its daily business "and which shall fail to furnish a comfortable seat for each passenger received for transportation" shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

This commission is not prepared to say that this kind of a bill is a proper solution of the problem. The commission is inclined to the belief that it would be wiser where congestion of traffic exists to make a careful study of the traffic conditions, to consider the routing or re-routing of cars and the possibility of overhead elevated railways or subways, or to take such other action as a complete study of the particular situation affected may show to be wise. In territory over which this commission has jurisdiction, the subject matter is at present covered by Section 36 of the Public Utilities Act, providing, in effect, that the commission shall have power, after a hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint, to direct that additions, extensions, repairs or improvements to or changes in the existing plant, equipment, apparatus, facilities or other physical properties of any public utility be made, or that a new structure or structures be erected, or to take such other steps as may be necessary to secure adequate service or facilities.

Assembly Bill No. 965 (Brown), Corporations: This is another bill referring to the seating capacity of railroad cars. It provides, in effect, that no rail carrier shall permit any car or train of cars to depart from any terminal unless the carrying and seating capacity of the car or train is at least 10 per cent greater than the number of persons applying at the terminal for passage on said car or train. It provides, further, that if any passenger can not procure a seat, he may demand a slip or ticket showing the distance traveled while he was unable to procure a seat, which slip or ticket shall be redeemed by the carrier.

Our comments with reference to Assembly Bill No. 960 apply to this bill also. The bill obviously should not apply to conditions such as exist at the foot of Market street in San Francisco, where the cars start with their maximum load. We suggest that the Legislature give careful consideration to this and similar bills and consider whether this is the wisest way to attack the problem.

Assembly Bill No. 997 (Cary), Corporations: This bill amends Section 629 of the Civil Code, referring to the duty of gas and electrical companies to serve persons residing within 100 feet from any main or direct or primary wire.

The bill proposes to extend the provisions of this section to steam, heat and telephone companies. Penalties are imposed as in the original section, for failure to supply the service required within ten days after application. With reference to this bill, we desire to make the following comments:

1. Under the provisions of Section 36 of the Public Utilities Act, this commission now has the power to compel a utility to make such extensions as are just and reasonable. This power is not limited to a distance of 100 feet but may be exercised wherever the circumstances demand such action, whether the point of user be located more or less than 100 feet from the utility's mains or wires.

2. If the present Legislature passes Assembly Bill No. 997, or a similar bill, this will probably amount to a repeal to that extent of this commission's powers.

3. If Assembly Bill No. 997 or a similar bill is passed, the public utilities may well contend that such legislation, by implication, relieves them of the necessity of making extensions where the distance is greater than 100 feet or such other distance as may be specified in the Act.

Assembly Bill No. 1059 (Bloodgood), Corporations: This is another bill with reference to the seating capacity of railroad and street railroad vehicles. It provides, in effect, that a passenger who can not find a seat shall be charged only one half the regular fare, and that in making change the half cent shall be dropped in favor of the passenger.

The comments which we have heretofore made with reference to Assembly Bills No. 960 (Peairs) and No. 965 (Brown) also apply to this bill.

Assembly Bill No. 1089 (Morgenstern and Smith), Judiciary: This bill proposes to amend Section 63(b) of the Public Utilities Act by adding thereto a proviso that the rates established by the commission under the provisions of said Section 63(b) shall provide that no gas corporation, electric corporation or water corporation using any meter, gauge or other appliance or device to measure service shall charge or collect any compensation not shown by such meter, gauge or other device or appliance to have been actually rendered or used.

With reference to this bill we desire to make the following two comments:

1. The amendment refers to "the rates so established," which means the rates established under the provisions of Section 63(b). This subsection refers only to cases in which the Railroad Commission suspends a rate, rule or regulation not increasing or resulting in an increase in any rate, fare, toll, rental or charge. This commission has not hitherto found it necessary to exercise this power and the prospect for its frequent exercise is very remote. Accordingly, the proviso now proposed would very seldom go into operation. The proviso seems to have been attached in the wrong place.

2. The apparent purpose of the proviso is to eliminate minimum charges. Two elements properly enter into a rate, one for charges which are just as much for one consumer as the other, and the other element based upon the amount of his consumption. It costs just as much to read a meter for a small consumer as for a large consumer and just as much to collect the bill for one as for the other. There is consequently much to be said in favor of the principle of the minimum charge, which is supposed to take care of the costs which are uniform for all and irrespective of the amount of the product consumed.

Assembly Bill No. 1165 (Ford), Judiciary: This bill proposes to create a board of construction inspectors whose duty it shall be to compel the electrical, telephone, telegraph, fire alarm and street railway companies to comply with the rules concerning the erection of poles, the putting in of guy-wires, the placing of cross-arms, the building of manholes and the laying of underground conduits "according to the laws now governing such construction work in the State of California."

The effect of this bill will be to supersede the functions of the respective district attorneys of this State with reference to the statutes and the functions of this commission with reference to its orders bearing on these subjects. The enforcement of the laws of this State and of the orders of this commission referring to these matters is to be taken out of the hands of the district attorneys and this commission, respectively, and placed in the hands of these construction inspectors.

Assembly Bill No. 1229 (Smith), Corporations: This is a bill to add to the Civil Code a new section, to be numbered 630(b) and providing, in effect, that gas, water, electrical, steam, heat and telephone companies shall demand no deposit for their service "if the proposed consumer or customer be a freeholder who is financially responsible or a person who is able to give a reasonably safe guarantee in an amount sufficient to secure the payment of bills for fifty days' supply."

The practical effect of this bill will be to authorize such companies to demand deposits in all cases other than those specifically mentioned. The only freeholders who will be exempted from the obligation to make a deposit if the demand is made, will be freeholders who are "financially responsible" and it is presumed that the companies are to be the judges of who is financially responsible. The companies will also presumably be the judges of what may be a reasonably safe guarantee for the payment of bills for fifty days' supply.

Considerable complaint is made from time to time to this commission by reason of the practice of public utilities in demanding deposits and by reason of alleged abuses connected therewith. This commission now has authority over the subject-matter of this bill and is making investigations into the practices of telephone and electrical companies in demanding such deposits.

If this bill is passed, the flexible power which this commission now has will be taken away by implication and a rigid rule authorizing utilities to charge deposits in a large number of cases will be substituted therefor.

Assembly Bill No. 1393 (Morgenstern), Corporations: This bill proposes to add to the Civil Code a new section, to be known as Section No. 541, and providing, in effect, that it shall be the duty of a telephone company to supply service without a deposit or the signing of a contract to any person living within 200 feet from any wire of the company.

We would refer to our comments in connection with Assembly Bill No. 997 (Cary), and would draw particular attention to the effect which the enactment of this bill will have in taking away a portion of the power of this commission and in relieving telephone companies from the duty of supplying service at points distant more than 200 feet from their wires.

Assembly Bill No. 1478 (Sutherland), Corporations: This bill provides for the repeal of the Act approved April 22, 1911, referring to the placing, erection, use and maintenance of electric poles, wires, cables and appliances, and is the same as Assembly Bill No. 923 (Emmons).

We refer to our comments in connection with the latter bill.

Assembly Bill No. 1479 (Sutherland), Corporations: This is a bill to repeal the Act of April 22, 1911, regulating the construction and maintenance of subways, manholes, underground rooms, chambers and excavations used to contain or conduct wires, cables or appliances to conduct, carry or handle electricity.

We refer to our comments on Assembly Bill No. 924 (Emmons).

Assembly Bill No. 1501 (McCarthy), Judiciary: This is a bill to regulate and prescribe the width of all locomotives and engines, the width and height of cars, the location of side tracks, warehouses, coal chutes, overhead bridges and obstructions, and to prohibit obstructions on or between tracks and side tracks.

The subject-matter of this bill is fully covered by Section 42 of the Public Utilities Act, which has hereinbefore been quoted in full, and by this commission's General Order No. 26, passed in pursuance of said section.

If this bill is passed it will take away the Railroad Commission's authority over its subject-matter, and will substitute rigid statutory provisions covering a mass of details for this commission's present flexible jurisdiction.

Assembly Bill No. 1700 (Bradford): This is a bill providing for signal lights in connection with each derailing switch or other derailing devices of railroad companies, and provides for the enforcement of the Act by the Railroad Commission.

The subject-matter of this bill is fully covered by Section 42 of the Public Utilities Act, which has hereinbefore been set out in full.

Assembly Bill No. 1952 (Bloodgood): This bill provides, in effect, that every telephone company supplying service within any city in this State shall so connect with every other telephone company in such city as to enable any patron of that company to communicate with every patron of the other. It provides that the additional rates for the extension of service shall be fixed by the Railroad Commission, and prescribes penalties for failure to make the connections and supply the service provided in the bill.

While the people of this State seem generally to prefer a single telephone system to a double system, the proper method to attain this end is a serious matter which demands considerable thought. We desire to point out that the present telephone development in this State is rapidly tending toward this end.

This bill, in so far as it purports to give to the Railroad Commission the power to fix the rates for the extended service within the cities, is clearly unconstitutional, for the reason that under the provisions of Section 23 of Article XII of the Constitution of this State, as amended on October 10, 1911, this commission does not have the power to fix the rates for service by public utilities within municipalities which have not elected to confer upon this commission their rate fixing powers.

Assembly Bill No. 2001 (Finnegan), Corporations: This is a bill to amend Section 2169 of the Civil Code, providing that a common carrier must, if able to do so, accept and carry whatever is offered to him at a reasonable time and place of a kind which the carrier offers, undertakes or is accustomed to carry. The bill proposes to add to these provisions the requirement that all railroads shall accept and carry on at least one train per day, operating on passenger schedule, all freight and packages which may be offered for shipment. The charges for such service may exceed those charged for freight service.

We are not advised as to how it would be possible for a freight train to run on passenger schedule and pick up and deliver freight at way stations.

Assembly Bill No. 2006 (Inman), Corporations: This bill proposes to add to the Civil Code a new section, to be known as Section No. 629(a), and providing, in effect, that a telephone company must render telephone service to any person living within 1,000 feet of its wires and making application therefor.

We refer to our comments in connection with Assembly Bill No. 997 (Cary), in which the distance was 100 feet, and Assembly Bill No. 1393 (Morgenstern), in which the distance was 200 feet, and to draw attention to the possible dangers which may result from the passage of any of these bills.

We desire to express our sincere appreciation for the opportunity which your honorable body has afforded this commission of expressing our views on these bills.

Many of the matters covered by these bills which are under our jurisdiction are now occupying the attention of this commission. The failure to act on others is due primarily to the fact that they have not been drawn to our attention.

Many of these bills raise the important question of state policy as to whether, after a state has established a regulatory body, with full power to supervise public utilities, it is wise thereafter to enact legislation crystallizing in rigid form matters as to which the regulatory body can formulate rules and regulations which it may change from time to time as experience shows changes to be necessary. We leave this matter to your honorable body in full confidence that you will adopt such a course as in your judgment may best subserve the interests of this State.

Respectfully,

RAILROAD COMMISSION.

INVITATION.

Mr. Scott, in behalf of the Commissioners of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition and the State Board of Harbor Commissioners, addressed the Assembly as follows:

I hold in my hand a copy of an invitation from the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company and the Board of State Harbor Commissioners, extending to the members of the Assembly and their ladies an invitation to be their guests in San Francisco on Saturday, March 29, 1913.

The directors of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company have made wonderful progress with the work attendant upon this great enterprise.

The State Board of Harbor Commissioners have made extensive and important improvements upon the San Francisco water front. In addition to the building of many new docks, the Belt Railroad has been extended so that the line on both sides of Market street has been made continuous, and as a result the immense amount of freight coming into the port of San Francisco is handled cheaply and expeditiously. In addition to these improvements many more are contemplated, all of which are of great moment to the people of the whole State.

Both of these bodies of men are proud of the good work they have accomplished under their direction and are desirous of interesting the members of the Assembly in these vast enterprises.

The members of the Assembly and their ladies will be conveyed to San Francisco on a train leaving Sacramento at 8.15 a.m. Saturday morning, via the Southern Pacific line, arriving in San Francisco at 11.30 a.m., and from that time until 7.30 p.m. the members and their ladies will be provided with pleasant entertainment at the hands of the State Harbor Commissioners and the directors of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company. I now take extreme pleasure in extending to all members of the Assembly, on behalf of these two great bodies and the city of San Francisco, a cordial invitation to be their guests next Saturday.

Mr. Hinkle moved that the invitation be accepted.

Motion carried.

USE OF ASSEMBLY CHAMBER GRANTED.

By Mr. Gelder:

To the Honorable the Members of the Legislature of the State of California.

HONORABLE SIRS: We, the undersigned electors of the State of California, being opposed to compulsory vaccination, respectfully petition your honorable body to enact Assembly Bill No. 357, the title of which is as follows:

An Act to protect any child or person enrolled or employed in, around or about or in attendance upon any public or private school, or other educational institution within the State of California, from indiscriminate vaccination; and to prevent vaccination being made a precedent or a prerequisite to admission to or attendance upon any of the public or private schools or other educational institutions within the State of California.

CHARLES G. KUHLMAN.

SAMUEL TAYLOR (and 20,003 others).

By Mr. Peairs:

LOS ANGELES, February 5, 1913.

To the California State Assembly, Sacramento, California.

HONORABLE GENTLEMEN: We beg to urge your favorable consideration of Assembly Bill No. 469, better known as the Torrens land bill. The fact is that this system is the only means by which we can obtain an absolutely secure title to the land as against the world. In states where used, it has minimized fraud and has proved useful in clearing up defective titles. The property so registered is always available for immediate use as security in placing loans without loss of time or money. Under this system, instead of the property owner paying a large price to a private corporation and receiving a very small benefit, he will pay a very small price to his own state and receive what naturally and rightfully belongs to any taxpayer, a title founded on our own county records, furnished by our own county officials and backed by an assurance fund held in trust by our own State of California. We therefore ask that your honorable body pass bill No. 469, introduced by Assemblyman Howard A. Peairs, and thereby furnish your constituents with the up to date system that has proved so successful elsewhere and is being studied in every civilized country in the world.

(Signed) WILBUR D. CAMPBELL (and others).

PETITIONS.

The following petitions were presented, and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mr. Speaker:

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Legislature of the State of California:

Your memorialists, the first legislature of the State of Arizona, in session convened, respectfully represent:

WHEREAS, An urgent necessity exists for means, in addition to railroad transportation, whereby traffic can be carried on across the Colorado River, between the states of Arizona and California, not only connecting localities within the two states, but also bridging an annoying and detrimental gap in one of the few feasible all-around-the-year routes between the Pacific coast and the rest of the United States; and

WHEREAS, The State of Arizona, exhibiting its good faith and its desire to promote this advantage, not merely to its own people and the people of the State of California, but to the people of the whole country, particularly at this time, when the citizens of other states are making plans to attend California's historic expositions in 1915, traveling by their own modes of conveyance, has enacted a law appropriating the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) to pay one third the estimated cost of a bridge across the Colorado River from Penitentiary Hill, in the town of Yuma, State of Arizona, to School Hill, on the Yuma Indian Reservation, in the State of California, contingent upon like appropriations by the State of California and the Congress of the United States, for such a bridge; and

WHEREAS, The Legislature of the State of Arizona has given notice to the Congress of the United States of America, of the appropriation by the State of Arizona for this purpose, and has memorialized Congress to join with the State of Arizona and the State of California in the said undertaking; now, therefore,

The Legislature of the State of Arizona, in session convened, respectfully pray and urge the Legislature of the State of California to make an appropriation of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) for this purpose, and to memorialize the Congress of the United States of America to make a like appropriation.

Passed the Senate unanimously, February 13, 1913.

W. G. CUNNIFF, President of the Senate.

Passed the House on the 17th day of February, 1913, by a vote of 31 ayes, 1 no, 3 absent.

H. H. LINNEY, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Also:

To the Legislature of the State of California.

GENTLEMEN: The following petition is respectfully presented with an earnest request that it be given favorable consideration, namely, that your approval and support be accorded to the proposed constitutional amendment, which reads as follows:

"Any educational institution of collegiate grade, within the State of California, not conducted for profit, shall hold exempt from taxation its grounds, not exceeding 160 acres, its buildings and equipment, bonds and other securities, used exclusively for the purposes of education."

The object of this proposed amendment is to exempt from taxation the educational plants of colleges in California, together with the funds for the support of these colleges. If any educational institution holds lands or buildings which are not used for educational purposes, but are held as investment or rented for profit, such real estate would not be exempt from taxation under the proposed enactment.

Also:

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., March 25, 1913.

To the Honorable the Governor and the Legislature of the State of California:

Senate Bill No. 853, introduced by Senator Grant, being identical with the Assembly Bill No. 1240, introduced by Assemblyman Scott, to amend Section 531 of the Code of Civil Procedure, is intended to empower an individual or any number of individuals affected thereby to bring suit to prevent some of the oppressive practices of public service corporations. It is the history of nearly all large municipalities that the public service corporations not only bring suits to restrain enforcement of any rates fixed by ordinance for water, gas, and the like which do not suit their notions, but they also threaten the consumer that his service will be cut off if he refuses to pay rates largely in excess of the rate fixed, and there is not only a question whether the individual ratepayer could now obtain an injunction against these extortionate and oppressive practices, but the average ratepayer could not afford to do so. These companion bills are intended to permit any one or more ratepayers to join in a suit to restrain the enforcement of such rates by the company and the discontinuance of the service for refusal to pay such rates, provides for a moderate bond which will protect the company, makes the rate fixed by legal authority prima facie valid, and fixes the burden of proof upon the company, just as the law fixes the onus probandi upon the private citizen when he seeks to overcome official action.

Senate Bill No. 1408, identical with Assembly Bill No. 1655, introduced by the same Senator and Assemblyman, are intended to add a new section to the Code of Civil Procedure, to be numbered 534. In various municipalities of the State, and probably all over this country, the various holders of franchises tack on to their legal franchises the exercise of other privileges seriously affecting the public to which they have no right at all. This may occur through the neglect of subservient, careless or indifferent public officials, who will take no proceedings to protect the public in the matter. Under the present condition of the law there is a serious question whether the private citizen can protect himself by legal proceedings, and this simple Act is intended to enable him to do so. The invasion of a public right of this kind is an invasion of the right of every member of the public, and there never was any good reason why citizens with the manhood to resent the most flagrant usurpation of power should not be permitted to do so if the public officials neglect to discharge their sworn duty. In San Francisco, certain corporations are exercising franchises in the public streets over large sections of the city without any legal authority at all, and this has been permitted for years, with the full knowledge of public officials, and in cases where a private citizen attempting to do such a thing would be thrown into jail. This law proposes to enable the people to protect themselves against such abuses of the public right.

These two bills, being in line with the modern tendency to permit direct action by the people upon the immediate question involved; therefore be it

Resolved, That Public Ownership Association, of San Francisco, hereby heartily indorses each of said bills and approves the intent and purpose thereof, and urges the Legislature of the State of California to pass said bills and the Governor of the State to approve the same when passed.

Adopted at a regular meeting held March 19, 1913.

LOS ANGELES COUNTY GRAND JURY,

LOS ANGELES, March 24, 1913.

To the Honorable State Legislature of California.

HONORABLE SIRS: The rapid growth of moving picture exhibitions, and the character of influence they wield upon the public mind, is worthy of consideration when the social and educational development of the State is involved; and

WHEREAS, As a means of education the moving picture has gained in prominence, therefore we must admit of its possibilities as a means of impressing upon the mind enduring influences either for good or evil; and

WHEREAS, The preservation of a high standard of morals for the youth of this state is evidenced by the fact that laws are in force to safeguard the young and innocent from entering questionable places of amusement, gambling houses and saloons, because of the baneful influences exerted upon the minds of the innocent; and

WHEREAS, We are in sympathy and accord with the enforcement of these laws, and the maintenance of all legislation that promotes the moral and social advancement of the citizenship of this state; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the grand jury of Los Angeles County, do with the sole purpose of raising the educational value of moving pictures, condemn the showing of such moving pictures, for profit or otherwise, that contain any act wherein the use of firearms, expressly or otherwise, results in a death scene, except in the representation of war scenes, any act of duel fights with pistols, guns, daggers, dirks or knives, any act of the holding up of persons, stages, trains or any other manner of hold-up that actual or implied forfeiture of life is depicted, any act of violence by one person toward another, any act of bank burglary or any other form of burglary or theft or petty theft, any act of suicide by the taking of poison or the use of a pistol, gun, knife or any other means or implied means of self-destruction, any act that shows the use of a hypodermic needle by a dope fiend, any act that shows the creeping or crouching position of a person upon an intended human victim with a firearm, blade weapon or any other instrument, in such a position as to indicate its use, any act that shows the crime of arson, any act of choking or clubbing a human victim, any act which represents a low state of morals, and any other acts of lewd, licentious or evil suggestion or of personal violence.

That the showing of such moving pictures is a menace to the moral and social welfare of the inhabitants of our State, and are instructive in teaching the manner of accomplishment of evil and vicious crimes which the laws of the State are endeavoring to force into subjection.

That we indorse and approve of a bill now before the State Legislature entitled "An Act to establish a state censor commission to censor moving picture films and to regulate the use thereof in the State of California," and that we believe such a state censor commission is necessary and of vital importance for the proper control of film picture showing, as well as the material benefit derived in forcing a higher grade of subjects for display.

Our investigation has forced us to the conclusion that film pictures of the character mentioned in this resolution wield a demoralizing influence upon society and pollute the minds of the children of our State.

The State of California should put the seal of disapproval upon this menace to the moral and social advancement of the people, and we recommend that that part of this resolution appertaining to acts shown in moving pictures be incorporated in Section 3 and amended to Senate Bill No. 1126.

We respectfully urge the passage of this bill, and seek your approval of the proposed amendment.

Approved by the grand jury of Los Angeles County this 21st day of March, 1913.

WILLIAM MEEK, Foreman.

By Mr. Murray:

RESOLUTION No. 19 (New Series).

Be it resolved by the Board of Trustees of the city of Imperial, California, as follows:

First—That we are opposed to the amendment of the law known as the Wyllie local option law as embodied in Senate Bill No. 1647 and Assembly Bill No. 1865, and give as our reasons therefor the following:

(a) It tends to take away from municipalities the right to govern themselves in matters which require police regulation.

(b) It leaves incorporated cities having under 5,000 population at the mercy of the rural population and the inhabitants of other cities of like size, and might place them in a position where they would be compelled to submit to open saloons in their midst, regardless of the sentiment of their own population and against their will, and they would have no power to exact a license fee for the conduct of such saloons and would have no police regulation over them.

(c) It places an added burden on the taxpayers of the county, including those of the municipalities under 5,000 population, in that a constant warfare would have to be waged on the illicit sale of liquor within the confines of all municipalities under 5,000 population, and in case a county government should be in force which was opposed to the law there would be enforcement of the provisions of the Act.

(d) It usurps the right of the citizens of any incorporated city under 5,000 population to say what lines of business shall be conducted in their limits, and under what conditions, if any, the business shall be conducted.

(e) It takes away the power of a city to make necessary police regulations to safeguard its people from the illicit sale of liquor, or to surround the sale of liquor with proper safeguards.

Second—We desire to make a statement of the conditions existing in the city of Imperial prior to and subsequent to April 15, 1912, at which time an ordinance was passed or adopted by the qualified electors of the city of Imperial, regulating the sale of intoxicating liquors, and providing for the license of the sale of the same. In the six months beginning October 15, 1911, and ending April 15, 1912, the board of trustees of the city of Imperial expended the sum of $2,333.70 in the prosecution of cases for the illicit sale of liquor, the city at that time being under an ordinance prohibiting the sale of liquor. Of this sum, $1,988.70 was expended for the procuring of the evidence against fifteen different men, and involved twenty-one arrests, the sum of $325 was spent for special attorneys to assist the city attorney in the prosecution, and $15 was spent in securing the services of an outside officer to serve venire for jury. Of these twenty-one cases, seven pleaded guilty and were fined in the sum of $750, and one was found guilty and paid $50, making a total received of $800; one was found guilty, appealed to the Superior Court, and the case was afterwards dismissed; six were dismissed by the city attorney on the grounds of insufficient evidence without trial. In three cases jury trials were had and jury disagreed, cases dismissed; two escaped from jail; and in one case nothing was done but to issue search warrant. The city was out the sum of $1,533.70 over and above what it received from fines in six months. Similar anti-liquor fights had in previous years resulted in the same manner. During the past three years prior to April 15, 1912, the city was practically at a standstill, the inhabitants were fighting among themselves over the liquor question, and liquor prosecutions were almost continuous, but with little result. The illicit sale continued unabated, only harder to get evidence and prove.

Since May, 1912, in pursuance to the ordinance adopted by the people at a general municipal election, six retail liquor licenses, one wholesale license, and three restaurant liquor licenses were issued. The ordinance is strict in its terms, and the officers enforce the ordinance. The saloons and other places are run by responsible men. The city is deriving a revenue of $825 per month therefrom, and the tax rate has been lowered from $2 per $100 to $1.50 per $100. The people have ceased their fighting and are a unit in working for the advancement of the city, and the city of Imperial is prospering. Ten new brick business blocks and more than forty new dwellings have been erected, or are now in progress of construction, and more are contemplated.

Third—That the law proposed is class legislation, and is especially aimed at the city of Imperial and fathered by rival cities in this county. This is borne out by a public letter which was written by Senator Anderson to the people of his district, in which he stated that the bill was aimed at Imperial, and was written by the Anti-Saloon League of California. That in support of the foregoing we desire to insert herein the following extract which appeared in the Los Angeles Examiner of March 18, 1913, at the bottom of the first column of page 14 of said issue, as follows, to wit:

"IMPERIAL CITY MAY GO 'DRY.'"

"Only 'damp spot' in arid region object of bill before Legislature.

"El Centro, March 18.—A general mass meeting of the citizens of Imperial County has been called for Sunday evening, at El Centro, to take action in support of the Moorhouse bill, designed to prohibit the sale of liquor in the county. The bill is at present pending in the Legislature at Sacramento; and Assemblyman Moorhouse has appealed to the people for an expression of support to help his endeavors to have it enacted into a law at this session. Imperial is the only town in the valley in which saloons are run."

Fourth—That it is currently reported, and, as a basis for support, urging the passage of the bills, that the city of Imperial is contaminating the entire county, by reason of the open saloon in its corporate limits. We desire to state that the members of the board of trustees of the city of Imperial have been residents of the county of Imperial since its organization, and that each and every one of said board is a property owner in the city of Imperial. That it is a matter of common knowledge which cannot be disputed that the illicit sale of liquor has been flourishing in every incorporated city in Imperial County since the date of incorporation, and still is flourishing in every city, with the single exception of the city of Imperial, where liquor is sold under stringent regulations. The city of El Centro has within the past three weeks held under arrest and for trial more than a dozen of its citizens, charged with the illegal sale of intoxicating liquors. That in the city of Holtville, California, there has been recently a campaign waged against the illicit sale of liquor, and more than a score of the residents of Holtville have been prosecuted, and the said prosecutions were the cause of the indictment of three men in the Superior Court charged with criminal conspiracy. That ever since the formation of Imperial County, not only has every incorporated city in Imperial County, but the county itself has been constantly engaged in the warfare against the sale of liquor illegally. It is not something new since Imperial licensed the sale of liquor openly.

(Signed) D. H. CLARK,
President of Board of Trustees, City of Imperial, California.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, {
COUNTY OF IMPERIAL, } ss.

I, Lelia Foster, city clerk of the city of Imperial, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a full, true and correct copy of a resolution passed and adopted by the board of trustees of the city of Imperial, at a regular meeting held on the 20th day of March, 1913.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of the city of Imperial, this 20th day of March, 1913.

The directors of any bank having a capital stock may, at certain times, and in such manner as its by-laws prescribe, declare and pay dividends to depositors and stockholders of so much of the profits of the bank, and of the interest arising from the capital, surplus and deposits, as may be appropriated for that purpose under its by-laws or under its agreements with depositors, but every such bank shall, before the declaration of any such dividend, carry at least one tenth part of the net profits of the stockholders for the preceding half year, or for such period as is covered by the dividend, to its surplus, until such surplus shall amount to twenty-five per centum of its paid-up capital stock. The whole or any part of such surplus, if held as the exclusive property of the stockholders, may at any time be converted into paid-in capital in which even such surplus shall be restored in the manner above provided until it amounts to twenty-five per centum of the aggregate paid-up capital stock. Subject to the provisions of section nineteen of this Act, any losses sustained by any such bank in excess of its undivided profits may be charged to and paid from its surplus, in which event such surplus shall be restored in the manner above provided, to the amount required by law; provided, however, that any bank which has invested any portion of its surplus in its bank premises, furniture and fixtures, vaults, or safe deposit vaults and boxes necessary or proper to carry on its banking business shall not be permitted to charge any loss to that portion of its surplus so invested. A larger surplus may be created and nothing herein contained shall be construed as prohibitory thereof. The capital and assets of any such bank are a security to depositors and stockholders, depositors having the priority of security over stockholders.

SEC. 21. A new section is hereby added to said Act, to be numbered twenty-one a, and to read as follows:

Section 21a. No bank, banker, or bank officer, shall give preference to any depositor or creditor by pledging the assets of the bank as collateral security, except as otherwise authorized by law; provided, that any commercial bank, or commercial department of a departmental bank, may borrow money for temporary purposes, and may pledge assets of said commercial bank, or commercial department of said departmental bank, not exceeding fifty per centum in excess of the amount borrowed, as collateral security therefor; provided, that any public moneys, or postal savings moneys, deposited with any such bank under any provision of law, shall not be construed as "borrowed money" within the meaning of this section. No bank shall at any time, without permission of the superintendent of banks, borrow an amount exceeding the amount of its paid-up capital stock and surplus at such time actually paid in and remaining undiminished by losses or otherwise. No bank shall make partial payments upon any certificate of deposit. In no case shall an overdraft of more than ninety days standing be allowed as an asset of any bank. Any debt due to any commercial bank, on which interest is past due and unpaid for the period of one year, unless the same is well secured, and is in process of collection, shall be considered a bad debt and shall be charged off to the profit and loss account at the expiration of that time.

SEC. 22. Section twenty-two of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 22. Any corporation authorized by its articles of incorporation so to do, may combine the business of a commercial bank and savings bank and trust company, or any one or more or all of them; provided, that no corporation authorized to transact a trust business and which is also organized to engage in the business of title insurance, shall engage in or combine the business of a commercial bank or savings bank.

SEC. 23. Section twenty-three of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 23. When a bank desires to do a departmental business, it shall first obtain the consent of the superintendent of banks, and in its application therefor, file a statement making a segregation of its capital and surplus for each department. Such capital and surplus, when so apportioned and approved by the superintendent of banks, shall be considered and treated as the separate capital and surplus of such department as if each department was a separate bank. Thereafter a bank may, from time to time, with the previous consent and approval of the superintendent of banks and subject to the provisions of section nineteen of this Act, change any segregation and apportionment of capital and surplus previously made and make a new segregation and apportionment of its capital and surplus. Every bank hereafter organized doing a departmental business shall have paid up, in cash, capital stock as follows:

(a) In any locality in which the population does not exceed five thousand persons, not less than twenty-five thousand dollars if it transacts both a commercial and savings business, or not less than one hundred twenty-five thousand dollars, if it transacts both a commercial and trust business, or not less than one hundred twenty-five thousand dollars if it transacts both a savings and trust business and not less than one hundred twenty-five thousand dollars if it transacts a commercial, savings and trust business.

(b) In any city in which the population is more than five thousand persons, but does not exceed twenty-five thousand persons, not less than fifty thousand dollars if it transacts both a commercial and savings business, or not less than one hundred fifty thousand dollars if it transacts both a commercial and trust business, or not less than one hundred fifty thousand dollars if it transacts both a savings and trust business, and not less than one hundred fifty thousand dollars if it transacts a commercial, savings and trust business.

(c) In any city in which the population is more than twenty-five thousand persons but does not exceed one hundred thousand persons, not less than one hundred thousand dollars, if it transacts both a commercial and savings business, or not less than two hundred thousand dollars if it transacts both a commercial and trust business, or not less than two hundred thousand dollars if it transacts both a savings and trust business, and not less than two hundred thousand dollars if it transacts a commercial, savings and trust business.

(d) In any city in which the population is more than one hundred thousand persons but does not exceed two hundred thousand persons, not less than two hundred thousand dollars, if it transacts both a commercial and savings business, or not less than four hundred thousand dollars if it transacts both a commercial and trust business, or not less than four hundred thousand dollars if it transacts both a savings and trust business, and not less than four hundred thousand dollars if it transacts a commercial, savings and trust business.

(e) In any city in which the population exceeds two hundred thousand persons, not less than three hundred thousand dollars if it transacts both a commercial and savings business, or not less than five hundred thousand dollars if it transacts both a commercial and trust business, or not less than five hundred thousand dollars if it transacts both a savings and trust business, and not less than five hundred thousand dollars if it transacts a commercial, savings and trust business.

The foregoing classification shall not apply to any bank already in existence which has received from the superintendent of banks a certificate to do a banking business; nor to any bank the location of which shall have been included by annexation or consolidation within the limits of a city of a class requiring a larger capitalization, but no bank thus excepted shall be permitted to establish any new branch office as provided in section nine of this Act or to remove its place of business from the original limits of the city or township wherein it was located prior to such annexation or consolidation until it shall have the capital required of banks in such city not within said exception. Such excepted banks may not in any case decrease their capital stock but may increase the same in the manner provided by law to an amount either greater or less than that required of banks in such city not within said exception. The capital stock referred to herein shall be increased from time to time and to the same extent as provided for in section nineteen of this Act. For the purposes of this Act, the population shown and determined by the last preceding federal census, or any subsequent census compiled and certified under any law of this state, shall be deemed to be the population of any city in which any such bank is to be organized. If the principal place of business of any bank so organized is located outside of the corporate limits of any city, then the population of that portion of the judicial township in which said bank is to have its principal place of business, which is not included within the boundaries of any municipal corporation, as such population is shown and determined by such federal or subsequent official census, shall be the basis for classification under the provisions of this Act.

SEC. 24. Section twenty-four of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 24. Every bank, before it commences to do business or before it opens a new department and commences to transact business in or under such new department, shall obtain the certificate of the superintendent of banks for the opening of each of the departments specified. Each certificate herein provided for shall be given when the superintendent shall, by the examination required by this Act, have satisfied himself that the proper amount of cash has been paid in as capital and the provisions of this Act complied with. The applicant shall pay for the certificate for each department a fee of fifty dollars.

SEC. 25. Section twenty-five of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 25. Every bank shall maintain for each department a lawful money reserve equal in amount to that required by this Act for the respective business conducted, and shall keep separate and distinct the lawful money reserve of any department from that of any other department; and all deposits made with other banks, whether temporary or otherwise, shall be assets of the respective departments by which they were made, and shall be so carried on the books of such other banks.

and shall be repaid only upon the order of the department to whose credit they stand. No department shall receive deposits of any other department of the same corporation; except that a trust department may make deposits of trust or any other funds under its control with the commercial or savings department of the same corporation; provided, however, that any bank having departments shall have the right to sell and transfer any bonds, securities or loans from one department to another upon receipt of the actual value thereof, if such bonds, securities or loans are, under the provisions of this Act, a legal investment for the department purchasing the same.

SEC. 26. Section twenty-seven of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 27. All money and assets belonging to each department, whether on hand or with other banks, and the investments made, shall be held solely for the repayment of the depositors and other claimants of each such department, as herein provided, until all depositors and other claimants of each such department shall have been paid, and the overplus then remaining shall be applied to any other liabilities of such bank.

SEC. 27. Section twenty-eight of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 28. Every bank in this state must, on all its window signs and in advertising, and on letterheads and other stationery on which its business is transacted, use the word "savings" if it conducts a savings business, or the word "trust" if it conducts a trust business, and the word "commercial" if it conducts a commercial business.

SEC. 28. Section thirty-one of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 31. Any bank may sell the whole of its business or the whole of the business of any of its departments to any other bank which may purchase such business after obtaining the consent of the stockholders of the selling and of the purchasing banks holding of record at least two thirds of the issued capital stock of each of such corporations; such consent to be expressed either in writing executed and acknowledged by such stockholders and attached to the instrument of sale, or to a copy thereof, or by vote at a stockholders' meeting of each of such banks called for that purpose. The selling and purchasing banks must for such purposes enter into an agreement of sale and purchase, which agreement shall contain all the terms and conditions connected with such sale and purchase. Such agreement shall contain proper provision for the payment of liabilities of the selling bank or of the department sold, and in this particular shall be subject to the approval of the superintendent of banks; and shall not be valid until such approval is obtained. Such agreement may contain provisions for the transfer of all deposits to the purchasing bank, subject, however, to the right of every depositor of the selling bank to withdraw his deposit in full on demand after such transfer, irrespective of the terms under which it was deposited with the selling bank. The rights of creditors of the selling bank shall not in any manner be impaired by any such sale, nor shall any liability or obligation for the payment of any money due or to become due, or any claim or demand, in any manner, or for any cause existing against such selling bank or against any stockholder thereof, be in any manner released or impaired, and all the rights, obligations and relations of all the parties, creditors, depositors, trustees and beneficiaries of trusts shall remain unimpaired by the sale, but such bank to which the other shall sell all its business or all the business of any of its departments, shall succeed to all such relations, obligations, trusts and liabilities and be held liable to pay and discharge all such debts and liabilities and to perform all such trusts of the selling bank in the same manner as if such bank to which the other had sold had itself incurred the obligation or liability or assumed the relation of trust, and the stockholders of the respective corporations so entering into such agreement shall continue subject to all the liabilities, claims and demands existing against them as such at or before such sale. Immediately after the execution of such agreement of sale and purchase notice thereof shall be published for at least four successive weeks in a newspaper in each of the counties of the State in which either of such banks shall have its principal place of business; provided, however, that no action can be brought against such selling bank or any of its stockholders on account of any deposits so transferred after the expiration of one year from the last day of publication herein required. An affidavit showing such publication shall be filed in the office of the superintendent of banks within ten days after the last publication thereof. The affairs of such selling bank, or selling department of a bank, shall remain subject to the provisions of this Act.

SEC. 29. A new section is hereby added to said Act, to be numbered thirty-one a, and to read as follows:

Section 31a. Any bank incorporated under the laws of this state may consolidate with one or more banks incorporated under the laws of this state, its capital stock, properties, trusts, claims, demands, contracts, agreements, obligations, debts, liabilities and assets of every kind and description, upon such terms and in such manner as may be agreed upon by their respective boards of directors, a copy of which agreement must be filed in the office of the superintendent of banks; provided, that such agreement shall be subject to the approval of the superintendent of banks and shall not be valid until such approval be obtained: provided, further, that no such consolidation shall take effect until such agreement shall have been ratified and confirmed in writing by the stockholders of the respective banks holding of record at least two thirds of the issued capital stock of their respective banks, or such agreement may be submitted to the stockholders of each of such corporations at a meeting thereof to be called upon notice specifying the time, place and object thereof, addressed to each stockholder at his last known post office address and deposited in the post office, postage prepaid, at least two weeks prior to the date fixed for said meeting, and published for at least two successive weeks, prior to the date of said meeting, in a newspaper in each of the counties of the state in which any of such banks shall have its principal place of business, and if such agreement shall be approved at each of such meetings of the respective stockholders separately by the vote or ballot of the stockholders owning at least two thirds of the stock of each such bank, the same shall be the agreement of such banks. In case of such consolidation "articles of incorporation and consolidation" must be prepared, setting forth:

First—The name of the new corporation;

Second—The purpose for which it is formed;

Third—The place where its principal business is to be transacted;

Fourth—The term for which it is to exist, which shall not exceed fifty years;

Fifth—The number of its directors (which shall not be less than three) and the names and residences of the persons appointed to act as such until their successors are elected and qualified;

Sixth—The amount of its capital stock and the number of shares into which it is divided;

Seventh—The amount of stock actually subscribed, and by whom;

Eighth—The names of the constituent corporations.

Said articles of incorporation and consolidation must be signed and countersigned by the president and secretary of each constituent corporation and sealed with their corporate seals. There must be annexed thereto the approval of the superintendent of banks and memoranda of the ratification and confirmation thereof by the stockholders of each constituent corporation, which must be respectively signed and acknowledged by stockholders representing at least two thirds of the capital stock of their respective corporations. When completed as aforesaid said articles must be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which is located the principal place of business of the new corporation, and a copy of the articles of incorporation and consolidation certified by such county clerk must be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and a copy of the articles of incorporation and consolidation certified by said secretary of state must be filed in the office of the superintendent of banks, and also in the office of the county clerk of any county in which were filed the original articles of incorporation of either of the constituent corporations, and thereupon each constituent corporation named therein must be deemed and held to have become extinct in all courts and places, and said new corporation must be deemed and held in all courts and places to have succeeded to all their several capital stocks, properties, trusts, claims, demands, contracts, agreements, assets, choses and rights in action of every kind and description, both at law and in equity, and to be entitled to possess, enjoy, and enforce the same and every thereof, as fully and completely as either and every of its constituents might have done had no consolidation taken place. Said consolidated or new corporation must also, in all courts and places, be deemed and held to have become subrogated to its several constituents and each thereof, in respect to all their contracts and agreements with other parties, and all their debts, obligations, and liabilities, of every kind and nature, to any persons, corporations, or bodies politic, whomsoever, or whatsoever, and said new corporation must sue and be sued in its own name in any and every case in which any or either of its constituents might have sued or might have been sued at law or in equity had no such consolidation been made. Nothing in this section contained shall be construed to impair the obligation of any contract to which any of such constituents were parties at the date of such consolidation. All such contracts may be enforced by action or suit, as the case may be, against the consolidated corporation, and satisfaction obtained out of the property which, at the date of the consolidation, belonged to the constituent which was a party to the contract in action or suit, as well as out of any other property belonging to the consolidated corporation, and the stockholders of each constituent corporation so entering into such agreement shall continue subject to all the liabilities, claims and demands existing against them at or before such consolidation to the same extent as if the same had not been made. The right of said new corporation to increase or decrease its capital stock, to change the number of its directors, to amend its articles of incorporation, to change its principal place of business, or its name, or to effect any other organic change shall be governed by the general corporation laws of this state and by the Bank Act, and the procedure to effect any such change shall be that defined by the general corporation laws and the bank Act.

SEC. 30. Section thirty-two of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 32. Any bank receiving trust funds in accordance with the provisions of this Act relating to trust companies must not mingle such trust funds with the other assets of the corporation, except as otherwise provided in section twenty-five of this Act, and such funds shall not be carried or counted as any part of the lawful money reserve provided for in this Act. The officers of any bank who

SEC. 31. Section thirty-three of said Act is hereby repealed.

SEC. 32. Section thirty-four of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 34. No bank shall purchase or invest its capital or surplus or money of its depositors, or any part of either, in shares of its own capital stock; nor loan its capital or surplus or the money of its depositors, or any part of either, on shares of its own capital stock, unless such purchase or loan shall be necessary to prevent loss to such bank on debts previously contracted in good faith. Every person or corporation violating any provision of this section shall forfeit to the people of the state twice the nominal amount of such stock.

SEC. 33. Section thirty-five of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 35. No director, or officer, or employee, or controlling stockholder of any bank shall, directly or indirectly, for his own account, for himself, or as the partner or agent of others, sell or transfer, or cause to be sold or transferred to the bank of which he is a director, officer, employee, or controlling stockholder, any note or bond secured by any mortgage or trust deed on real estate or any contract arising from the sale of real estate in which such director, or officer, or employee, or controlling stockholder is personally or financially interested, without the consent in writing of the superintendent of banks. Any director, or officer, or employee, or controlling stockholder of any bank who knowingly violates or consents to the violation of this provision shall be guilty of a felony.

SEC. 34. Section thirty-seven of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 37. No bank shall purchase or invest its capital or surplus or money of its depositors, or any part of either, in the capital stock of any corporation unless the purchase or acquisition of such capital stock shall be necessary to prevent loss to the bank on a debt previously contracted in good faith. Any capital stock so purchased or acquired shall be sold by such bank within six months thereafter if it can be sold for the amount of the claim of such bank against it; and all capital stock thus purchased or acquired must be sold for the best price obtainable by said bank within one year after such purchase or acquisition. Every person violating any provision of this section, shall for each offense forfeit to the people of the state, three times the face value of any such obligation so purchased.

SEC. 36. Section forty-two of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 42. No officer, director, or agent or other employee of any bank, shall directly or indirectly, for his own personal benefit, purchase, or be interested in the purchase of any of the assets of said bank for a less sum than the current market value thereof. SEC. 37. Section forty-three of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 43. No bank shall deposit any of its funds in any other bank unless such other bank has been designated as a depository for its funds by the vote of a majority of the directors or trustees of the bank making the deposit, exclusive of the vote of any director who is an officer, director, or trustee of the depository so designated; provided, however, that any bank may designate any other bank its depository by vote of a majority of its directors, including the vote of any director or trustee who is an officer, director or trustee of the depository so designated, if such bank has secured the previous approval of the superintendent of banks, which approval he may at any time revoke for proper cause.

SEC. 39. Section forty-seven of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 47. No commercial bank shall, except for the purpose of facilitating the sale of property owned by the bank, make any loan on the security of real estate, unless it is a first lien and is either

(2) Made for a period of time exceeding six months and not exceeding ten years and does not exceed sixty per centum of the market value of the real estate taken as security.

No commercial bank shall loan in the aggregate more than thirty-five per centum of its assets on real estate loans of the character specified in subdivision two of this section. These provisions, however, shall not prevent any bank from taking another and immediately subsequent mortgage or deed of trust thereon when it already holds a first mortgage or deed of trust on such real estate, nor from accepting a second lien on real estate to secure the repayment of a debt previously contracted in good faith; nor shall it prevent subsequent liens of any kind from being taken to secure the payment of a debt previously contracted in good faith when, in the judgment of the directors of such bank, such subsequent liens are necessary further to secure the payment of any debts and save such bank from loss.

SEC. 40. Section forty-eight of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 48. Any national bank in this state receiving the deposits of any bank organized and conducting business under this Act, must, at the request of the superintendent of banks, submit to an examination by him, or his duly appointed examiners, should the superintendent of banks in his discretion deem it necessary or desirable that such examination be made; and the expense of such examination shall be paid by such national bank; and if any such national bank shall refuse to permit such examination to be made by, or under the direction of the superintendent of banks, then the superintendent of banks shall notify in writing every bank depositing its funds with such national bank, to withdraw its deposits therefrom, and all such banks shall comply with such order.

SEC. 41. Section forty-nine of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 49. It shall not be lawful for any commercial bank, individual, trust company, association, firm, stock company, copartnership or corporation, to advertise or put forth a sign as a savings bank, either directly or indirectly or in any way to solicit or receive deposits or to transact business in the way or manner of a savings bank, or advertise that he or it is receiving or accepting savings, or in any way which might lead the public to believe that such deposits are received or invested under the same conditions or in the same manner as deposits in savings banks, except in the case of savings banks or banks having savings departments, subject to the provisions of this Act. Any commercial bank, individual, trust company, association, firm, stock company, copartnership or corporation, violating any provision of this section shall forfeit to this state one hundred dollars a day for every day during which such violation continues.

SEC. 42. Section fifty of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 50. Every bank shall post in a conspicuous place in its banking room of branch office the last certificate obtained from the superintendent of banks under the provisions of either section nine or one hundred twenty-seven of this Act.

SEC. 43. A new section is hereby added to said Act, to be numbered fifty-four and to read as follows:

Section 54. All real estate purchased by any bank at sales under pledges, mortgages or deeds of trust for its benefit for money loaned and such as may be conveyed to it by borrowers in satisfaction and discharge of loans made thereon and all other real estate owned or held by it, which is not necessary for carrying on its business, must be sold by such bank within five years after title thereto shall have vested in it by purchase or otherwise. Parcels of such real estate not sold within said time may be purchased by any person wanting the same upon the conditions and proceedings following: The intending purchaser may file a petition in the superior court in and for the county wherein said real estate or any portion thereof is situated; upon the filing of such petition a citation shall be issued out of said court directed to the bank owning such real estate requiring such bank to show cause on a day certain which shall be not earlier than ten days after the service of such citation, why commissioners should not be appointed by said court for the purpose of appraising the value of the real estate described in the petition and of selling the same at public auction under the provisions of this section. If there shall be any liens or encumbrances of record against such real estate the person or persons holding such liens or encumbrances shall likewise be cited and the court shall in its final decree distribute the proceeds of such sale, if a sale thereof shall be made, according to the equities of the parties. If it shall appear at the hearing of such petition that the real estate therein sought to be purchased is held by such bank in violation of the provisions of this section or of the constitution of this State, the court shall appoint three commissioners to appraise the value thereof and sell the same at public auction at the county seat of the county wherein said real estate or any part thereof is located. Notice of which said sale shall be given to the bank owning said real estate and to any other persons interested therein as shown by the records of such county at least ten days before the date of such sale and shall be published once a week for three successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county where such real estate or any part thereof may be located or if no newspaper shall be published in such county then in a newspaper published in some neighboring county. Such notice shall state the time and place of such sale and shall describe the real estate to be sold with common certainty and state the value thereof as fixed by the appraisement of such commissioners and state that no bid less than such appraised value will be received therefor. No sale shall be made for an amount less than the appraised value of such real estate fixed by said commissioners and in the event that no bid is received at such sale at least equal to said appraised value of said real estate no intending purchaser can institute the proceedings provided for in this section within one year thereafter. In case of any sale made under the provisions of this section and of the refusal of any bank owning such real estate or of any lienholder or encumbrancer to execute the conveyances or releases necessary or proper to vest the title of such bank, lienholder or encumbrancer in the purchaser thereof the court shall have power in such proceedings to direct said commissioners to execute such deeds, conveyances or releases upon the payment to them of the purchase price therefor. The fees of such commissioners and cost of sale shall be fixed by the court, upon making such appointment but the entire expense thereof shall not exceed $100. The cost of any such proceedings shall be borne by the intending purchaser if no sale shall be made but if a sale shall be made the costs of such proceedings shall be borne by the purchaser of the property and the person who filed the petition and advanced the costs of such proceedings shall be reimbursed in case he shall not become such purchaser. All sales hereunder shall be returned to the court having jurisdiction of the matter in the same manner as in the case of sales, by commissioners, of real estate on foreclosure of mortgages. Nothing in this section contained shall be deemed to affect the power of the superintendent of banks to require the writing down of the value of real estate held by any bank, at any time, when such writing down shall be proper.

SEC. 44. A new section is hereby added to said Act, to be numbered fifty-five and to read as follows:

Section 55. Receiving deposits, issuing certificates of deposit, checks and bills of exchange, and the like, in the transaction of the ordinary business of a bank, must not be construed to be the creation of debt within the meaning of the phrase "create debt" in section three hundred nine of the Civil Code, nor of indebtedness within the meaning of the phrase "the capital stock can not be diminished to an amount less than the indebtedness of the corporation" in section three hundred fifty-nine of the Civil Code, except that no bank shall reduce its capital stock to an amount less than is required by this Act to be maintained by such bank, or less than any indebtedness of such bank other than such deposits.

The terms "real estate," or "real property," or "personal property," when used in this Act shall have the meaning defined in, and shall be construed in accordance with the provisions of Title I of Part I of Division Second of the Civil Code.

SEC. 45. A new section is hereby added to said Act, to be numbered fifty-six, and to read as follows:

Section 56. Any bank organized and existing under the laws of this state is hereby authorized and empowered to join or associate itself with any "National Reserve Association of the United States" or branch thereof, or any plan now or hereafter created or established by Act of Congress whether such banking or currency association or plan be created by Congress under the above or any other name. Nothing in this Act shall prohibit any such bank from joining or associating itself with any such association or plan or branch thereof nor from investing any part of its capital or surplus in the stock of such association, plan or branch thereof in accordance with the terms and provisions of such Act of Congress; provided, however, that such investment shall in no case exceed the minimum amount required to join or associate itself with such association, plan or branch thereof. Any bank joining or associating itself with such association, plan or branch thereof, shall be permitted to conform to and transact its business in accordance with the terms and provisions of such Act of Congress creating the same and the rules and regulations of such association, plan or branch thereof, anything in this Act to the contrary notwithstanding.

SEC. 46. Section sixty of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 60. Every savings bank hereafter organized must have paid up in cash a capital stock of not less than

(a) twenty-five thousand dollars if its principal place of business is located in any locality the population of which does not exceed five thousand persons;

(b) fifty thousand dollars if its principal place of business is located in any city the population of which is more than five thousand persons, but does not exceed twenty-five thousand persons;

(c) one hundred thousand dollars if its principal place of business is located in any city the population of which is more than twenty-five thousand persons but does not exceed one hundred thousand persons;

(d) two hundred thousand dollars if its principal place of business is located in any city the population of which is more than one hundred thousand persons but does not exceed two hundred thousand persons;

(e) three hundred thousand dollars if its principal place of business is located in any city the population of which is more than two hundred thousand persons.

Excepting that any savings bank organized without capital stock must have a reserve fund of at least one million dollars. Until the capital stock or reserve fund hereinbefore required shall be actually paid in, the superintendent of banks shall refuse to issue the certificate required by this Act. The foregoing classification shall not apply to any savings bank already in existence which has received its certificate to do a banking business from the superintendent of banks; nor to any bank the location of which shall have been included by annexation or consolidation within the limits of a city of a class requiring a larger capitalization, but no bank thus excepted shall be permitted to establish any new branch office as provided in section nine of this Act or to remove its place of business from the original limits of the city or township wherein it was located prior to such annexation or consolidation until it shall have the capital required of banks in such city not within said exception. Such excepted banks may not in any case decrease their capital stock but may increase the same in the manner provided by law to an amount either greater or less than that required of banks in such city not within said exception; provided, that nothing herein shall be construed to affect the provisions of section nineteen of this Act relative to the proportion of capital and surplus to deposits or of section twenty-three of this Act relative to the capital stock required of banks doing a departmental business. The provisions of section twenty-three of this Act, as to population, shall apply to any bank organized under the provisions of this section.

Sec. 47. Section sixty-one of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 61. Any savings bank may purchase, hold and convey real or personal property as follows:

1. The lot and building in which the business of the bank is carried on; furniture and fixtures, vaults and safe deposit vaults and boxes necessary or proper to carry on its banking business; such lot and building, furniture and fixtures, vaults and safe deposit vaults and boxes shall not, in the aggregate, be carried on the books of such bank as an asset to an amount exceeding its paid-up capital and surplus; and hereafter, the authority of a two thirds vote of all of the directors shall be necessary to authorize the purchase of such lot and building, or the construction of such building.

2. Such as may have been mortgaged, pledged or conveyed to it in trust for its benefit in good faith, for money loaned in pursuance of the regular business of the corporation.

3. Such as may have been purchased at any sales under pledge, mortgage or deed of trust made for its benefit for money so loaned and such as may be conveyed to it by borrowers in satisfaction and discharge of loans made thereon. No savings bank shall purchase, own, or sell personal property, except such as may be requisite for its immediate accommodation for the convenient transaction of its business, notes or bonds secured by trust deeds or mortgages on real estate, bonds, securities or evidences of indebtedness, public or private, gold or silver bullion and United States mint certificates of ascertained value, and evidences of debt issued by the United States. No savings bank shall purchase, own, hold or convey bonds, securities or evidences of indebtedness, public or private, except as follows:

(a) Bonds or interest-bearing notes or obligations of the United States, or those for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for the payment of principal and interest;

(b) Bonds of this state, or those for which the faith and credit of the State of California are pledged for the payment of principal and interest;

(c) Bonds of any state in the United States that have not, within five years previous to making such investment by such bank, defaulted in the payment of any part of either principal or interest;

(d) Bonds of any county, city and county, city or school district of this state; bonds of any permanent road division in any county issued in pursuance of the provisions of Article IX, Chapter II, Title VI, Part III of the Political Code; bonds of any sewer district, drainage district, reclamation district, protection district, or sanitary district organized under the laws of this state; and any irrigation district bonds which the law may now or hereafter authorize to be used as security for the deposit of public moneys; provided, that the total amount of bonds so issued by any sewer district, drainage district, protection district, or sanitary district, does not exceed fifteen per centum of the value of the taxable property in said district as shown by the last equalized assessment roll of the county in which said district is located.

(e) Bonds of any county, city and county, city or town, in any state of the United States other than the State of California, issued under authority of any law of such state, which county, city and county, city or town, had, as shown by the federal or state census next preceding such investment, a population of more than twenty thousand inhabitants; provided, however, that the entire bonded indebtedness of such county, city and county, city or town, including such issue of bonds does not exceed fifteen per centum of the value of the taxable property therein as shown by its last equalized assessment roll, and provided, further, that such county, city and county, city or town, or the state in which it is located has not defaulted in payment of either principal or interest due upon any legally authorized bond issue within five years next preceding such investment.

(f) (1) Bonds of any railroad corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of California and operating exclusively therein; provided, said corporation has had, for its fiscal year next preceding such investment, net earnings, after payment of all maintenance charges, operating expenses and taxes sufficient to pay the interest on all of its outstanding mortgage indebtedness; or

(2) Bonds of any railroad corporation incorporated under the laws of any other state in the United States, operating at least five hundred miles of standard gauge track exclusive of sidings; provided, said corporation has had, for each of its three fiscal years next preceding such investment, net earnings, after the payment of all maintenance charges, operating expenses and taxes, amounting to at least one and one half times the interest on all its outstanding mortgage indebtedness; or

(3) Bonds of any railroad corporation, the payment of which has been guaranteed, both as to principal and interest, by a railroad corporation meeting the requirements of either subdivision (1) or (2) of paragraph (f) of this section; the income of which latter corporation, together with the income of any corporation whose bonds it has guaranteed, shall have been sufficient to pay all its maintenance charges, operating expenses, taxes and interest on all its outstanding mortgage indebtedness and, in addition thereto, interest on the total outstanding mortgage indebtedness of any other corporation the payment of which it has guaranteed, for the periods specified in the respective subdivisions of this paragraph relating thereto; provided, that the excess of income of any corporation whose bonds have been so guaranteed, over its maintenance charges, operating expenses, taxes and interest on its outstanding mortgage indebtedness, shall not apply to or be included in determining the income so required. In determining the income of any corporation specified in paragraph (f) of subdivision three of this section, there shall be included the income of any corporation or corporations out of which it shall have been formed through consolidation or merger, and of any corporation or corporations, the entire business and income producing property of which the corporation issuing such bonds has wholly acquired. All bonds authorized for investment by paragraph (f) of subdivision three of this section must be secured by a mortgage or trust deed which is at the time of making such investment either a first mortgage or deed of trust, a refunding mortgage or deed of trust providing for the retirement of all prior lien mortgage debts of said corporation, or an underlying or divisional closed mortgage or trust deed of property which forms a part of the operating system of the corporation then owning said property. No savings bank shall purchase the bonds of any railroad corporation deriving less than twenty per centum of its gross receipts from passenger revenues. The term "railroad corporation," when used in paragraph (f) of subdivision three of this section, shall have the meaning defined in the "Public Utilities Act," approved December 23, 1911.

(g) Bonds of any street railroad corporation; or of any gas; water; pipe line; light; power; light and power; gas, light and power; electrical; telephone; telegraph; or telephone and telegraph corporation or of any other "public utility" incorporated under the laws of the State of California; and

(1) Operating exclusively in the State of California; provided, said corporation has had, for its fiscal year next preceding such investment, net earnings, after the payment of all maintenance charges, operating expenses and taxes, amounting to one and one half times the interest on all its outstanding mortgage indebtedness; or

(2) Operating its property in part within the State of California; provided, said corporation has had, for each of its two fiscal years next preceding such investment, net earnings, after the payment of all maintenance charges, operating expenses and taxes, amounting to one and one half times the interest on all of its outstanding mortgage indebtedness; or

(3) The payment of which is guaranteed, both as to principal and interest, by a public utility corporation meeting the requirements of either subdivision (1) or (2) of paragraph (g) of this section; the income of which latter corporation, together with the income of any corporation whose bonds it has guaranteed, shall have been sufficient to pay all its maintenance charges, operating expenses, taxes and interest on all its total outstanding mortgage indebtedness, and in addition thereto, interest on the total outstanding mortgage indebtedness of any other corporation the payment of which it has guaranteed, for the period specified in the respective subdivisions of this paragraph relating thereto; provided, that the excess of income of any corporation whose bonds have been so guaranteed, over its maintenance charges, operating expenses, taxes and interest on its outstanding mortgage indebtedness shall not apply to or be included in determining the income so required. In determining the income of any corporation specified in paragraph (g) of subdivision three of this section, there shall be included the income of any corporation or corporations out of which it shall have been formed through consolidation or merger, and of any corporation the entire business and income producing property of which the corporation issuing such bonds has wholly acquired. All bonds authorized for investment by paragraph (g) of subdivision three of this section must be secured by a mortgage or trust deed which is at the time of making such investment; either

I. A closed first mortgage or deed of trust; or

II. A first mortgage or deed of trust containing provisions restricting the issuance of further bonds until such time as the income of said corporation shall have been at least sufficient, during the twelve months next preceding the issuance of any additional bonds, to pay all maintenance charges, operating expenses, taxes and one and one half times the interest on all its mortgage indebtedness then outstanding and on the additional bonds then proposed to be issued; or

III. A refunding mortgage or deed of trust providing for the retirement of all prior lien mortgage debts of said corporation, and restricting the issuance of further bonds until such time as the income of said corporation shall have been at least sufficient, during the twelve months next preceding the issuance of any additional bonds, to pay all maintenance charges, operating expenses, taxes and one and one half times the interest on all its mortgage indebtedness then outstanding, and on the additional bonds then proposed to be issued; or

IV. An underlying or divisional closed mortgage or trust deed of property which forms a part of the operating system of the corporation then owning said property. In the case of bonds secured by an underlying or divisional closed mortgage or trust deed, the net income required by this section shall be based exclusively upon the income, maintenance charges, operating expenses, taxes and mortgage indebtedness of or against the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or trust deed, or on the proper proportionate share of such property in the general income, maintenance charges, operating expenses, taxes and mortgage indebtedness of the corporation then owning such property; provided, however, that if the payment of the bonds secured by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or trust deed shall be guaranteed or assumed by the corporation then owning the property securing the same, such bonds shall be legal investments for savings banks, if the net income of such corporation from all sources after paying all of its maintenance charges, operating expenses, taxes and mortgage indebtedness shall equal the amount herein required, notwithstanding any insufficiency of the income derived from the property carried by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or trust deed to meet the requirements of this section. The term "street railroad corporation," "pipe line corporation," "gas corporation," "electrical corporation," "telephone corporation," "telegraph corporation," "water corporation," and "public utility," when used in paragraph (g) of subdivision three of this section, shall each have the meaning defined in the "Public Utilities Act," approved December 23, 1911.

(h) Notes or bonds secured by first mortgage or deed of trust upon real estate, improved or unimproved; provided, that the entire note or bond issue shall not exceed sixty per centum of the market value of such real estate, or such real estate with improvements, taken as security; and provided, further, in case the said note or bond issue is created for a building loan on real estate, that at no time shall the entire outstanding note or bond issue exceed sixty per centum of the market value of the real estate and the actual cost of the improvements thereon taken as security.

(i) Collateral trust bonds or notes when secured by either:

(1) Deposit of bonds authorized for investment by this section, of a market value at least fifteen per centum in excess of the par value of the collateral trust bonds or notes issued; or

(2) Deposit of bonds authorized for investment by this section, and other securities, of a combined market value at least twenty per centum in excess of the par value of the collateral trust bonds or notes issued; provided, that the par value of said collateral trust bonds or notes shall in no case exceed the market value of that portion of the security represented by bonds authorized for investment by this section.

(j) Bonds legal for investment by savings banks in the states of New York or Massachusetts; provided, however, that as to bonds of the character specified in paragraph (c) or (e) of subdivision three of this section, such bonds shall also conform to the requirements of either of such paragraphs.

(k) Certificates issued by a corporation organized under the laws of this state with a paid-up capital stock of not less than one hundred thousand dollars, evidencing and conferring participation to an indicated amount in a first mortgage on real estate and the debt secured thereby, and guaranteeing the payment of the principal of the mortgage debt at its maturity or within some specified time thereafter and agreeing to pay interest on the amount of the participation at some specified rate, the mortgage, however, and debt thereby secured to be assigned to a trust company and held by it as security for the payment of said mortgage certificates and for the performance of all conditions imposed thereby upon the corporation issuing the same; provided, the said first mortgage indebtedness shall not exceed sixty per centum of the market value of the real estate taken as security; and provided, further, that the trust company shall certify on each certificate that the aggregate amount of the certificate issued evidencing and conferring participation in any one such mortgage and mortgage debt does not exceed the principal of the said mortgage debt; but provided, nevertheless, that, unless such certificates are made legal investment for savings banks by other law of this state, no savings bank shall purchase any such certificates until the corporation issuing the same has first obtained the written approval of the superintendent of banks to such certificates as an investment for savings banks. The actual expense of investigating any issue of such certificates presented to the superintendent of banks for approval shall be paid by the corporation presenting the same, and the superintendent of banks, before making such investigation may require a cash deposit of such amount as he may deem necessary to cover such expense. The superintendent of banks may accept and act upon the opinions and appraisements of any title insurance or abstract company, attorneys or appraisers which may be presented by such corporation so applying, and the reports of any of the executive officers of the corporation issuing such certificates, on any question of fact concerning or affecting such certificates, the security thereof, or the financial condition of the corporation issuing the same. In lieu of or in addition to such opinions, appraisements and reports, the superintendent of banks may, if he deems proper, have any or all such matters passed upon and certified to him by attorneys, appraisers or accountants of his own selection at the expense of the applicant. The superintendent of banks shall keep an official list of all issues of such certificates approved by him. No notes, bonds, or other securities, the payment of which is secured by any mortgage or deed of trust executed after September 1, 1913, shall be deemed to come within or conform to the requirements of either of paragraphs (f), (g) or (i) of subdivision three of this section, unless such notes, bonds or other securities shall, in the manner provided in this Act, have been certified by the superintendent of banks, to come within and fully conform to the requirements of one or the other of said paragraphs. The legality of investments heretofore lawfully made pursuant to the provisions of this section, as it existed on and subsequent to July 1, 1909, shall not be affected by any amendments to this section or this Act; nor shall any such amendments require the changing of investments once lawfully made under this Act. Any bonds authorized by this section as a legal investment for savings banks may be carried on the books of said bank at their investment value based on their market value at the time they were originally bought, unless the superintendent of banks shall require any or all of the bonds which may thereafter have a market value less than the original investment value to be written down to such new market value which shall be done gradually if practicable and in such manner as he may determine; or he may, by a plan of amortization to be determined by him, require such gradual extinction of premium as will bring such bonds to par at maturity. No savings bank shall hereafter purchase or loan money upon any bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, issued by any "public utility," subject to the jurisdiction, regulation or control of the railroad commission of this state under the provisions of the "Public Utilities Act," approved December 23, 1911, unless each such bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness was either:

- (a) Issued prior to the taking effect of the "Public Utilities Act"; or
- (b) Issued under authority of the railroad commission, in accordance with the provisions of said Act; or
- (c) A note issued for a period not exceeding twelve months, in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (b) of section fifty-two of said Act.

No provision of this Act, and no act, or deed, done or performed under or in connection therewith, and no finding made or certificate issued under any provision thereof, shall be held or construed to obligate the State of California to pay, or be liable for the payment of, or to guarantee in any manner whatsoever, the regularity or validity of the issuance of any stock or bond certificate, or bond, note, or other evidence of indebtedness certified under any provision of this Act, by the superintendent of banks, as being in conformity with the requirements of any paragraph of subdivision three of this section.

SEC. 48. A new section is hereby added to said Act, to be numbered sixty-one a, and to read as follows:

Section 61*a*. The superintendent of banks shall have power, when any issue of bonds or securities is presented to him for that purpose, to investigate and ascertain whether such bonds or securities come within and fully conform to all the requirements of paragraphs (f), (g), (h) or (i) of subdivision three of section sixty-one of this Act, or of either of said paragraphs. He may also investigate and ascertain for what period of time, and upon what conditions, any franchise granted to or held by any corporation issuing any such bonds or securities will remain in force. The actual expense of investigating any issue of bonds or securities so presented shall be paid by the person or corporation presenting the same for investigation, and the superintendent of banks, before making such investigation may require a cash deposit of such amount as he may deem necessary to cover such expense. The superintendent of banks may accept and act upon the opinions and appraisements of any attorneys or appraisers which may be presented by such person or corporation so applying, and the reports of any of the executive officers of the corporation issuing such bonds or securities, on any question of fact concerning or affecting such bonds or securities, the security thereof, the franchise conditions herein mentioned, or the financial condition of the corporation issuing the same. In lieu of or in addition to such opinions, appraisements and reports, the superintendent of banks may, if he deems proper, have any or all such matters passed upon and certified to him by attorneys, appraisers or accountants of his own selection at the expense of the applicant. If the superintendent of banks shall find from such investigation that the bonds or securities so presented come within and fully conform to all the requirements of any of said paragraphs of subdivision three of section sixty-one of this Act, and is satisfied from such investigation as to such franchise conditions, he shall so certify, otherwise a certificate shall be refused. The superintendent of banks shall keep an official list of all bonds and securities certified by him.

Sec. 49. Section sixty-four of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 64. Each savings bank must prescribe by its by-laws, or by contract with its depositors, the time and conditions on which repayment is to be made to depositors, except as in this Act otherwise provided. In all cases the by-laws or contracts shall provide that notice of at least thirty days may, at the option of any such bank, be required to be given of intention to withdraw any deposit or part thereof, but whenever there is any call by depositors for repayment of a greater amount than the bank may have disposable for that purpose, the directors or officers thereof must not make any new loan or investment of the funds of the depositors or of earnings thereof until such excess of call has ceased. The directors of any such bank having no capital stock shall, before the declaration of any dividend, carry at least one tenth part of the net profits of such bank, for the preceding half year, or for the period covered by said dividend, to its reserve fund. Subject to the provisions of section nineteen of this Act, any losses sustained by any such bank may be charged to and paid out of its reserve fund. A larger reserve fund may be created and nothing herein contained shall be construed as prohibitory thereof. The assets of any such bank are a security to its depositors. Any such bank organized without capital stock, may provide by its by-laws for the disposal of any amount in its reserve fund in excess of the amount required by section nineteen of this Act and may also provide for final disposal upon the dissolution of the bank of its reserve fund or the balance thereof remaining after payment of any losses of such bank.

Sec. 50. Section sixty-five of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 65. No loan shall be made, directly or indirectly, to any director or officer of any savings bank by such bank or on the endorsement, surety or guaranty of any such officer or director, except that loans may be made to any corporation in which any director or officer of such savings bank may own or hold a minority number of shares of stock, upon authorization of a majority of all the directors of such savings bank and the affirmative vote of all directors of such savings bank present at the meeting authorizing such loan; provided, however, that such loan shall in all other respects conform to and comply with all other provisions of this Act. Such interested director or officer shall not vote or participate in any manner in the action of the board on such loan. Such authorization shall be entered upon the records or minutes of such savings bank. The fact of making such loan, the names of the directors authorizing such loan, the corporate name of the borrower, the name of each director or officer of such bank who is a member, stockholder, or director of the corporation to which such loan is made, the amount of such loan, the rate of interest thereon, the time when the loan will become due, the amount, character and value of security given therefor and the fact of payment, when made, shall be forthwith reported in writing by the cashier or secretary of such savings bank to the superintendent of banks. A loan may be made to any agent or employee, other than an officer or director, of any savings bank by such bank upon authorization of a majority of all the directors of such savings bank and an affirmative vote of all directors of such savings bank present at the meeting authorizing such loan; provided, however, that such loan shall in all respects conform to and comply with all other provisions of this Act. Such authorization shall be entered upon the records or minutes of such savings bank. The fact of making such loan, the names of the directors authorizing such loan, the name of the borrower, the nature of his employment, the amount of such loan, the rate of interest thereon, the time when the loan will become due, the amount, character and value of the security given therefor, and the fact of payment, when made, shall be forthwith reported in writing by the cashier or secretary of such savings bank to the superintendent of banks. Any officer or director of any savings bank, who knowingly procures a loan from such savings bank, contrary to the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a felony. In case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank, to report to the superintendent of banks, as herein provided, any of the facts so required to be reported, the bank shall be liable therefor and shall forfeit to the people of the State of California twenty-five dollars per day for each day, or part thereof, during which such neglect or failure continues.

Sec. 51. Section sixty-six of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 66. No savings bank shall hereafter make any loans to any person, firm, copartnership or corporation to an amount exceeding fifty per centum of the actual paid-up capital stock and surplus of such bank, or in the case of a bank organized without capital stock, to an amount exceeding fifty per centum of the reserve fund of such bank; provided, however, that any savings bank having a paid-up capital and surplus of less than fifty thousand dollars, but not less than twenty-five thousand dollars, may make any such loan on real estate security to an amount not exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars; and provided, further, that any savings bank having a paid-up capital and surplus of less than twenty-five thousand dollars may make any such loan on real estate security to an amount not exceeding its paid-up capital and surplus, if each such loan in all other respects conforms to the provisions of this Act. The renewal or extension of any loan heretofore legally made by any savings bank shall not be construed to be a "loan hereafter made" within the meaning of the provisions of this section. The legality of investments heretofore lawfully made pursuant to the provisions of this Act as it existed on and subsequent to July 1, 1909, shall not be affected by the provisions of this section. For the purposes of this section an endorser or guarantor shall be deemed to be a borrower.

SEC. 52. Section sixty-seven of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 67. 1. No savings bank shall loan money except on adequate security of real or personal property, and no such loan shall be made for a period longer than ten years; provided, that no such loan shall be made on unsecured notes.

2. No savings bank shall invest or loan more than five per centum of its assets on any one bond issue, except bonds of the United States, of the State of California, bonds for which the faith and credit of the United States or of the State of California are pledged, or bonds of any county, city and county, city or school district in this state, or bonds of any irrigation district which the law may now or hereafter authorize to be used as security for the deposit of public moneys of this state.

3. No savings bank shall loan money:

(a) On bonds of the character specified in paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d) of subdivision three of section sixty-one of this Act, unless such bonds shall have a market value at least ten per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or

(b) On bonds of the character specified in paragraphs (e), (f) and (g) or on bonds or notes of the character specified in paragraph (i) of subdivision three of section sixty-one of this Act, unless such bonds or notes shall have a market value at least fifteen per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or

(c) On bonds legal for investment by savings banks in the states of New York or Massachusetts, unless such bonds shall have a market value at least fifteen per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or

(d) On personal property unless such personal property shall have a market value at least fifty per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or

(e) On other bonds, or on the capital stock of any corporation, unless such bonds or stock shall have a market value at least fifty per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; provided, however, that no loan shall be made upon the capital stock of any bank unless such bank has been in existence at least two years and has earned and paid a dividend on its capital stock.

4. No savings bank shall make any loan on the security of real estate, except it be a first lien, and in no event to exceed sixty per centum of the market value of any real estate taken as security except for the purpose of facilitating the sale of property owned by such savings bank: provided, that a second lien may be accepted to secure the repayment of a debt previously contracted in good faith; and provided, also, that any savings bank holding a first mortgage or deed of trust on real estate may take or purchase and hold another and immediately subsequent mortgage or deed of trust thereon, but all such loans shall not exceed in the aggregate sixty per centum of the market value of the real estate securing the same; provided, further, that a savings bank may loan not to exceed ninety per centum of the face value of a note or bond secured by a first mortgage or deed of trust on real estate, but in no event shall any such loan exceed ninety per centum of sixty per centum of the market value of the real estate covered by said mortgage or deed of trust.

5. No savings bank shall purchase, invest or loan its capital, surplus or the money of its depositors, or any part of either, in mining shares or stock. Any president or managing officer who knowingly consents to a violation of any provision of this section shall be guilty of a felony.

SEC. 53. Section sixty-eight of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 68. Every savings bank or savings department of a bank, shall at all times maintain a lawful money reserve equivalent to four per centum of the aggregate amount of its deposits; one half of such lawful money reserve shall be kept on hand in lawful money of the United States or gold certificates or silver certificates of the United States, and one half may consist of bonds of the United States or of lawful money of the United States or gold certificates or silver certificates of the United States, on hand or on deposit subject to call with any reserve bank provided for in section twenty of this Act; provided, however, that no savings bank or savings department shall be required to maintain in its own keeping a lawful money reserve in excess of four hundred thousand dollars, and when such lawful money reserve in its own keeping reaches that amount, the balance of cash necessary to make up the four per centum may be kept on deposit subject to call with any reserve bank provided for in section twenty of this Act. No new loan shall be made during any deficiency in the lawful money reserve. Deposits with any commercial bank, or commercial department of a bank, on open account, to facilitate business transactions, as provided in this section, shall be permitted and shall not be construed as loans. Not more than five per centum of the deposits of any savings bank shall be deposited with any one bank, except with the consent of the superintendent of banks. Not more than fifteen per centum of the deposits of any savings bank shall be deposited with all other banks, except with the consent of the superintendent of banks. No savings bank or savings department shall receive deposits of other banks other than savings deposits and such deposits shall not be treated or considered as a part of the lawful money reserve of such depositing bank; provided, that the sum so deposited shall not exceed ten thousand dollars.

SEC. 54. Section eighty of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 80. No commercial bank shall make any loans to any person, firm, copartnership or corporation, to an amount exceeding the following percentages of its capital stock actually paid in and surplus:

1. Ten per centum without security, except where such capital stock and surplus is less than twenty-five thousand dollars, in which event an amount not to exceed twenty per centum of such capital stock and surplus may be loaned without security, and where such capital stock and surplus is greater than twenty-five thousand dollars and does not exceed fifty thousand dollars, a sum not exceeding five thousand dollars may be loaned without security. Nothing herein shall prohibit any commercial bank from taking or receiving any kind, character or amount of security whatsoever, either real or personal, for the protection of any loan made under the provisions of this subdivision, but no such loan or any part thereof shall be considered or construed as a secured loan unless the whole thereof is loaned upon security worth at least fifteen per centum more than the amount of such loan; or,

2. Fifteen per centum, in addition to the amount that may be loaned under the provisions of subdivision one of this section, upon security worth at least fifteen per centum more than the amount of such loan so secured; provided, however, that a separate note or notes shall be taken for the unsecured loans and a separate note or notes shall be taken for the secured loans, and the secured and unsecured loans shall not be combined in any way within one note or notes; or,

3. Twenty-five per centum upon security worth at least fifteen per centum more than the amount of its loans so secured; provided, however, that when secured loans to this amount or any amount in excess of fifteen per centum are made, then no unsecured loans shall be permitted in addition to such secured loans.

A commercial bank may buy from, or discount for, any person, firm, copartnership or corporation, or loan upon bills of lading or bills of exchange drawn in good faith against actual existing value an amount not exceeding seventy-five per centum of the paid-up capital and surplus of such bank; and may also buy from or discount for any person, firm, copartnership or corporation, commercial or business paper actually owned by the person, firm, copartnership or corporation negotiating the same, an amount not exceeding twenty-five per centum of the paid-up capital and surplus of such bank; but the discount of bills of lading or bills of exchange drawn in good faith against actual existing value, and the discount of commercial or business paper actually owned by the person, firm, copartnership or corporation negotiating the same shall not be considered as money borrowed by the person, firm, copartnership or corporation selling or discounting the same.

SEC. 55. Section eighty-two of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 82. Every commercial bank hereafter organized must have paid up in cash a capital stock of not less than,

(a) Twenty-five thousand dollars if its principal place of business is located in any locality the population of which does not exceed five thousand persons;

(b) Fifty thousand dollars if its principal place of business is located in any city the population of which is more than five thousand persons but does not exceed twenty-five thousand persons;

(c) One hundred thousand dollars if its principal place of business is located in any city the population of which is more than twenty-five thousand persons but does not exceed one hundred thousand persons;

(d) Two hundred thousand dollars if its principal place of business is located in any city the population of which is more than one hundred thousand persons but does not exceed two hundred thousand persons;

(e) Three hundred thousand dollars if its principal place of business is located in any city the population of which is more than two hundred thousand persons.

The foregoing classification shall not apply to any commercial bank already in existence which has received its certificate to do a banking business from the superintendent of banks; nor to any bank the location of which shall have been included by annexation or consolidation within the limits of a city of a class requiring a larger capitalization, but no bank thus excepted shall be permitted to establish any new branch office as provided in section nine of this act or to remove its place of business from the original limits of the city or township wherein it was located prior to such annexation or consolidation until it shall have the capital required of banks in such city not within said exception. Such excepted banks may not in any case decrease their capital stock but may increase the same in the manner provided by law to an amount either greater or less than that required of banks in such city not within said exception; provided, that nothing herein shall be construed to affect the provisions of section nineteen of this Act relative to the proportion of capital and surplus to deposits or of section twenty-three of this Act relative to the capital stock required of banks doing a departmental business. The provisions of section twenty-three of this Act, as to population, shall apply to any bank organized under the provisions of this section.

SEC. 56. Section eighty-three of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 66. Section ninety-eight of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 98. Whenever any trust company, the principal place of business of which is located in a city the population of which does not exceed one hundred thousand persons, receives from court trusts accepted by it, trust funds, as herein defined, to the amount of five hundred thousand dollars, it shall forthwith notify in writing the superintendent of banks of such fact, and within thirty days thereafter shall deposit with the state treasurer additional money or securities of the character mentioned and defined in section ninety-six of this Act, approved as therein provided, in the amount of fifty thousand dollars; and whenever any trust company receives from court trusts such funds to the amount of one million dollars it shall further notify in writing the superintendent of banks of such fact and within thirty days thereafter shall deposit with the state treasurer additional money or securities of the character mentioned and defined in section ninety-six of this Act, approved as therein provided, in the amount of fifty thousand dollars; and for each additional five hundred thousand dollars of such trust funds thereafter received by any trust company from court trusts a similar notification in writing shall forthwith be given to the superintendent of banks, and a further deposit in the amount of twenty-five thousand dollars of such money or securities, or of securities provided for in section ninety-seven of this Act likewise approved, shall be made, within thirty days thereafter, by such trust company with said state treasurer. The validity or legality of any act or proceeding done or taken by any such trust company, relating to or in connection with the administration of any such trusts, shall not be affected or impaired by the neglect or failure of such trust company, or of any officer or employee thereof, to comply with any of the provisions of this Act, but all such acts and proceedings done or taken prior to the revocation of its certificate of authority to do such business by the superintendent of banks, under the provisions of this Act, or the revocation by any court or judge thereof of the appointment, order or decree theretofore entered in such trust matter shall be as valid and effective for all purposes as if any such neglect or failure had not occurred.

SEC. 74. Section one hundred six of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 106. Any such trust company desiring to do, or doing, a commercial banking business or a savings bank business, or both, in addition to its trust business shall have actually paid up, in cash, the amount of capital provided in section twenty-three of this Act. Any title insurance company authorized by its articles of incorporation to do, or doing a trust business, in addition to its title insurance business, shall comply with all the requirements of any law governing trust companies, and shall have a capital stock actually paid in, in cash, of not less than two hundred thousand dollars, and in addition thereto, the capital stock required by law for doing a title insurance business. Such capital for each such department or class of business shall be increased from time to time in the same manner and to the same extent as though each such department or class of business was conducted by a separate bank, trust company or title insurance company, instead of as separate departments or classes of business. Any trust company and any title insurance company doing a departmental business as above provided shall comply with the provisions of this Act governing each of such departments and with the provisions of any law governing each such class of business as to its deposits, reserve, surplus, investments and loans.

Sec. 75. A new section is hereby added to said Act, to be numbered one hundred seven, and to read as follows:

Section 107. Any corporation doing a departmental business as a title insurance company and as a trust company, shall, as to its trust department, be subject to the supervision and inspection of the superintendent of banks, and as to its trust department must make all reports to the superintendent of banks required to be made by trust companies by the provisions of this Act, and as to its trust department such corporation shall also be subject to, and shall have the benefit of all other provisions and requirements of this Act applicable to trust companies, and shall also be subject to and shall have the benefit of all of the banking laws and rules and regulations of the banking department of this state applicable to trust companies. Sec. 76. Section one hundred twenty-one of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 121. The superintendent of banks shall employ a chief deputy, attorney and such examiners and other assistants as he may need to discharge in a proper manner the duties imposed upon him by law, none of which examiners or assistants or attorney shall be interested in any bank in this state as director, stockholder, officer or employee, and they shall perform such duties as he shall assign to them. He shall fix the compensation of the chief deputy, attorney, examiners and other assistants, which compensation shall be paid monthly on his certificate and on the warrant of the controller out of the state treasury. The chief deputy shall within fifteen days from the time of his appointment take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office and file the same in the office of the secretary of state. No person shall be appointed a chief deputy who has not had at least three years' active banking experience, either as an executive officer or employee of some bank in this state. In case of the absence or inability to act, or vacancy in the office of the superintendent of banks for thirty consecutive days, the chief deputy shall execute to the people of the state a bond in the penal sum of fifty thousand dollars, with corporate surety or two sureties to be approved by the controller and treasurer of the state, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of the superintendent while such deputy acts as superintendent, and upon filing such bond such deputy shall have all the power and duties of superintendent of banks, until the inability of the superintendent shall be removed, or until a new superintendent of banks shall have been appointed by the governor. No superintendent of banks, chief deputy, or bank examiner, shall be or shall become indebted, directly or indirectly, either as borrower, endorser, surety, or guarantor, to any bank under his supervision or subject to his examination.

Sec. 77. Section one hundred twenty-three of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 123. A fund is hereby created to be known as the state banking fund, and out of said fund shall be paid all the expenses incurred in and about the conduct of the business of the banking department, including the salary of the superintendent, chief deputy, attorney, examiners and other assistants, traveling expenses, furnishing of rooms and rent. Each bank shall pay annually its share of eighty-seven thousand five hundred dollars, to be determined by the proportion which the capital and surplus which shall include all reserve and contingent funds, of any incorporated bank or the surplus, reserve and contingent funds of any bank organized without a capital stock bear to the capital, surplus, reserve and contingent funds in the aggregate of all such banks receiving certificates of authorization from the superintendent of banks, as shown by the last report of such bank to the superintendent of banks. All moneys collected or received by the superintendent of banks, under and by virtue of the provisions of this Act, shall be by him delivered to the treasurer of the state, who shall deposit the same to the credit of said banking fund, and the unexpended balances of all moneys heretofore paid into the state treasury by any of the bank commissioners or the superintendent of banks, shall be retained and become a part of said fund; provided, however, that the superintendent shall have authority to retain in his possession and under his control the sum of five hundred dollars to be used by him as a revolving fund for the benefit of the state banking department until the end of the fiscal year at which time he shall make full settlement with the treasurer of the state. If any such bank shall fail to pay such charges as are herein required, the superintendent shall forthwith cancel the certificate of said bank.

Sec. 78. Section one hundred twenty-four of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 124. Every bank and the trust department of every title insurance company doing a trust business, shall be subject to the inspection of the superintendent of banks. The superintendent of banks, the chief deputy, or some competent person or persons to be appointed by the superintendent of banks, to be known as examiners, shall visit and examine every bank at least once each fiscal year. On every such examination inquiries shall be made by him as to the condition and resources of the bank, the mode of conducting and managing its affairs, the action of its directors, the investment and disposition of its funds, the safety and prudence of its management, the security afforded to those by whom its engagements are held and whether the requirements of its articles of incorporation and the law have been complied with in the administration of its affairs, and as to such other matters as the superintendent may prescribe. Whenever, in the judgment of the superintendent of banks, the condition of any bank renders it necessary or expedient to make an extra examination or to devote any extraordinary attention to its affairs, the superintendent of banks shall have authority to make any and all necessary extra examinations and to devote any necessary extra attention to the conduct of its affairs; and such bank shall pay for all such extra services rendered by the superintendent of banks at a price to be fixed by the superintendent of banks but not to exceed twenty dollars per day. The superintendent of banks shall also have power to examine, or cause to be examined, every agency located in this state of any foreign bank or banking corporation, for the purpose of ascertaining whether it has complied with the laws of this state, and for such other purposes and as to such other matters as the superintendent may prescribe. The superintendent, chief deputy, and every such examiner shall have the power to administer an oath to any person whose testimony he may require on the examination of any bank, or on the examination of any agency of any foreign bank or banking corporation, and to compel appearance and attendance of any such person for the purpose of any such examination. When a bank shall have been examined by any examiner, and he finds securities therein which are, in his judgment, of doubtful value, he shall report the same to the superintendent of banks, who thereupon shall be authorized to employ appraisers at the expense of such bank to appraise said securities, at a compensation to be fixed by the superintendent of banks. The superintendent of banks shall, whenever requested to do so by any bank, provide an auditor to make an audit of the affairs of such bank. The compensation for making such audit shall be paid by the bank direct to the person making the audit. Nothing herein shall be deemed to authorize or require the superintendent of banks to inspect or supervise the private trust business or title insurance or abstracting of title business of any corporation doing a trust business.

SEC. 79. Section one hundred twenty-seven of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 127. No bank shall transact any business in this state without the written approval of the superintendent of banks, and without his written certificate stating that it has complied with the provisions of this Act, and all the requirements of law and that it is authorized to transact within this state, the business specified therein; which certificate may be withheld by the superintendent of banks whenever he has reason to believe that the bank is being formed for any other than the legitimate objects contemplated by this Act or whenever he has reason to believe that the public convenience and advantage will not be promoted by the opening of such bank, or whenever he has reason to believe that the corporate name assumed by such bank, by reason of the use by it of any one or more of the words "commercial," "trust," or "savings," in conjunction with any other word or words, resembles so closely as to be likely to cause confusion, the name of any other bank previously formed under the laws of this state. Before issuing such certificate the superintendent of banks shall examine, or cause an examination to be made in order to ascertain whether the requisite capital of such bank has been paid up in cash or the requisite reserve or surplus fund has been accumulated. The superintendent of banks shall not authorize such banks to commence business until it appears from such examination, or other evidence satisfactory to him, that the requisite capital has been, in good faith, subscribed and paid in, in cash, or that the requisite surplus or reserve fund has been accumulated or paid in, in cash, and until said bank shall have paid a fee of fifty dollars for each department to be operated by said bank.

SEC. 80. Section one hundred twenty-eight of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 128. When the certified copy of articles of incorporation of any bank shall have been filed with the secretary of state, and application made for the issuance of a certificate to do business as a bank, the superintendent of banks, provided he has not withheld granting his certificate for any of the reasons set forth in section one hundred twenty-seven hereof, shall ascertain, from the best sources of information at his command, whether the character and general fitness of the persons named as stockholders are such as to command the confidence of the community in which such bank is proposed to be located, and, if so satisfied, he shall, within sixty days after such application has been made to him, issue, under his hand and official seal, the certificate of authorization required by this Act. The superintendent of banks shall transmit a duplicate of such certificate of authorization to the county clerk of the county in which the principal place of business of such bank is located, and he shall file the same in his office. Every foreign corporation transacting the business of banking in this state shall make the report herein required as far as such report may relate to the affairs of such corporation in this state, and every foreign corporation must particularly render the report required by subdivisions three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fourteen and fifteen of this section. Such report shall be made in writing and verified by the oath of one of its duly authorized officers or managers residing in this state. The oaths of the officers and the statements above required shall state that they and each of them have a personal knowledge of the matters therein contained, and that they believe every allegation, statement, matter, and thing therein contained is true. Any wilful false statement in the premises shall be perjury and shall be punished as such.

Sec. 82. A new section is hereby added to said Act to be numbered one hundred thirty a, and to read as follows:

Section 130a. In addition to the information obtained from the report required by the provisions of section one hundred thirty of this Act, the superintendent of banks shall also have the power to require any bank to furnish a special report in writing verified as required by section one hundred thirty of this Act, whenever in his judgment such special report is necessary to inform him fully of the actual financial condition and affairs of such bank. Any wilful false statement in the premises shall be perjury and shall be punished as such.

Sec. 83. Section one hundred thirty-one of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 131. The superintendent of banks shall call for the reports specified by section one hundred thirty of this Act at least three times each year. The "past day designated by the superintendent" of banks under the provisions of section one hundred thirty of this Act shall be as nearly as possible the day designated by the comptroller of currency of the United States for reports of national banking associations.

SEC. 84. Section one hundred thirty-three of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 133. Whenever it shall appear from the report of any bank, or the superintendent of banks shall have reason to believe that the capital of any bank is impaired or reduced below the amount required by law, it shall be the duty of the superintendent of banks and he shall have the power to examine said bank and ascertain the facts, and in case he finds such impairment or reduction of capital, he shall require such bank to make good the deficiency so appearing within sixty days after the date of such requisition. The directors of every such bank, upon which such requisition shall have been made, shall levy an assessment upon the stock thereof to repair such deficiency, and shall cause notice of such requisition to be given to each stockholder of the bank and of the amount of the assessment which he must pay for the purpose of making good such deficiency, by a written or printed notice mailed to such stockholder at his last known address or served personally upon him. If any stockholder shall refuse or neglect to pay the assessment specified in such notice within thirty days from the date of mailing or serving such notice as aforesaid, the directors of such bank shall have the right to sell to the highest bidder at public auction the stock of such stockholder, after giving a previous notice of such sale for ten days in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the principal place of business of such bank is located, and a copy of such notice of sale shall also be served on the owner of such stock by being served personally on him or by mailing to his last known address ten days before the day fixed for such sale; or such stock may be sold at private sale and without such public notice; provided, however, that before making such private sale thereof an offer in writing shall first be obtained and a copy thereof served upon the owner of record of the stock sought to be sold, either personally or by mailing a copy of such offer to his last known address; and if, after service of such offer, such owner shall still refuse or neglect to pay such assessment within two weeks from the time of the service of such offer, the said directors may accept such offer and sell such stock to the person making such offer, or to any other person or persons making a larger offer than the amount named in the offer submitted to the stockholder; but such stock shall in no event be sold for a smaller sum than the valuation put on it by the superintendent of banks in his determination and requisition as to said assessment, nor for less than the amount of said assessment so called for and the expense of sale. Out of the avails of the stock so sold, the directors shall pay the amount of assessment levied thereon, and the necessary costs of sale, and the balance, if any, shall be paid to the person or persons whose stock has thus been sold. A sale of stock as herein provided shall effect an absolute cancellation of the outstanding certificate or certificates evidencing the stock so sold, and shall make the same null and void, and a new certificate shall be issued by the bank to the purchaser thereof.

SEC. 85. Section one hundred thirty-four of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 134. If it shall appear to the superintendent of banks that any bank has violated or failed to comply with the provisions of its articles of incorporation, or any law of this state, he may, by an order under his hand and official seal, which seal must be adopted by him, addressed to such bank, direct such bank to discontinue such violation and to comply with the law; or, if it shall appear to the superintendent of banks that such bank is conducting business in an unsafe or injurious manner, he may, in like manner direct the discontinuance of any such unsafe or injurious practices. Such order shall require such bank to show cause, before the superintendent of banks, at a time and place to be fixed by him, why said order should not be observed. If upon such hearing it shall appear to the superintendent of banks that such bank is conducting business in an unsafe or injurious manner, or is violating or failing to comply with the provisions of its articles of incorporation, or any law of this state, then the superintendent of banks shall make such order final, and such bank shall immediately comply with such order made by the superintendent of banks. Such bank shall have ten days after any such order is made final in which suit may be commenced to restrain enforcement of such order, and unless such action be so commenced and enforcement of said order be enjoined within ten days, by the court in which such suit is brought, then such bank shall comply with such order.

SEC. 86. Section one hundred thirty-five of said Act is hereby repealed and a new section is hereby added to said Act to be numbered 135 and to read as follows:

Section 135. Whenever the superintendent of banks shall deem it expedient he may call a meeting of the stockholders of any bank organized under the laws of this state, by a personal notice of such meeting for fifteen days previous thereto. All necessary expense incurred in the serving of such notice shall be borne by the bank whose stockholders are required to convene.

SEC. 87. A new section is hereby added to said Act, to be numbered one hundred thirty-five a and to read as follows:

Section 135a. If the capital of any bank shall be impaired, or if any bank shall refuse to submit its books, papers and concerns to the inspection of any examiner, or if any officer thereof shall refuse to be examined upon oath touching the concerns of such bank, or if such bank shall violate the provisions of its articles of incorporation, or any law of this state, or if such bank shall suspend payment of its obligations, or if such bank shall conduct its business in an unsafe or unauthorized manner, or if from any examination or report provided for by this Act the superintendent of banks shall conclude that such bank is in an unsound or unsafe condition to transact the business for which it is organized, or that it is unsafe and inexpedient for it to continue business, an action to procure a judgment dissolving such corporation may be maintained by the superintendent of banks.

SEC. 88. Section one hundred thirty-six of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 136. Whenever it shall appear to the superintendent of banks that any bank has violated the provisions of its articles of incorporation or any law of this state, or is conducting its business in an unsafe or unauthorized manner, or if the capital of any bank is impaired, or if any bank shall refuse to submit its books, papers and concerns to the inspection of any examiner, or if any officer thereof shall refuse to be examined upon oath touching the concerns of any such bank, or if any bank shall suspend payment of its obligations, or if from any examination or report provided for by this Act the superintendent of banks shall have reason to conclude that such bank is in an unsound or unsafe condition to transact the business for which it is organized, or that it is unsafe and inexpedient for it to continue business, or if any bank shall neglect or refuse to observe any order of the superintendent of banks specified in sections one hundred thirty-three or one hundred thirty-four of this Act, the superintendent of banks may forthwith take possession of the property and business of such bank and retain such possession until such bank shall resume business, or its affairs be finally liquidated as herein provided. On taking possession of the property and business of any such bank the superintendent of banks shall forthwith give notice of such fact to any and all banks, trust companies, associations and individuals, holding or in possession of any assets of such bank. No bank, trust company, association or individual knowing of such taking possession by the superintendent of banks, or notified as aforesaid, shall have a lien or charge for any payment, advance or clearance thereafter made, or liability thereafter incurred against any of the assets of the bank of whose property and business the superintendent of banks shall have taken possession as aforesaid. Such bank may, with the consent of the superintendent of banks, resume business upon such conditions as may be approved by him. Upon taking possession of the property and business of any such bank the superintendent of banks shall have authority to collect moneys due to such bank and do such other acts as are necessary to conserve its assets and business, and shall proceed to liquidate the affairs thereof as hereinafter provided. The superintendent of banks shall collect all debts due and claims belonging to it, and upon the order of the superior court may sell or compound any bad or doubtful debts. If a purchaser for any bad or doubtful debts cannot be obtained and it appears improbable that recovery thereon can be had and that the costs of actions to enforce collection of the same would probably be lost, the court may direct that suits thereon need not be brought. On like order he may sell any real or personal property of such bank on such terms as the court shall direct; and may, if necessary to pay the debts of such bank, enforce the constitutional individual liability of stockholders by action to be brought within three years after the date of his taking possession of the affairs of such bank. The superintendent of banks shall determine the necessity of such action and the amount necessary to recover from the stockholders to fully pay all liabilities of such bank. Such action may be in equity and against all stockholders upon whom service of process in the State of California can be had, and the court may therein determine and provide for any equities as between the stockholders including the proportions of each stockholder to any surplus of money or assets that may remain after the payment of all liabilities and the expenses of liquidation. The superintendent of banks may also maintain an action against any stockholder residing out of the state or upon whom service of process cannot be had within the state, in any court of the United States or of any state or country. Any judgment so obtained by the superintendent of banks against such or any of such stockholders which is of doubtful value may be compromised and compounded by the superintendent of banks on such terms and conditions as the superior court may direct or authorize. The superintendent of banks shall file a notice of pendency of action in the county recorder's office of the county where such action is brought. At any time prior to the trial of any such action, any creditor may serve upon the superintendent of banks and file with the court wherein such action is pending, notice that he elects to maintain an action against the stockholders or any of them, in his individual capacity and thereupon the amount sued for in such action shall be reduced accordingly and such creditor shall not be entitled to share in the proceeds resulting from such action brought by the superintendent of banks. For the purpose of executing and performing any of the powers and duties hereby conferred upon him, the superintendent of banks may, in the name of the delinquent bank or in his own name, prosecute and defend any and all suits and other legal proceedings and may, in the name of the delinquent bank or in his own name as trustee execute, acknowledge and deliver any and all deeds, assignments, releases and other instruments necessary and proper to effectuate any sale of real or personal property or sale or compromise or compound authorized by order of the court as herein provided; and any deed or other instrument, executed pursuant to the authority hereby given, shall be valid and effectual for all purposes, as though the same had been executed by the officers of the delinquent bank by authority of its board of directors. In case any of the real property so sold is located in a county other than the county in which the application to the court for leave to sell the same is made, the superintendent of banks shall cause a certified copy of the order authorizing or ratifying such sale to be filed in the office of the recorder of the county in which the said real property is located. The superintendent of banks may, under his hand and official seal, appoint one or more special deputy superintendents of banks, as agent or agents, with the powers specified in the certificate of appointment hereinafter mentioned, to assist him in the duty of liquidation and distribution, the certificate of appointment to be filed in the office of the superintendent of banks, and a certified copy in the office of the clerk of the county in which the principal office of such bank is located.

The superintendent of banks may from time to time, by a certificate of appointment under his hand and official seal, specifying the powers conferred, authorize a special deputy superintendent to perform such duties connected with such liquidation and distribution as the superintendent of banks may deem proper. Such certificate of appointment shall be filed in the office of the superintendent of banks and a certified copy in the office of the clerk of the county in which the principal office of such bank is located. The superintendent of banks may employ such counsel and procure such expert assistance and advice as may be necessary in the liquidation and distribution of the assets of such bank, and for that purpose may retain such of the officers or employees of such bank as he may deem necessary. The superintendent of banks shall require from a special deputy superintendent and from such assistants such security for the faithful discharge of their duties as he may deem proper. The superintendent of banks shall cause notice to be given by advertisement, in such newspapers as he may direct, weekly for three consecutive months, calling on all persons who may have claims against such bank to present the same to the superintendent of banks, and make legal proof thereof at a place and within a time, not earlier than the last day of publication, to be therein specified. The superintendent of banks shall mail a similar notice to all persons whose names appear as creditors upon the books of the bank. If the superintendent of banks doubts the justice and validity of any claim, he may reject the same, and serve notice of such rejection upon the claimant, either by mail or personally. An affidavit of the service of such notice, which shall be prima facie evidence thereof shall be filed with the superintendent of banks. Any action upon a claim so rejected must be brought within six months after such service. Claims presented after the expiration of the time fixed in the notice to creditors shall be entitled to share in the distribution only to the extent of the assets in the hands of the superintendent of banks equitably applicable thereto. Upon taking possession of the property and assets of any bank, the superintendent of banks shall make an inventory of the assets of such bank in duplicate, one to be filed in the office of the superintendent of banks, and one with the papers in said proceeding in the office of the clerk of the county in which the principal office of such bank is located; upon the expiration of the time fixed for the presentation of claims the superintendent of banks shall make in duplicate a full and complete list of the claims presented, including and specifying such claims as have been rejected by him, one to be filed in the office of the superintendent of banks, and one with the papers in said proceeding in the office of the clerk of the county in which the principal office of such bank is located. Thereafter he shall make and file in said offices as above provided at least fifteen days before each application to the court for leave to declare a dividend a supplemental list of the claims presented since the last preceding list was filed, including and specifying such claims as have been rejected by him, and in any event he shall make and file as above provided such a list at least once every six months after the filing of the original list, as long as he shall remain in possession of the property and business of any such bank. Such inventory and list of claims shall be open at all reasonable times to inspection. The compensation of the special deputy superintendents, counsel and other employees and assistants, and all expenses of supervision and liquidation, shall be fixed by the superintendent of banks and shall upon the certificate of the superintendent of banks be paid out of the funds of such bank in the hands of the superintendent of banks. All such expenses must be reported by the superintendent of banks to the superior court of the county where the principal place of business of such bank is located and settled by such court upon notice to such bank. The moneys collected by the superintendent of banks shall be from time to time deposited in one or more state banks of deposit, savings banks or trust companies, and, in case of the suspension or insolvency of the depository, such deposits shall be preferred before all other deposits. At any time after the expiration of the date fixed for the presentation of claims the superior court may by order authorize the superintendent of banks to declare out of the funds remaining in his hands after the payment of expenses one or more dividends, and after the expiration of one year from the first publication of notice to creditors he may declare a final dividend, such dividends to be paid to such persons, and in such amounts, and upon such notice, as may be directed by the superior court of the county in which the principal office of such bank is located. Objections to any claim not rejected by the superintendent of banks may be made by any party interested by filing a copy of such objections with the superintendent of banks, who shall present the same to the superior court at the time of the next application to declare a dividend. The court to which such application is made shall thereupon dispose of said objections or may order a reference for that purpose, and should the objections to any claim be sustained by the court or by the referee, such claim shall not be allowed by the superintendent of banks until the claimant shall have established his claim by the judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction. The court must make proper provision for unproved or unclaimed deposits.

Should any bank at the time the superintendent of banks takes possession of its property and business, have in its possession, as bailee for safekeeping and storage, any jewelry, plate, money, specie, bullion, stocks, bonds, securities, valuable papers or other valuable personal property or should it have rented any vaults, safes or safe deposit boxes or any portion thereof for the storage of property of any kind, the superintendent of banks may at any time thereafter cause to be mailed to the person claiming to be or appearing upon its books to be the owner of such property, or the person in whose name the safe, vault or box stands, a notice in writing in a securely closed, postpaid registered letter, directed to such person at his post office address as recorded upon its books, notifying such person to remove, within a period fixed by said notice and not less than sixty days from the date thereof, all such personal property and upon the date fixed by said notice, the contract, if any, between such person and bank for the storage of said property or for the use of the said safe, vault or box shall cease and determine, and the amount of the unearned rent or charges, if any, paid by such person shall become a debt of the bank to said person. If the property be not removed within the time fixed by the notice, the superintendent of banks may make such disposition of said property as the superior court, upon application thereto, shall direct. And the superintendent of banks may cause any safe, vault or box to be opened in his presence or in the presence of one of the special deputy superintendents of banks, and of a notary public not an officer or in the employ of the bank or of the superintendent of banks, and the contents thereof, if any, to be sealed up by such notary public in a package upon which such notary public shall distinctly mark the name and address of the person in whose name such safe, vault or box stands upon the books of the bank and shall attach thereto a list and description of the property therein; and the package so sealed and addressed, together with the list and description, may be kept by the superintendent of banks in one of the general safes or boxes of the bank until delivered to the person whose name it bears, or until otherwise disposed of as directed by the court. Whenever any such bank of whose property and business the superintendent of banks has taken possession as aforesaid, deems itself aggrieved thereby, it may, at any time within ten days after such taking possession, apply to the superior court in the county in which the principal office of such bank is located to enjoin further proceedings; and said court, after citing the superintendent of banks to show cause why further proceedings should not be enjoined, and hearing the allegations and proofs of the parties and determining the facts may, upon the merits, dismiss such application or enjoin the superintendent of banks from further proceedings, and direct him to surrender such business and property to such bank. An appeal as above provided shall operate as a stay of the judgment of the superior court, and no bond need be given if the appeal be taken by the superintendent of banks; but if the appeal be taken by such bank, a bond shall be given, as required by section nine hundred forty-three of the Code of Civil Procedure. Whenever the superintendent of banks shall have paid to each and every depositor and creditor of such bank whose claim or claims as such creditor or depositor shall have been duly proved and allowed, the full amount of such claims, and shall have made proper provision for unclaimed and unpaid deposits or dividends, and shall have paid all the expenses of the liquidation, the superintendent of banks shall call a meeting of the stockholders of such bank giving notice thereof for thirty days in one or more newspapers published in the county where the principal office of such bank is located. At such meeting the stockholders shall determine whether the superintendent of banks shall be continued as liquidator and shall wind up the affairs of such bank, or whether an agent or agents shall be elected for that purpose, and in so determining the said stockholders shall vote by ballot, in person or by proxy, each share of stock entitling the holder to one vote, and the majority of the stock shall be necessary to a determination. In case it is determined to continue the liquidation under the superintendent of banks, he shall complete the liquidation of the affairs of such bank, and after paying the expenses thereof, shall distribute the proceeds among the stockholders in proportion to the several holdings of stock in such manner and upon such notice as may be directed by the superior court. In case it is determined to appoint an agent or agents to liquidate, the stockholders shall thereupon select such agent or agents by ballot, a majority of the stock present and voting, in person or by proxy, being necessary to a choice. Such agent or agents shall execute and file with the superintendent of banks a bond to the people of the state in such amount, with such sureties and in such form as shall be approved by the superintendent of banks, conditioned for the faithful performance of all the duties of his or their trust, and thereupon the superintendent of banks shall transfer and deliver to such agent or agents all the undivided and uncollected or other assets of such bank then remaining in his hands; and upon such transfer and delivery, the said superintendent of banks shall be discharged from any and all further liability to such bank and its creditors. Such agent or agents shall convert the assets coming into his or their possession into cash, and shall account for and make distribution of the property of said bank as is herein provided in the case of distribution by the superintendent of banks, except that the expenses thereof shall be subject to the direction and control of a court of record of competent jurisdiction. In case of the death, removal or refusal to act of any such agent or agents, the stockholders, on the same notice, to be given by the superintendent of banks upon proof of such death, removal or refusal to act being filed with him, and by the same vote hereinbefore provided, may elect a successor, who shall have the same powers and be subject to the same liabilities and duties as the agent originally elected. Dividends and unclaimed deposits remaining unpaid in the hands of the superintendent of banks for six months after the order for final distribution shall be by him deposited with the state treasurer in the same manner and subject to the same disposition as provided for in section one thousand two hundred thirty-four of the Code of Civil Procedure. The superintendent of banks may pay over the moneys so held by him to the persons respectively entitled thereto upon being furnished satisfactory evidence of their right to the same. In cases of doubt or conflicting claims he may require an order of the superior court authorizing and directing the payment thereof.

Sec. 89. A new section is hereby added to said Act, to be numbered 136*a* and to read as follows:

Section 136*a*. Any bank which has ceased to do a banking business whether through voluntary action on its part or through expiration of its corporate existence, shall immediately liquidate its affairs and any unclaimed deposits or dividends shall be paid into the state treasury in the manner and for the purposes provided in section one hundred thirty-six of this Act within six months after the date such bank ceased to conduct a banking business, and in case the superintendent of banks shall have reason to conclude that the liquidation of such bank is not being safely or expeditiously conducted, he may take possession of the property of such bank and liquidate its affairs in the same manner as provided in section one hundred thirty-six of this Act. Whenever any bank of whose property the superintendent of banks has taken possession as aforesaid, deems itself aggrieved thereby, it may within the time and in like manner and effect as provided in section one hundred thirty-six of this Act apply to the superior court to enjoin further proceedings.

Sec. 90. A new section is hereby added to said Act to be numbered one hundred thirty-six b and to read as follows:

Section 136*b*. In any action or proceeding brought under any provision of this Act, exclusive original jurisdiction shall be vested in the superior court of the county in which is located the principal place of business of the bank affected thereby, and all proceedings relating to the same matter, under any provision of this Act, including proceedings for liquidation of the affairs of any such bank, shall be filed with and treated as a part of the record in such original proceedings, and all papers relating to any such action or proceeding, including the copy of certificate of appointment of any special deputy and the inventories required to be filed in the matter of any such liquidation, shall be filed with and made a part of the record of such original proceeding, without the payment of any additional fees therefor, and in any such action no damage may be awarded, but the action otherwise shall be tried and determined according to the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Sec. 91. Section one hundred thirty-seven of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 137. 1. Any bank shall have the right, on application of the stockholders or members to apply to the superior court of the county wherein its principal place of business is situated, to dissolve said bank in the manner provided for in title six, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure.

2. At the expiration of four months after the settlement of the final account of the receiver of any bank appointed prior to July 1, 1909, any dividends due depositors, or other creditors, or stockholders of such bank and remaining unpaid or uncalled for and in the hands of such receiver may be paid by him into the treasury of the county in which such bank is situated which money shall be held in the treasury of said county, and at the same time it shall be the duty of such receiver to furnish to the county treasurer of said county a list of names of all depositors or other persons to whom such money belongs or who are entitled thereto and thereupon such receiver shall be entitled to his discharge.

3. The moneys referred to in subdivision two of this section shall be paid out on the order of the court appointing such receiver.

4. All moneys paid under subdivision two of this section, uncalled for within five years after being paid in, shall by operation of law, and without action had, escheat to the state. All moneys held by any county treasurer under subdivision two of this section, when such moneys have escheated to the state as hereinbefore provided, shall be paid by the county treasurer into the state treasury, and thereafter only be drawn out in such manner as may be provided for by law for the estates of deceased persons escheated to this state.

5. The state board of control must invest such moneys in the same manner that the state school land fund is invested as provided by law. But any claimant shall be entitled to recover as herein provided only the principal so paid into the state treasury.

SEC. 92. Section one hundred thirty-eight of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 138. If any bank shall fail to make any report required by the provisions of section one hundred thirty or one hundred thirty a of this Act, within ten days from the day designated for the making thereof by the superintendent of banks, or to include therein any matter required by the provisions of either of said sections, it shall forfeit to the people of the state the sum of one hundred dollars for each day that any such report shall be so delayed or withheld by the failure or neglect of such bank. In the event of the failure of any such bank to make any such report required from it, the superintendent of banks may, in his discretion, immediately cause the books, papers and affairs of such bank to be examined at the expense of such bank.

SEC. 93. Section one hundred thirty-nine of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 139. It shall be the duty of the board of directors of every bank to examine fully into the books, papers and affairs of the bank of which they are directors, and particularly into the loans and discounts thereof, with a special view to ascertaining the value and security thereof, and of the collateral security, if any given, in connection therewith, and into such other matters as the superintendent of banks may require; such examination to be made at least once a year, but no such subsequent yearly examinations shall be made within three months of the next preceding examination. Such directors shall have power to employ such assistance in making such examinations as they may deem necessary. Within ten days after the completion of such examination, a report in writing thereof, sworn to by the directors making the same, shall be made by the board of directors of such bank, and placed on file with the records of said bank, and shall be subject to examination by the superintendent of banks. Such report shall particularly contain a statement of the assets and liabilities of the bank examined, as shown by its books, together with any deductions from the assets, or additions to liabilities, which such directors or committee, after such examination, may determine to make. It shall also contain a statement, in detail, of loans, if any, which in their opinion are worthless or doubtful, together with their reasons for so regarding them; also a statement of loans made on collateral security, which in their opinion are insufficiently secured, giving in each case the amount of the loan, the name and market value of the collateral, if it has any market value, and, if not, a statement of that fact, and its actual value as nearly as possible. Such report shall also contain a statement of overdrafts, of the names and amounts of such as they consider worthless or doubtful, and a full statement of such other matters as affect the solvency and soundness of the bank. If the directors of such bank shall fail to make such examination or fail to cause it to be made, or shall fail to file such report of such examination in the manner and within the time specified, the superintendent of banks shall have authority to make or cause to be made an extra examination of such bank at the expense of such bank.

SEC. 94. Section one hundred forty-five of said Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 145. The powers, privileges, duties and restrictions conferred and imposed upon any corporation or individual existing and doing business under the laws of this state are hereby abridged, enlarged or modified as each particular case may require to conform to the provisions of this Act, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in their respective articles of incorporation or charters. All the provisions of this Act shall apply with equal force and effect to all corporations which are now doing or which may hereafter do a banking business in this state, except where express exception or exemption may be made herein. WHEREAS, The dredger mining industry has been prosecuted in the county of Calaveras for over ten years last past, in the bed and on the banks of the Calaveras and Mokelumne rivers; and

WHEREAS, Such industry has constituted, and does now constitute one of the principal industries of Calaveras County, and has been and is a source of large revenue to this county; and

WHEREAS, It gives employment to a large number of laboring men, who support a large number of families, and the discontinuance of which would cause to them the loss of employment, and compel them to seek other means of employment and livelihood; and
